THE SENATE

2012 REGULAR SESSION

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Jay Kelchner, Shady Grove United Methodist Church, Mechanicsville, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

O God, maker of all good things, giver of place, promise and purpose, we acknowledge Your creative power. From the Cumberland Gap, Blue Ridge Mountains and Shenandoah Valley, through the Piedmont and Tidewater to the Eastern Shore, from Northern Virginia to the Southside, we gather in this place united and guided by a common cause. We offer ourselves in humility, sincerity and diligent purpose to be good stewards of that which You have entrusted to us.

We thank You for our evening rest, for the joy and promise of the morning and the opportunities that lie ahead. Inspire us now for the work of the people. Guide our thoughts and actions. Give to us the strength to endure and to share the best of ourselves responsibly, effectively and for the common good.

O God of new beginnings, for some this is a new journey. We stand in awe of the voices of yesteryear that still resonate within this chamber. As it was for them as they first stood here, there is much to learn and yet much to be offered. Help us to have the confidence in ourselves that others have lent to us for just a season. Grant us clarity of vision and voice.

O God of unifying Spirit, remind us that the work that is before us will necessitate cooperation as well as obligation and that our duty goes beyond our constituency. Help us in our responsibility to consider and protect the inherent rights of the people as we are amenable to them, yet again ultimately to You. Where we may not agree on the correct path toward an intended destination, help us to take the next best step. Give to us the resolve to maintain our integrity throughout this journey and to accomplish that which will lead this great Commonwealth forward.

Guard our families as we are apart from them and keep us all in Your care. Amen.

The Clerk stated that the disclosure forms of all Senators-elect had been filed with the Clerk.

22. To expedite the business of the Senate, it may order the convening of a "special morning session," at which session no vote shall be taken or other business transacted except the introduction of bills and resolutions. Upon the completion thereof, such session shall recess to such time as the Senate may have theretofore ordered. Such "special morning session" shall be convened by the presiding officer or President pro tempore unless otherwise designated. The "special morning session" shall be considered adjourned upon the convening of the daily session.

23 (a). Notwithstanding Rule 21 and Rule 22, any subject may, by a recorded vote of a majority of the members ~~elected~~ present and voting, be made a special and continuing order, to commence at a time to be fixed by the Senate, and when the time so fixed for its consideration arises, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

23 (b). When two or more special and continuing orders have been made for the same time, they shall have precedence according to the order in which they were severally assigned, and that order shall only be changed by majority ~~vote~~ of those present and voting. All motions to change such order shall be decided without debate.

24. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of the passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

25 (a). All bills, resolutions or other business originating in the Senate and all bills, resolutions or other business sent from the House of Delegates shall be dispatched in the order in which they are introduced or received, unless the Senate shall otherwise direct.

25 (b). Bills or resolutions of either house shall be divided on the Calendar between the designation "Uncontested Calendar" and "Regular Calendar," and be considered in such order. When such a division is made for bills or resolutions, the Uncontested Calendar shall not include any bills or resolutions (i) which receive a dissenting vote or abstention in Committee, or (ii) to which objection is made by any Senator on first reading. Any bills or resolutions shall be removed from the Uncontested Calendar at any time at the request of any Senator. Resolutions which do not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules shall not be placed on the Uncontested Calendar but may be divided separately.

25 (c). It shall be the duty of the Clerk to see that the printing and engrossing, when ordered, shall be done in such time that the bills and resolutions may be acted upon according to their priorities upon the Calendar. If, however, any bill or resolution is not ready when it is reached upon the Calendar, it shall be passed by, and be allowed to retain its place upon the Calendar.

25 (d). When the Calendar has been called through, it may be called again in order to dispose of any business that may be ready, and if there is none, the business of the "morning hour" shall be resumed and disposed of; but the business of the "morning hour" shall in no case be allowed to interfere with that of the Calendar without the unanimous consent of the members present.

26 (a). No law shall be enacted except by bill. Every bill, upon its introduction, shall be referred to the appropriate Committee. No bill shall become a law until the procedures required by Article IV, Section 117 of the Constitution of Virginia have been observed.

26 (b). No bill expressly amending any existing law shall be offered by any member unless or until the original and all copies thereof have been prepared so as to indicate deletions and additions. Each bill or resolution shall be signed by at least one Senator or by the Clerk of the Senate upon authorization of a member who has become incapacitated or who is unavailable to sign the legislation. Upon the approval of the Committee on Rules, electronic filing of bills and resolutions may be permitted. Any bill or resolution offered for introduction in the Senate may show two or more ~~senators~~ Senators as chief patrons and as "House Patrons" the signatures of members of the House of Delegates. The title of any bill having any provisions pertaining to taxation or revenues shall so indicate. The form for deletions and additions shall be to set forth the material deleted with lines through such material, e.g., ~~deleted material or words~~, and to underscore the words added, before they are received in the Senate. However, the stricken material and underscoring and italics in the printed bill, enrolled bills, and printed Acts shall not be considered evidence of all amendments to any bill or existing statute, but merely as an aid for quick reference to amended portions. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring the use of stricken material or underscoring when new words are substituted for existing words where the new words or the omission of words does not change the sense or meaning of the act.

26 (c). The title of a bill or resolution and all amendments offered thereto shall be entered upon the Journal, except the amendments in the nature of a substitute shall be printed separately, and only the titles thereof entered upon the Journal.

26 (d). Any Senate bill or resolution which has been amended during the legislative process by the Senate shall be engrossed and reproduced by the Clerk of the Senate, as soon as practicable, in sufficient numbers for the members of the Senate and House of Delegates.

26 (e). The designation of "Senate Bill" or "Senate Resolution" or "Senate Joint Resolution" shall not be changed nor amended after a bill or resolution is introduced in the Senate. Nor shall the designation of "House Bill" or "House Joint Resolution" be changed or amended after the bill or resolution is received by the Senate.

26 (f). Any member of the Senate or House of Delegates who requests in writing to the Clerk that he be added as a co-patron of any bill or resolution, provided that the first vote on the passage of the bill or agreement to the resolution has not occurred, or, if the bill or resolution is not reported from Committee, then prior to the last action on such legislation, shall be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such bill or resolution, and shall be so listed on such bill or resolution at its next printing, if any.

Any member of the Senate or House of Delegates may also request in writing to the Clerk that his name be removed as a co-patron of any bill or resolution provided that the first vote on the passage of the bill or agreement to the resolution has not occurred, or, if the bill or resolution is not reported from Committee, then prior to the last action on such legislation, and thereafter his name shall not be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such bill or resolution, nor shall his name be listed on such bill or resolution at its next printing, if any.

26 (g). Any memorial or commending resolutions shall conform to the form and procedure set forth by the Clerk of the Senate and shall not be referred to the Committee on Rules, but shall be placed upon the Calendar on the next Thursday of the session and shall be considered for approval on said day; however, any one member may object to such consideration and the same shall be continued to the next Thursday session or any member may move that the same be referred to the Committee on Rules. ~~No exception to this Rule 26 (g) shall be made, unless the Senator proposing such exception has first presented it at a meeting of the Committee on Rules and a majority of the members elected to such Committee has voted in favor of the exception.~~

No Senator may introduce more than a combined total of ten commending and memorial resolutions each session, except for the Chair of the Committee on Rules when introducing such resolutions according to custom or protocol.

27. Bills or resolutions originating in the House of Delegates and communicated to the Senate shall be read by title the first time when received and referred to the appropriate Committee unless otherwise directed by the Senate.

28 (a). No bill or resolution reported from a Committee of the Senate shall be recommitted or amended until it has been twice read by title, nor shall any Senate bill or resolution be amended after its third reading, except by the unanimous consent of the Senate. House bills or resolutions may be recommitted or amended at any time before their final passage, but a bill or resolution which has been recommitted to a Committee, when reported by Committee, shall be restored on the Calendar to the status it had before it was recommitted.

28 (b). In the case of a House bill or resolution, engrossment shall only apply to such amendments as may have been made in the Senate.

~~29 (a). Communications from the Executive shall lie on the table at least one day after being received by the Clerk of the Senate, unless otherwise ordered.~~

29 (b). Whenever a Senate bill or resolution is reported to the Senate with one or more House amendments, copies of all such amendments shall be furnished to each Senator. The same shall apply to amendments proposed by a Senate Committee or by a Senator, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

30. Every question shall be put in the affirmative and the presiding officer shall declare whether the yeas or the nays have it, which declaration shall stand as the judgment of the Senate. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the Journal. On the final vote of any bill, and on the vote in any election or impeachment conducted in the General Assembly or on the expulsion of a Senator, the name of each Senator voting, and how he voted shall be recorded in the Journal. After the roll has been taken, and before the vote is announced by the presiding officer, any Senator shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name and the presiding officer shall order the vote to be stricken.

31. Any Senator may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions so distinct in substance that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Senate.

32. Upon the determination of a question, any Senator may enter his protest upon the Journal, with the consent of one-third of the Senators present; and on the question "Shall the protest be entered on the Journal?", no privileged motion as set out in Rule 46 47 (a) or Rule 46 47 (b) shall be in order except to adjourn.

33. Whenever the Senate proceeds to consider any nominations or appointments after the same have been reported by the appropriate Committee, which are subject to the choice or ratification of the Senate, and when it is so ordered by the Senate pursuant to ~~Chapter 21 of Title 30~~ Chapter 37 of Title 2.2 of the Code of Virginia, the same shall be considered in executive session.

X.

The Pending and Previous Question.

34. Upon a motion for the pending question, agreed to by a majority of the Senators present, as indicated by a recorded vote, and there being no other motions afforded priority by these Rules, the presiding officer shall immediately put the pending question. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion for the pending question is made, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

35. Upon a motion for the previous question, agreed to by a majority of the Senators present, as indicated by a recorded vote, and there being no other motions afforded priority by these Rules, the presiding officer shall immediately put the question, first upon the amendments in the order prescribed in the Rules, and then upon the main question. If the previous question be not ordered, debate may continue as if the motion had not been made.

XI.

Taking the Vote.

36. Every Senator present in the Chamber, when any question is put or vote taken, shall vote or be counted as voting on one side or the other, except in the case of pairs, as hereinafter provided. A Senator who has a personal interest in the transaction, as defined in § 30-101 of the Code of Virginia, shall neither vote nor be counted upon it, and he shall withdraw, or invoke this rule not to be counted, prior to the division and the fact shall be recorded on the voting machine. If a Senator invokes this rule, the Senator shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in the matter wherein the rule is invoked. Pairs upon any question pending may be made and entered upon the Journal, and in such cases shall be announced immediately upon completion of the roll call, and before the announcement of its result. Pairs may be general or special. General pairs shall extend to and include all motions, amendments, or other proceedings in aid of or against the question pending, and which is the subject of the pairs. Special pairs shall depend in their scope upon the agreement between the Senators making the same, but in absence of a specific agreement, the presumption shall be conclusive that the pairs are general. The Senator announcing a pair shall be counted as present for the purposes of establishing a quorum. Pairs may be taken in Committee votes under this rule herein set forth.

37. The voting machine may be used for the call of the roll, for recording abstentions under Rule 36, or for the affirmative and the negative of the question.

38 (a). No Senator shall be allowed to vote or submit a vote statement unless he is in attendance at the daily session at the time the Senate is being divided, or before a determination of the question upon a call of the roll, and is physically present in the Chamber, or one of its anterooms. A Senator may submit a vote statement if he was not recorded as voting or if his recorded vote does not reflect his intention. The statement shall be limited to the fact that his vote was not recorded or that his vote did not reflect his intention and must be submitted to the Clerk of the Senate by the adjournment of the daily session.

38 (b). In cases where the presiding officer is also a member of the Senate at the time a recorded vote is being taken, the presiding officer shall request another Senator to cast his vote for him or shall cast his vote from the Chair.

XII.

Committees of Conference.

~~38 (e)~~39 (a). The Senate members of any committee of conference with the House of Delegates shall be designated by the Chair of the Committee to which the bill or resolution in conference was first referred by the Clerk of the Senate. If a Senate bill or resolution is in conference, the chief patron(s) of the same shall be a conferee and, where feasible, members of a Committee to which the bill or resolution was referred or rereferred shall comprise the conferees.

Any conference report must be agreed to by the majority of the members of each house on the conference committee before it may be filed with the Senate. If the report of the first named conference is rejected by the Senate or the conferees cannot agree, the Chair shall designate the same or new conferees in the event a second conference is formed.

Conferees shall not insert in their report matters not committed to them by either house, nor shall they strike from the bill or resolution in conference matters agreed to by both houses.

~~38 (d)~~39 (b). When a committee of conference is meeting it shall inform the Clerk of the place of meeting; and, when a vote be put, the presiding officer shall, before calling the vote, inform the Senate conferees of the pending vote and grant them a reasonable opportunity to return to the Chamber to vote.

~~39 (a)~~40 (a). While the presiding officer is reporting or putting any question, or the Clerk of the Senate is reporting a bill or resolution or calling the roll, or a Senator is addressing the Chair, strict order shall be observed. No Senator or other person shall give audible expression to his or her approval or disapproval of any proceeding before the Senate. The use of props is prohibited on the floor of the Senate.

~~39 (b)~~40 (b). The use of audible electronic devices used for transmitting and receiving communications is prohibited in Senate committee rooms and the Senate Chamber. The use of cellular telephones is prohibited in Senate committee rooms and the Senate Chamber. Violations of this rule shall be punishable as prescribed by the Committee on Rules.

4041. If words are spoken in debate that give offense, exception thereto shall be taken the same day, and be stated in writing; and in such case, if the words are decided by the presiding officer, or by the Senate, upon an appeal, to be offensive, and they are not explained or retracted by the Senator who uttered them, he shall be subject to such action as the Senate may deem necessary.

4142. When any member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat, and without advancing, with due respect, address "Mr. President," confining himself strictly to the point in debate, and avoiding all disrespectful language.

4243. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject without leave of the Senate, nor more than once, until every member choosing to speak has spoken.

4445. During any debate any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may rise and speak to the orders of the Senate if they are transgressed, in case the presiding officer does not so rise and speak, but if the presiding officer stands up at any time, he is first to be heard, and while he is standing Senators shall keep their seats.

4546. No Senator shall be allowed to be interrupted while speaking, except on points of order, to correct erroneous statements, or for a Senator to answer any questions that may be stated by the Senator speaking.

46 47 (a). The following motions shall not be debated or spoken to except as hereinafter provided:

- (i) A motion to adjourn.
- (ii) A motion calling for a vote on the pending question.
- (iii) A motion calling for a vote on the previous question.
- (iv) A motion to suspend the Rules.
- (v) A motion to close debate.
- (vi) A motion to limit debate.
- (vii) A motion to extend the limit of debate.
- (viii) A motion to reconsider matters not debatable.
- (ix) A motion to change, in case of two or more special and continuing orders.

46 47 (b). Upon the following motions, the mover shall be allowed five minutes to speak to his motion, to state the reasons therefor, and one member opposed to the motion shall be allowed a like time to speak to the motion, to state his objections:

- (i) A motion for a special and continuing order.
- (ii) A motion to appeal a ruling of the Chair.

46 47 (c). When a question not debatable is before the Senate, all incidental questions arising after it is stated shall be decided and settled without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise. This same Rule shall apply to all incidental questions arising after the presiding officer has put any question to the Senate.

46 47 (d). A motion to strike out, being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to insert, nor a motion to strike out and insert.

46 47 (e). When a question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to pass by for the day, for the pending question, for the previous question, or to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein set out.

46 47 (f). Except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of Rule 46-47 (e), a primary motion may be substituted once.

XIV.

Reconsideration.

47 48 (a). A question arising on a Senate Bill, Senate Resolution or Senate Joint Resolution being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the course of that session of the General Assembly be drawn again into debate, unless a motion to reconsider a question which has been decided has been made by a Senator voting with the prevailing side on the same day on which the vote was taken.

However, if such action has not been communicated to the House, a motion to reconsider may be made within the next two days of actual session of the Senate thereafter.

Unless unanimous consent of the members of the Senate present and voting on a motion for a second or subsequent reconsideration be granted, no measure being once determined may be reconsidered more than once by the Senate during that session of the General Assembly.

When any question is decided in the negative simply for the want of a majority of the whole Senate, any Senator who was absent from the city of Richmond or detained from his seat by sickness at the time of the vote sought to be reconsidered may move its reconsideration.

A Senator desiring such reconsideration shall confer with the ~~Chairman~~ Chair of the Committee on Rules, or in his absence the next listed available member of the Committee on Rules, who shall consult with the chief spokesman for and against the measure, if there is any, and thereafter such ~~Chairman~~ Chair or next listed member may direct the Clerk to defer or expedite the transmittal of the action of the Senate on the measure to the House of Delegates to permit the making of such motion for reconsideration; however, in no event shall such deferral of transmittal hereunder be for more than one legislative day.

This rule shall not preclude consideration of any House Bill, House Joint Resolution, or House amendment to a Senate Bill or a Senate Joint Resolution, regardless of whether such House measure involves a question already determined.

47 48 (b). If the Committee has possession of a bill or resolution, a motion to reconsider in Committee may be made no later than the next Committee meeting.

However, a motion to reconsider at a second or subsequent meeting may be made with unanimous consent if the Committee has possession of the bill or resolution.

XV.

Suspension of Rules.

~~4849.~~ Any rule of the Senate may only, except where otherwise provided by the Constitution of Virginia, be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the ~~Senators elected~~ Senators elected present and voting. These Rules may be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the ~~senators~~ Senators elected present and voting. If the Senate is meeting due to a state emergency or enemy attack pursuant to Article IV, Section 8 of the Constitution, then the Rules of the Senate may be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the quorum.

XVI.

Appeals.

~~4950.~~ If the presiding officer rules on any matter under these Rules by his own act, or upon request of any Senator, and if any Senator objects to the ruling of the presiding officer, then an appeal to the Senate shall lie, ~~and any motion to sustain the ruling of the presiding officer~~. The appeal shall be stated as a motion to sustain the ruling of the Chair. To overrule the ruling of the Chair shall require a majority of those present to prevail and voting. A ruling of the Chair shall not be overruled on appeal by a tie vote.

XVII.

Committee of the Whole.

~~5051.~~ The Senate may go into the Committee of the Whole only upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the members ~~elected~~ present and voting. When the Senate shall resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, the President shall leave the Chair and the President pro tempore shall preside in the Committee. If the President pro tempore is absent from the Senate, then the Senate shall elect a ~~chairman~~ chair to preside therein.

The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the Senate. The Rules of the Senate shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable. The proceedings in the Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the Senate, except so far as reported to the Senate by the ~~Chairman~~ Chair of the Committee.

XVIII.

Campaign Advocacy Contribution Limitations.

~~51(a)~~52. During any regular, special, or reconvened session of the General Assembly, no member of the Senate shall use his name or title or authorize another person to use the Senator's name or title, orally or in writing, to solicit monetary contributions if any part of the contributions would be used to pay for an advocacy campaign conducted through mass mailings, e-mails, telephone calls or other communication media to influence the outcome of legislative action by the General Assembly. This rule shall not apply during any recess of a special session ~~which lasts longer than three days~~. Nothing in this rule shall prohibit a Senator from using his name or title or authorizing another person to use the Senator's name or title in the letterhead or roster listing the membership of an organization.

XIX.

Senate Ethics and Senate Ethics Advisory Panel.

~~51(b)~~53 (a). The Senate Ethics Advisory Panel shall be composed of five members: three of whom shall be former members of the Senate; and two of whom shall be citizens of the Commonwealth who have not previously held such office. No member shall engage in activities requiring him to register as a lobbyist under § 2.2-422 of the Code of Virginia during his tenure on the Panel. The members shall be nominated by the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the Senate and confirmed by the Senate. Nominations shall be made so as to assure bipartisan representation on the Panel.

53 (b). Whenever the Clerk receives a report of the Senate Ethics Advisory Panel or a resolution seeking the reprimand, censure, or expulsion of a Senator, the report shall be referred forthwith to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The Committee shall consider the matter, conduct such hearings as it shall deem necessary, and, in all cases report its determination of the matter, together with its recommendations and reasons for its resolves, to the Senate. If the Committee deems disciplinary action warranted, it shall report a resolution offered by a member of the Committee to express such action. Any such resolution reported by the Committee shall be a privileged matter. The Senate as a whole shall then consider the resolution, and, by recorded vote, either defeat the resolution or take one or more of the following actions: (i) reprimand the Senator with a majority vote of the Senators present and voting; (ii) censure the Senator and place the Senator last in seniority with a majority vote of the elected membership of the Senate; (iii) expel the Senator with a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of the Senate; or (iv) refer the matter to the Attorney General for appropriate action with a majority vote of the Senators present and voting, in the event the Senate finds a knowing violation of § 30-108 or subsection C of § 30-110 of the Code of Virginia.

XX.

Court of Impeachment.

§254. When, pursuant to the Constitution, the Senate sits as a Court for the trial of impeachments, the Rules covering the same shall be as the Rules of Procedure and Practice in the United States Senate when sitting on Impeachment Trials.

XXI.

Votes Required.

§355. The votes required shall be as set forth in the Appendix to these Rules.

XXII.

Construction of Rules.

§456. The Rules of the Senate shall be adopted at the commencement of the first regular session of the General Assembly after the election of the Senate, and shall be in force for the succeeding four years unless amended or suspended as provided by these Rules. In the construction of the Rules, reference shall be had to the following sources in the following order:

- (a) Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice.
- (b) Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure.
- (c) Standing Rules for Conducting Business in the Senate of the United States.

1. The presiding officer of the Senate shall be the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth as the President of the Senate in accordance with Article V, Section 14, of the Constitution.

2 (a). There shall be elected by the Senate, on the first day of the session following the election of the Senate, a President pro tempore who shall serve for a term of four years and be a senior member in the Senate.

2 (b). In the event of the absence, disability or vacancy in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, the President pro tempore shall carry out the duties of the Lieutenant Governor as presiding officer. Further, the President pro tempore shall be the ~~Chairman~~ Chair of the Commission on Interstate Cooperation of the Senate.

2 (c). The President pro tempore shall have the right to name in open session, or if he is absent, in writing, a Senator to perform the duties of the presiding officer, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment of a daily session, except by unanimous consent of those present.

2 (d). In the event of a vacancy in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, or whenever the powers and duties of the Governor shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, the President pro tempore shall have the right to name, in writing, a Senator to perform the duties of the presiding officer during his absence; and the Senator so named shall have the right to name, in open session, or in writing, if he is absent, a Senator to perform the duties of the presiding officer, but such substitution shall not extend beyond adjournment of a daily session, except by unanimous consent of those present.

3. The presiding officer, after taking the Chair pursuant to these Rules, and a quorum being present, shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read. The reading of the Journal may be waived by a majority of those Senators present and voting. The reading of the Journal may be waived at a reconvened session of a special session by at least two members present and voting, only if there is no business to consider in accordance to Article IV, Section 6 of the Constitution of Virginia. Any errors in the entries shall be corrected, and the Journal being found correct, shall be signed by the presiding officer for that day and the Clerk of the Senate. The Journals, when so signed, shall be the official records of the proceedings of the Senate.

4. If any question is put upon a bill or resolution, the presiding officer shall state the same without argument.

II.

Membership, Attendance, and Adjournment.

5. A member of the Senate shall be a Senator elected to represent one of the 40 senatorial districts. A majority of Senators shall constitute a quorum to do business; two may adjourn, and nine may order a call of the Senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. However, not less than 16 may meet by proclamation of the Governor under the provisions of Article IV, Section 8, of the Constitution. At a special session or a reconvened session of a special session when there is no business to consider in accordance with Article IV, Section 6 of the Constitution of Virginia, two members may convene the Senate, dispense with the reading of the Journal, recess or adjourn the Senate.

6. No Senator shall absent himself from the service of the Senate without leave.

7. The Senate shall elect 11 Pages and five Pages shall be appointed by the following: one by the Lieutenant Governor; one by the President pro tempore; one by the ~~chairman~~ chair of the caucus of the majority party; one by the majority leader; and one by the minority leader. The Pages shall be no less than 13 and no more than 14 years of age at the time of election or appointment, shall be residents of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and shall be elected or appointed for a term of one year. No Page shall be eligible for reelection. Any such Page so elected or appointed may be suspended or dismissed for cause by the Clerk of the Senate.

IV.

The Clerk of the Senate.

8 (a). A Clerk of the Senate shall be elected by the Senate for a term of four years and shall thereafter continue in office until another is chosen. The oath of office shall be administered to the Clerk of the Senate by any person qualified by law to administer oaths. If a vacancy in the office of Clerk of the Senate occurs when the General Assembly is not in session, a successor shall be ~~selected~~ elected by the Committee on Rules to serve until the first day of the next session, at a meeting to be called by the ~~Chairman~~ Chair, or in his absence or inability to act, the next senior member of such Committee able and willing to do so. At least five days notice by certified mail of the time, place and purpose of the meeting shall be given all members of the Committee, and, at such meeting, the person receiving the votes of a majority of the members present and voting shall be elected to fill the vacancy.

8 (b). The Clerk of the Senate shall be the custodian of the public seal and design of armorial bearings of the Senate.

8 (c). The Clerk of the Senate shall be the custodian of all records and papers of the Senate and the Clerk shall not suffer any such records or papers to be taken from the Clerk's desk or out of the Clerk's custody by any person except the ~~Chairman~~ Chair or the clerk of a Committee, or any Senator on taking receipts for same. Amendments agreed to by the Senate shall be handled only by the Clerk of the Senate, or staff members designated by the Clerk.

8 (d). It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Senate to refer all bills and resolutions to the appropriate standing Committee or the Committee on Rules as provided in these Rules. If there is any objection as to the referral by the Clerk of the Senate of any bill or resolution to any standing committee or the Committee on Rules, the Committee on Rules shall hear the same, resolve the issue and report to the Senate.

8 (e). The Clerk of the Senate shall prepare a list of the Senators in order of seniority. Seniority shall be based upon longest continuous service in the Senate. However, if a Senator has previous interrupted service in the Senate, then the beginning date of such previous Senate service shall qualify the Senator for seniority before those Senators elected at the same time not having previous service in the Senate, and if a Senator has previous service in the House of Delegates then the beginning date of such House service shall qualify the Senator to seniority before those Senators elected to the Senate at the same time not having previous service in the House of Delegates. Senators elected at the same time without previous service in the Senate or House of Delegates shall have their seniority determined by a public drawing of lots, conducted by the Clerk of the Senate, to which all Senators involved shall be invited to attend. 8 (f). The Clerk of the Senate, after the election of Senators, shall assign chamber desks to the individual Senators with the Senators elected as members of the majority party in the Senate in the chamber area beginning at the north side of the chamber until all such desks have been assigned, and then the Senators elected as members of the minority party in the Senate, and then any Senator not elected as a member of the two major political parties. The Clerk of the Senate shall also assign office space in such buildings as may be made available for the use of the Senate. Whenever feasible, the Clerk of the Senate shall give due consideration in assigning chamber desks and office space to the seniority and request of a Senator. However, the chamber desk or office space of a Senator having immediate prior service in the Senate shall not be reassigned unless he shall so request the Clerk of the Senate.

Should any Senator, however, during his term of office, cease to be a member of the political party of which he was a member at the time of his election either by self-declaration as confirmed by a two-thirds majority of the members elected to the Senate, or through other conduct as confirmed by a two-thirds majority of the members elected to the Senate, or if a special election results in a change of political party membership, the Clerk of the Senate, upon such change in political party membership, is authorized to reassign chamber desks and office space accordingly.

8 (g). The area of the General Assembly Building assigned to the members of the Senate, their legislative support staff, the staff of the Senate, the facilities and space for those charged with the maintenance, repair, and security of such building, and such space designated for the news media shall not be utilized or occupied as office space by any other person or persons, except by vote of the Committee on Rules.

9. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk of the Senate, and shall be read the succeeding day, unless the reading thereof is waived as provided in these Rules; it shall be printed under the supervision of the Clerk of the Senate and delivered to the Senators without delay.

10 (a). The Clerk of the Senate shall appoint a chief deputy clerk and such staff as necessary to perform the work of the Senate. The Clerk may also appoint such number of messengers as may be required. The Clerk of the Senate shall also appoint such committee clerks as may be necessary after consultation with, and the approval of, the ~~Chairmen~~ Chairs of the several Committees. The Clerk of the Senate shall also appoint such additional committee staff as may be necessary after consultation with, and the approval of, the Committee on Rules. All committee clerks so appointed shall remain in the Capitol or other legislative facilities during the daily sessions of the Senate, and committee clerks shall be assigned for duties with various standing Committees by the Clerk of the Senate, after consultation ~~by the Clerk of the Senate and~~ with, and the approval of, the Chairman of each such Committee. Additional committee staff shall be assigned for duties with various standing Committees by the Clerk of the Senate, after consultation with, and the approval of, the Committee on Rules. Each clerk shall perform any other duties that the Clerk of the Senate shall require, when not employed by their respective standing Committees. Clerks may be removed by the Clerk of the Senate, after consultation with, and the approval of, the ~~Chairman~~ Chair of the Committee to which such clerk is assigned. 11 (b). The Clerk of the Senate shall keep at the Clerk's desk, during the sittings of the Senate, a calendar which shows the business of the Senate. The Clerk shall have printed and placed on the desk of each member, before the assembling of the Senate each day, a calendar of pending bills and resolutions. The Clerk shall prepare a list of all bills and resolutions offered on the preceding day, with the names of the patrons, titles of the bills or resolutions, and the Committees to which the same have been referred under these Rules.

12. It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Senate, without special order therefor, to communicate to the House of Delegates any action of the Senate upon business coming from the House of Delegates, or upon matters requiring the concurrence of that body, but no such communication shall be made in relation to any action of the Senate while it remains open for consideration.

13. The Clerk of the Senate shall, at the beginning of the term after the election of Senators, have printed and bound with the manual and rules, etc., the Constitution of Virginia and the Constitution of the United States for the use of the Senators. Supplements to said manual shall be issued as circumstances may require.

14 (a). Whenever the Clerk of the Senate is absent, the chief deputy clerk appointed pursuant to law and these Rules shall exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred and imposed upon the Clerk of the Senate by law and these Rules, by and with the consent of the Committee on Rules.

14 (b). In the discharge of all the duties assigned to the Clerk, and such other duties as the Clerk may from time to time undertake, the Clerk shall be subject to the direction of the Committee on Rules.

V.

VIII.

Composition and Procedures of Committees.

20 (a). The total membership of all Committees and the membership of each standing Committee shall be composed of members of the two major political parties in the Commonwealth in proportion to the number of Senators of each of such political parties, ~~as nearly as practicable~~, and as nearly as practicable with equal membership of resident Senators from the several congressional districts of the Commonwealth as the same exist on the date of election of the Senate. As nearly as practicable, no more than two resident Senators in the same congressional district shall serve on the same Committee. However, if none of the resident Senators of the same congressional district makes a request, in writing, for a particular Committee assignment, this requirement may be waived. No member shall be removed from the Committee to which he or she was elected, except by a two-thirds vote of the members elected or by forfeiture under these rules.

The standing Committees may also include any Senator not elected as a member of the two major political parties. All members of the Senate shall be elected to the standing Committees, where practicable. No member of the Senate shall serve on more than four, nor less than three, standing Committees. When the Committees are elected, the Senator first named shall be the Chair. However, a Senator shall serve as Chair of only one of the standing Committees. Next shall be listed the members, listed by seniority and by the date elected to the Committee.

Should any Senator, during his term of office, cease to be a member of the political party of which he was a member at the time of his election either by self-declaration as confirmed by a two-thirds majority of the members elected to the Senate, or through other conduct as confirmed by a two-thirds majority of the members elected to the Senate, he shall be deemed, thereby, to have forfeited all Committee memberships to which he may have been elected.

20 (b). Any vacancy in Committee membership during the four-year term of the Committee members shall be filled in the manner in which Committee members are elected in the first instance.

20 (c). The standing Committees shall meet at such time and place as shall be designated by the Committee on Rules, after consultation with the respective Committee Chair, and the fixed time and place of Committee meetings shall be published. All committees shall be governed by the Rules of the Senate.

20 (d). All Committee meetings shall be held in public.

However, executive sessions may be held pursuant to applicable provisions of law upon a recorded vote. Except as provided herein, a recorded vote of members upon each measure shall be taken and the name and number of those voting for, against or abstaining reported with the bill or resolution and ordered printed on the Calendar. A recorded vote shall not be necessary to report a resolution, if that resolution does not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules. A Senator who has a personal interest in the transaction, as defined in § 30-101 of the Code of Virginia, shall neither vote nor be counted upon it, and he shall withdraw, or invoke this Rule not to be counted, prior to the taking of any vote upon it, by stating the same before the Committee, and the fact shall be recorded by the Committee Clerk and reported along with the votes of the Committee members on the bill or resolution. If a Senator invokes this rule, the Senator shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in the matter wherein the rule is invoked. Pairs may be taken in Committee voting as provided in Rule 36.

20 (e). The majority of any Committee shall constitute a quorum. Any Senator attending and recorded as present at a Committee meeting who must depart prior to the rising of the Committee, may designate, in writing on committee proxy forms, one member of the Committee to vote his proxy for the duration of his absence, but for no longer than the meeting of the Committee at which the proxy is given. Proxies are not transferable. The Chair shall be informed in open session of the proxy authority prior to the departure of the Senator so leaving.

20 (f). Any bill or resolution introduced in an even-numbered year, and not reported to the Senate by a Committee may, upon the majority vote of the elected membership of the Committee to which it has been referred, be continued on the agenda of the Committee for hearings and Committee action during the interim between sessions or for future action by the Committee during the following odd-numbered year regular sessions. A bill or resolution may be continued only one year from an even-numbered year session and not otherwise. The Committee shall report, prior to the adjournment sine die of the Senate, such bills or resolutions as shall be continued and the Clerk of the Senate shall enter upon the Journal the fact that such bill or resolution has been continued.

The Senate, upon consideration of any bill or resolution on the Calendar, may recommit, in accordance with these Rules, the bill or resolution to the Committee reporting the same, and direct the Committee to continue the bill or resolution until the following odd-numbered year regular session, and hold such hearings or render such further consideration of the bill or resolution as the Committee may deem proper.

The Chair of the Committee, or the majority of the elected membership of a Committee, may call meetings of the Committee during the interim between sessions to study, call hearings, and consider any bill or resolution continued for further action at the odd-numbered year session, or to consider such other matters as may be germane to the duties of the Committee.

The provisions of this Rule relating to legislative continuity between sessions shall be subject to the provisions of Article IV, Section 7; of the Constitution of Virginia.

20 (g). Each Committee shall have a clerk appointed by the Clerk of the Senate, after consultation with the Chair of the Committee. The Clerk of the Senate shall be the clerk to the Committee on Rules.

20 (h). The Chair of any Committee may appoint subcommittees to consider a particular bill or resolution or to consider matters relative to a portion of the work of the Committee. Such subcommittees shall consist of four members, two Democrats and two Republicans, and shall make recommendations to the Committee. The Chair of the full Committee shall be an ex officio member of all subcommittees ~~and~~, but shall not be entitled to vote, ~~but shall not be~~ nor be counted as a member for purposes of a quorum. All subcommittees shall be governed by the Rules of the Senate.

20 (i). Any Committee of the Senate may, at its discretion, confer with any Committee of the House of Delegates having under consideration the same subject and arrange joint meetings, hearings or studies, as the Committees deem appropriate.

20 (j). A Committee, after considering a bill or resolution referred to it may:

A. Rerefer the same to another Committee, in the same form received, to consider applicable portions of such bill or resolution as are germane to another Committee under the Rules, or may

B. Report it to the Senate

(i) without amendment,

(ii) with recommendation that a Committee amendment(s) be adopted, or

(iii) with recommendation that it be rereferred to another Committee (either with or without amendment), in which latter event the Clerk of the Senate shall so rerefer unless the Senate shall otherwise direct.

A recorded vote of members shall be taken upon any motion listed in A and B above and the name and number of those voting for, against or abstaining reported with the bill or resolution and ordered printed on the Calendar. The report recorded by the Committee Clerk shall be the recorded vote on the motion and cannot be changed unless the vote is reconsidered and voted upon again. A recorded vote shall not be necessary to report or rerefer a resolution, if that resolution does not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules.

20 (k). Any bill, except the budget bill sent down by the Governor, whose principal objective is taxation or which establishes a special fund or any type of nonreverting fund, whether or not such bill may also require an appropriation, tax, special or general revenue, shall first be referred to the Standing Committee which has jurisdiction of the subject matter of the bill as defined in rules 18 (a) through 18 (j) of the Rules of the Senate. If said bill is reported by the Committee of original jurisdiction then said bill shall be rereferred by the Committee to the Finance Committee.

20 (l). A Committee may refer the subject matter of a bill or resolution to any agency, board, commission, council, or other governmental or nongovernmental entity for comment, but the bill or resolution shall remain with the Committee. The Chair of the Committee shall direct the Clerk of the Senate to prepare the appropriate letter and the action of the Committee shall be made available to the public.

20 (m). Committees of the Senate are authorized to seek and obtain, in the period of time between sessions of the General Assembly, the services of citizens of the Commonwealth whose function will be to participate with such Committees or Subcommittees thereof in reviewing legislation or in performing any referred study or study initiated by the Committee or its Chair.

Persons appointed to serve shall receive reimbursement for their actual and reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of services for the Committees. For this purpose and for such other expenses as may be occasioned by the conduct of any Committee study, payments shall be made from the general appropriation to the Senate.

Persons who are asked by a Committee Chair to appear before a Committee or subcommittee to offer expert testimony may receive reimbursement for their actual and reasonable expenses if approved in advance by the Chair, in consultation with the Clerk.

~~20 (n). Whenever a bill is introduced that contains matters that would be appropriate for an executive reorganization plan as provided for in Chapter 1, Article 2 of Title 2.2 of the Code of Virginia or which proposes that the Commonwealth provide new services or abolish any existing service, it shall have the word "Organization" stamped upon its covers.~~

IX.

Order of Business.

21. At the appointed hour, the presiding officer of the Senate shall take the chair and call the Senate to order, and the order of business thereafter shall be as follows:

- (a) A period of devotions.
- (b) A roll call of members present.
- (c) The reading of the Journal.
- (d) A period to be called the "morning hour," for the following purposes:
 - i. to dispose of communications from the House of Delegates, the Executive, and the Judiciary.
 - ii. to receive reports from the Committees, for which purpose they shall be called by the Clerk unless the Senate shall direct otherwise.
 - iii. to recognize and welcome visitors to the Senate.
 - iv. to receive resolutions and bills, but such resolutions and bills may be received at the Clerk's desk at any time after the "morning hour," with leave of the Senate.
- (e) Consideration of unfinished business. (Unfinished business is legislation before the Senate as a result of or pending action by the House of Delegates.)
- (f) Consideration of the Calendar of the Senate for that day, for which purpose the Calendar shall be called by the Clerk of the Senate.
- (g) Upon completion of the Calendar and then Senators expressing Point(s) of Personal Privilege and such other business as may come before the Senate, a recess or adjournment shall then be taken.

22. To expedite the business of the Senate, it may order the convening of a "special morning session," at which session no vote shall be taken or other business transacted except the introduction of bills and resolutions. Upon the completion thereof, such session shall recess to such time as the Senate may have theretofore ordered. Such "special morning session" shall be convened by the presiding officer or President pro tempore unless otherwise designated. The "special morning session" shall be considered adjourned upon the convening of the daily session.

23 (a). Notwithstanding Rule 21 and Rule 22, any subject may, by a recorded vote of a majority of the members elected, be made a special and continuing order, to commence at a time to be fixed by the Senate, and when the time so fixed for its consideration arises, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

23 (b). When two or more special and continuing orders have been made for the same time, they shall have precedence according to the order in which they were severally assigned, and that order shall only be changed by majority vote of those present. All motions to change such order shall be decided without debate.

24. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of the passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

25 (a). All bills, resolutions or other business originating in the Senate and all bills, resolutions or other business sent from the House of Delegates shall be dispatched in the order in which they are introduced or received, unless the Senate shall otherwise direct.

25 (b). Bills or resolutions of either house shall be divided on the Calendar between the designation "Uncontested Calendar" and "Regular Calendar," and be considered in such order. When such a division is made for bills or resolutions, the Uncontested Calendar shall not include any bills or resolutions (i) which receive a dissenting vote or abstention in Committee, or (ii) to which objection is made by any Senator on first reading. Any bills or resolutions shall be removed from the Uncontested Calendar at any time at the request of any Senator. Resolutions which do not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules shall not be placed on the Uncontested Calendar but may be divided separately.

25 (c). It shall be the duty of the Clerk to see that the printing and engrossing, when ordered, shall be done in such time that the bills and resolutions may be acted upon according to their priorities upon the Calendar. If, however, any bill or resolution is not ready when it is reached upon the Calendar, it shall be passed by, and be allowed to retain its place upon the Calendar.

25 (d). When the Calendar has been called through, it may be called again in order to dispose of any business that may be ready, and if there is none, the business of the "morning hour" shall be resumed and disposed of; but the business of the "morning hour" shall in no case be allowed to interfere with that of the Calendar without the unanimous consent of the members present.

26 (a). No law shall be enacted except by bill. Every bill, upon its introduction, shall be referred to the appropriate Committee. No bill shall become a law until the procedures required by Article IV, Section 11⁷ of the Constitution of Virginia have been observed.

26 (b). No bill expressly amending any existing law shall be offered by any member unless or until the original and all copies thereof have been prepared so as to indicate deletions and additions. Each bill or resolution shall be signed by at least one Senator or by the Clerk of the Senate upon authorization of a member who has become incapacitated. Any bill or resolution offered for introduction in the Senate may show two senators as chief patrons and as "House Patrons" the signatures of members of the House of Delegates. The title of any bill having any provisions pertaining to taxation or revenues shall so indicate. The form for deletions and additions shall be to set forth the material deleted with lines through such material, e.g., ~~deleted material or words~~, and to underscore the words added, before they are received in the Senate. However, the stricken material and underscoring and italics in the printed bill, enrolled bills, and printed Acts shall not be considered evidence of all amendments to any bill or existing statute, but merely as an aid for quick reference to amended portions. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring the use of stricken material or underscoring when new words are substituted for existing words where the new words or the omission of words does not change the sense or meaning of the act.

26 (c). The title of a bill or resolution and all amendments offered thereto shall be entered upon the Journal, except the amendments in the nature of a substitute shall be printed separately, and only the titles thereof entered upon the Journal.

26 (d). Any Senate bill or resolution which has been amended during the legislative process by the Senate shall be engrossed and reproduced by the Clerk of the Senate, as soon as practicable, in sufficient numbers for the members of the Senate and House of Delegates.

26 (e). The designation of "Senate Bill" or "Senate Resolution" or "Senate Joint Resolution" shall not be changed nor amended after a bill or resolution is introduced in the Senate. Nor shall the designation of "House Bill" or "House Joint Resolution" be changed or amended after the bill or resolution is received by the Senate.

26 (f). Any member of the Senate or House of Delegates who requests in writing to the Clerk that he be added as a co-patron of any bill or resolution, provided that the first vote on the passage of the bill or agreement to the resolution has not occurred, or, if the bill or resolution is not reported from Committee, then prior to the last action on such legislation, shall be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such bill or resolution, and shall be so listed on such bill or resolution at its next printing, if any.

Any member of the Senate or House of Delegates may also request in writing to the Clerk that his name be removed as a co-patron of any bill or resolution provided that the first vote on the passage of the bill or agreement to the resolution has not occurred, or, if the bill or resolution is not reported from Committee, then prior to the last action on such legislation, and thereafter his name shall not be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such bill or resolution, nor shall his name be listed on such bill or resolution at its next printing, if any.

26 (g). Any memorial or commending resolutions shall conform to the form and procedure set forth by the Clerk of the Senate and shall not be referred to the Committee on Rules, but shall be placed upon the Calendar on the next Thursday of the session and shall be considered for approval on said day; however, any one member may object to such consideration and the same shall be continued to the next Thursday session or any member may move that the same be referred to the Committee on Rules. ~~No exception to this Rule 26 (g) shall be made, unless the Senator proposing such exception has first presented it at a meeting of the Committee on Rules and a majority of the members elected to such Committee has voted in favor of the exception.~~

27. Bills or resolutions originating in the House of Delegates and communicated to the Senate shall be read by title the first time when received and referred to the appropriate Committee unless otherwise directed by the Senate.

28 (a). No bill or resolution reported from a Committee of the Senate shall be recommitted or amended until it has been twice read by title, nor shall any Senate bill or resolution be amended after its third reading, except by the unanimous consent of the Senate. House bills or resolutions may be recommitted or amended at any time before their final passage, but a bill or resolution which has been recommitted to a Committee, when reported by Committee, shall be restored on the Calendar to the status it had before it was recommitted.

28 (b). In the case of a House bill or resolution, engrossment shall only apply to such amendments as may have been made in the Senate.

29 (a). Communications from the Executive shall lie on the table at least one day after being received by the Clerk of the Senate, unless otherwise ordered.

29 (b). Whenever a Senate bill or resolution is reported to the Senate with one or more House amendments, copies of all such amendments shall be furnished to each Senator. The same shall apply to amendments proposed by a Senate Committee or by a Senator, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

30. Every question shall be put in the affirmative and the presiding officer shall declare whether the yeas or the nays have it, which declaration shall stand as the judgment of the Senate. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the Journal. On the final vote of any bill, and on the vote in any election or impeachment conducted in the General Assembly or on the expulsion of a Senator, the name of each Senator voting, and how he voted shall be recorded in the Journal. After the roll has been taken, and before the vote is announced by the presiding officer, any Senator shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name and the presiding officer shall order the vote to be stricken.

31. Any Senator may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions so distinct in substance that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Senate.

32. Upon the determination of a question, any Senator may enter his protest upon the Journal, with the consent of one-third of the Senators present; and on the question "Shall the protest be entered on the Journal?", no privileged motion as set out in Rule 46 (a) or Rule 46 (b) shall be in order except to adjourn.

33. Whenever the Senate proceeds to consider any nominations or appointments after the same have been reported by the appropriate Committee, which are subject to the choice or ratification of the Senate, and when it is so ordered by the Senate pursuant to Chapter ~~24~~ 37 of Title ~~30~~ 2.2 of the Code of Virginia, the same shall be considered in executive session.

X.

The Pending and Previous Question.

34. Upon a motion for the pending question, agreed to by a majority of the Senators present, as indicated by a recorded vote, and there being no other motions afforded priority by these Rules, the presiding officer shall immediately put the pending question. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion for the pending question is made, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

35. Upon a motion for the previous question, agreed to by a majority of the Senators present, as indicated by a recorded vote, and there being no other motions afforded priority by these Rules, the presiding officer shall immediately put the question, first upon the amendments in the order prescribed in the Rules, and then upon the main question. If the previous question be not ordered, debate may continue as if the motion had not been made.

XI.

Taking the Vote.

36. Every Senator present in the Chamber, when any question is put or vote taken, shall vote or be counted as voting on one side or the other, except in the case of pairs, as hereinafter provided. A Senator who has a personal interest in the transaction, as defined in § 30-101 of the Code of Virginia, shall neither vote nor be counted upon it, and he shall withdraw, or invoke this rule not to be counted, prior to the division and the fact shall be recorded on the voting machine. If a Senator invokes this rule, the Senator shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in the matter wherein the rule is invoked. Pairs upon any question pending may be made and entered upon the Journal, and in such cases shall be announced immediately upon completion of the roll call, and before the announcement of its result. Pairs may be general or special. General pairs shall extend to and include all motions, amendments, or other proceedings in aid of or against the question pending, and which is the subject of the pairs. Special pairs shall depend in their scope upon the agreement between the Senators making the same, but in absence of a specific agreement, the presumption shall be conclusive that the pairs are general. The Senator announcing a pair shall be counted as present for the purposes of establishing a quorum. Pairs may be taken in Committee votes under this rule herein set forth.

37. The voting machine may be used for the call of the roll, for recording abstentions under Rule 36, or for the affirmative and the negative of the question.

38 (a). No Senator shall be allowed to vote or submit a vote statement unless he is in attendance at the daily session at the time the Senate is being divided, or before a determination of the question upon a call of the roll, and is physically present in the Chamber, or one of its anterooms. A Senator may submit a vote statement if he was not recorded as voting or if his recorded vote does not reflect his intention. The statement shall be limited to the fact that his vote was not recorded or that his vote did not reflect his intention and must be submitted to the Clerk of the Senate by the adjournment of the daily session.

38 (b). In cases where the presiding officer is also a member of the Senate at the time a recorded vote is being taken, the presiding officer shall request another Senator to cast his vote for him or shall cast his vote from the Chair.

XII.

Committees of Conference.

38 (c). The Senate members of any committee of conference with the House of Delegates shall be designated by the Chair of the Committee to which the bill or resolution in conference was first referred by the Clerk of the Senate. All conference committees shall be composed of an equal number of Democrats and Republicans. If a Senate bill or resolution is in conference, the chief patron(s) of the same shall be a conferee and, where feasible, members of a Committee to which the bill or resolution was referred or rereferred shall comprise the conferees.

Any conference report must be agreed to by the majority of the members of each house on the conference committee before it may be filed with the Senate. If the report of the first named conference is rejected by the Senate or the conferees cannot agree, the Chair shall designate the same or new conferees in the event a second conference is formed.

Conferees shall not insert in their report matters not committed to them by either house, nor shall they strike from the bill or resolution in conference matters agreed to by both houses.

38 (d). When a committee of conference is meeting it shall inform the Clerk of the place of meeting; and, when a vote be put, the presiding officer shall, before calling the vote, inform the Senate conferees of the pending vote and grant them a reasonable opportunity to return to the Chamber to vote.

39 (a). While the presiding officer is reporting or putting any question, or the Clerk of the Senate is reporting a bill or resolution or calling the roll, or a Senator is addressing the Chair, strict order shall be observed. No Senator or other person shall give audible expression to his or her approval or disapproval of any proceeding before the Senate.

39 (b). The use of audible electronic devices used for transmitting and receiving communications is prohibited in Senate committee rooms and the Senate Chamber. The use of cellular telephones is prohibited in Senate committee rooms and the Senate Chamber. Violations of this rule shall be punishable as prescribed by the Committee on Rules.

40. If words are spoken in debate that give offense, exception thereto shall be taken the same day, and be stated in writing; and in such case, if the words are decided by the presiding officer, or by the Senate, upon an appeal, to be offensive, and they are not explained or retracted by the Senator who uttered them, he shall be subject to such action as the Senate may deem necessary.

41. When any member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat, and without advancing, with due respect, address "Mr. President," confining himself strictly to the point in debate, and avoiding all disrespectful language.

42. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject without leave of the Senate, nor more than once, until every member choosing to speak has spoken.

43. No question shall be debated until it has been stated by the presiding officer, and the mover shall have the right to explain his views in preference to any Senator.

44. During any debate any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may rise and speak to the orders of the Senate if they are transgressed, in case the presiding officer does not so rise and speak, but if the presiding officer stands up at any time, he is first to be heard, and while he is standing Senators shall keep their seats.

45. No Senator shall be allowed to be interrupted while speaking, except on points of order, to correct erroneous statements, or for a Senator to answer any questions that may be stated by the Senator speaking.

46 (a). The following motions shall not be debated or spoken to except as hereinafter provided:

(i) A motion to adjourn.

(ii) A motion calling for a vote on the pending question.

(iii) A motion calling for a vote on the previous question.

(iv) A motion to suspend the Rules.

(v) A motion to close debate.

(vi) A motion to limit debate.

(vii) A motion to extend the limit of debate.

(viii) A motion to reconsider matters not debatable.

(ix) A motion to change, in case of two or more special and continuing orders.

46 (b). Upon the following motions, the mover shall be allowed five minutes to speak to his motion, to state the reasons therefor, and one member opposed to the motion shall be allowed a like time to speak to the motion, to state his objections:

(i) A motion for a special and continuing order.

(ii) A motion to appeal a ruling of the Chair.

46 (c). When a question not debatable is before the Senate, all incidental questions arising after it is stated shall be decided and settled without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise. This same Rule shall apply to all incidental questions arising after the presiding officer has put any question to the Senate.

46 (d). A motion to strike out, being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to insert, nor a motion to strike out and insert.

46 (e). When a question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to pass by for the day, for the pending question, for the previous question, or to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein set out.

46 (f). Except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of Rule 46 (e), a primary motion may be substituted once.

XIV.

Reconsideration.

47 (a). A question arising on a Senate Bill, Senate Resolution or Senate Joint Resolution being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the course of that session of the General Assembly be drawn again into debate, unless a motion to reconsider a question which has been decided has been made by a Senator voting with the prevailing side on the same day on which the vote was taken.

However, if such action has not been communicated to the House, a motion to reconsider may be made within the next two days of actual session of the Senate thereafter.

Unless unanimous consent of the members of the Senate present and voting on a motion for a second or subsequent reconsideration be granted, no measure being once determined may be reconsidered more than once by the Senate during that session of the General Assembly.

When any question is decided in the negative simply for the want of a majority of the whole Senate, any Senator who was absent from the city of Richmond or detained from his seat by sickness at the time of the vote sought to be reconsidered may move its reconsideration.

A Senator desiring such reconsideration shall confer with the ~~Chairman~~ Chair of the Committee on Rules, or in his absence the next listed available member of the Committee on Rules, who shall consult with the chief spokesman for and against the measure, if there is any, and thereafter such ~~Chairman~~ Chair or next listed member may direct the Clerk to defer or expedite the transmittal of the action of the Senate on the measure to the House of Delegates to permit the making of such motion for reconsideration; however, in no event shall such deferral of transmittal hereunder be for more than one legislative day.

This rule shall not preclude consideration of any House Bill, House Joint Resolution, or House amendment to a Senate Bill or a Senate Joint Resolution, regardless of whether such House measure involves a question already determined.

47 (b). If the committee has possession of a bill or resolution, a motion to reconsider in committee may be made no later than the next committee meeting.

However, a motion to reconsider at a second or subsequent meeting may be made with unanimous consent if the committee has possession of the bill or resolution.

XV.

Suspension of Rules.

48. Any rule of the Senate may only, except where otherwise provided by the Constitution of Virginia, be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the ~~senators~~ Senators elected. These Rules may be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the ~~senators~~ Senators elected. If the Senate is meeting with less than two-thirds of the members elected due to a state emergency or enemy attack pursuant to Article IV, Section 8 of the Constitution, then the Rules of the Senate may be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the quorum.

XVI.

Appeals.

49. If the presiding officer rules on any matter under these Rules by his own act, or upon request of any Senator, and if any Senator objects to the ruling of the presiding officer, then an appeal to the Senate shall lie, and any motion to sustain the ruling of the presiding officer shall require a majority of those present to prevail.

XVII.

Committee of the Whole.

50. The Senate may go into the Committee of the Whole only upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected. When the Senate shall resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, the President shall leave the Chair and the President pro tempore shall preside in the Committee. If the President pro tempore is absent from the Senate, then the Senate shall elect a ~~chairman~~ chair to preside therein.

The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the Senate. The Rules of the Senate shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable. The proceedings in the Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the Senate, except so far as reported to the Senate by the ~~Chairman~~ Chair of the Committee.

XVIII.

Campaign Advocacy Contribution Limitations.

51 (a). During any regular, special, or reconvened session of the General Assembly, no member of the Senate shall use his name or title or authorize another person to use the Senator's name or title, orally or in writing, to solicit monetary contributions if any part of the contributions would be used to pay for an advocacy campaign conducted through mass mailings, e-mails, telephone calls or other communication media to influence the outcome of legislative action by the General Assembly. This rule shall not apply during any recess of a special session which lasts longer than three days. Nothing in this rule shall prohibit a Senator from using his name or title or authorizing another person to use the Senator's name or title in the letterhead or roster listing the membership of an organization.

XIX.

Senate Ethics Advisory Panel.

51 (b). The Senate Ethics Advisory Panel shall be composed of five members: three of whom shall be former members of the Senate; and two of whom shall be citizens of the Commonwealth who have not previously held such office. The members shall be nominated by the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the Senate and confirmed by the Senate. Nominations shall be made so as to assure bipartisan representation on the Panel.

XX.

Court of Impeachment.

52. When, pursuant to the Constitution, the Senate sits as a Court for the trial of impeachments, the Rules covering the same shall be as the Rules of Procedure and Practice in the United States Senate when sitting on Impeachment Trials.

XXI.

Votes Required.

53. The votes required shall be as set forth in the Appendix to these Rules.

XXII.

Construction of Rules.

54. The Rules of the Senate shall be adopted at the commencement of the first regular session of the General Assembly after the election of the Senate, and shall be in force for the succeeding four years unless amended or suspended as provided by these Rules. In the construction of the Rules, reference shall be had to the following sources in the following order:

- (a) Jefferson’s Manual of Parliamentary Practice.
- (b) Mason’s Manual of Legislative Procedure.
- (c) Standing Rules for Conducting Business in the Senate of the United States.

Gracious and Eternal Master, we come and say thank You for the gift of life; the gift and privilege of this day. We come understanding the responsibilities and duties of this moment; the seriousness of this act and the sentiment in which we have been called in service.

We are grateful for the opportunity to serve; to serve our respective constituents. To serve the people of the state and to do good for the larger portion of this country.

We might ask God that You would grant us the wisdom to do what is right, to do what is just, and to do what is fair for those who have called us to serve.

That even in the midst of discussion and debate, we might move with a level of integrity; we might move in the spirit and character that has been instilled in all of us; that we might come out with a positive result that benefits this great state.

So be with us all, and we thank You, thank You again for the gift and the opportunity and privilege to be in this position, and we ask that we use it for the benefit and ultimately for Your glory.

It is in the name of all that is good, in the name of all that is wise and is beautiful, and is full of love in this world.

The Senate met at 10:00 a.m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Terre Balof, Unitarian Universalist Community Church of Glen Allen, Glen Allen, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Loving God, Who is known by many names and whose guiding hand is present within all faiths. We are grateful for Your presence among us. We ask that Your wisdom guide the work, the bi-partisan cooperation and the decision-making that take place within these walls. May the women and men elected to the General Assembly and who serve in the Senate, remember with humility the sacred trust bestowed upon them and keep as their highest priority the welfare of all the people of our great Commonwealth.

Aware of the difficulties and stresses within our society, and honoring the rich diversity among our people, may these public servants find a path of Unity so they may achieve the highest good for our Commonwealth. May these our elected officials seek to build bridges among groups, support an attitude of civility in dialogue and accomplish the work needed to protect the welfare of all so that together we can move toward a prosperous future.

We give thanks for the dedication and vision of all elected officials who seek to promote the welfare of all our Commonwealth's residents. We pray that the words and actions of our officials lead us toward unity and harmony rather than discord and acrimony.

We give thanks today for the legacy of those who have given their lives to build this Commonwealth from the mountains in the west to the Atlantic shore. On this weekend of remembrance, we acknowledge, our past which was shaped in large part by Native Peoples, immigrants to this land, and enslaved peoples. Let us honor those whose lives and gifts built this nation and whose souls are deeply entwined in the legacy of Virginia. With humility we set our eyes on the future remembering the sacrifices of many who will forever be unnamed and unrecognized, but who are held in the Sacred heart of this land. We give thanks for those who generation after generation have built this great Commonwealth through work as humble as caring for these chambers and plowing the earth, work as creative as discoveries in science and artistic expression, work as nurturing as caring for the sick and for our future generation. Building on our heritage created by many peoples, may our officials be mindful of the sacrifices for and love of our great Commonwealth which is held in the hearts of all Virginia's people.

This we ask in the name of all that is Holy. Amen.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Dr. Lawrence R. Chottiner, Salisbury Presbyterian Church, Midlothian, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, You have plans for us, and power to make them happen. As surely as You are present in these moments and as surely as we can trust that You hear our words and watch our actions, be with these women and men, elected to serve this Commonwealth with energy, with imagination and with faithfulness. Grant to them the gifts of wisdom and respect, of courage and care, so that they may fulfill their responsibilities to those they serve and so to bring glory to Your name.

All things are new in Your grace, Lord God, and old things pass away. Break our hold on familiar things that You discard, and give us forward-looking courage to reach toward wiser ways. Lead us beyond ourselves to transformed and joyful lives. And so may Your blessing be here today and may Your presence be seen and felt in all that is done and in all that is decided.

Hear this, the prayer that is offered to You, as well as the silent prayers of our hearts and minds. Amen.

Clerk of the Senate

MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Ron Hill, Cliffview Church of God, Galax, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Lord, today we echo the request of the disciples when they said, "Lord, teach us to pray."
Your response to that request stands as the model prayer of the ages:
After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name.
Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil:
For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever.
We are content to pray that prayer over this body and all the people they represent.

Bless the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Bless those that mourn: for they shall be comforted.
Bless the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.
Bless those which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.
Bless the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
Bless the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
Bless the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
Bless those which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
We pray these blessings in the Name of the One who taught us these Truths. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

Dr. Drew Landry, Spotswood Baptist Church, Fredericksburg, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Father, thank You for the privilege and power of prayer. I thank You for the men and women who serve in the Senate of Virginia. God, I pray You bless these Senators, Governor Bob McDonnell and the other elected officials of the Commonwealth of Virginia. God, would You encourage their families as these men and women make great sacrifices to serve our state.

Today, in the words of the Apostle Paul, I ask that You “guard their hearts and minds,” give them strength for this office. I pray that You give these Senators the courage to make right decisions; decisions not based on relationships, politics or the pressure of public opinion, but decisions based upon Truth. I pray You give them a passion to serve with humility as they fulfill their responsibilities, first and foremost to You, God. May You give them wisdom to reason clearly and love to communicate with compassion. May they never lose hope as they walk through the challenges of leadership in the 21st Century.

I join with the Psalmist David asking that You, “hear our prayer.”

In Jesus Name, Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Gerry Creedon, Holy Family Catholic Church, Dale City, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, source and origin of all good gifts, send Your Spirit on the citizens and representatives of the Commonwealth of Virginia. While our faith traditions uphold the rights of individuals and the rights of property as an extension of human freedom, we also hold an ancient belief that “private property has a social dimension which is based on the law of the common destination of earthly goods.” (Vatican Council, Gaudium et Spes)

As we discern our allocation of resources and taxes in our state, may we be guided by a deep sense of social responsibility, so that the burdens and the benefits of our stewardship may reflect care for the vulnerable and the voiceless. May we recognize the right of all to the basic conditions necessary for human dignity, regardless of class or other distinction. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Barker, Black, Blevins, Carrico, Colgan, Deeds, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Herring, Howell, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, Marsh, Martin, McDougle, McEachin, McWaters, Miller, J.C., Miller, Y.B., Newman, Norment, Northam, Obenshain, Petersen, Puckett, Puller, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Smith, Stanley, Stosch, Stuart, Vogel, Wagner, Watkins.

The Reverend Dr. Reginald F. Davis, First Baptist Church, Williamsburg, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

God of Abraham, God of Isaac, God of Jacob, and our Rock of Ages,

We gather here today to ask Your spirit of wisdom, knowledge, and understanding for these elected officials who have been given the opportunity to carry out their civic duty for the Commonwealth of Virginia.

We pray that through them, justice will roll down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream. We pray that through them the Commonwealth will come closer to the realization of the Kingdom of God. We pray when there is disagreement, let them not lose their unity; when there is strife, let them not lose their purpose; and when there is confusion, let them not lose their peace.

Work in and through them so they will be good examples of what elected officials should be like for the rest of the nation. Go with them and stand by them.

We ask this prayer in Jesus name, Amen.

Mr. Campbell addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

Thank you Mr. Speaker.

Governor McDonnell, Lt. Governor Bolling, members of the Senate and House of Delegates, Mayor Haulman, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen.

I am delighted and honored to welcome you to Colonial Williamsburg and the House of Burgesses in the Virginia Capitol of 1705.

For many years, a solitary stone tablet sat alone just outside, marking the site of America's earliest efforts at representative government.

It is still out there—and it would have remained alone, an object of occasional interest or curiosity, had not something extraordinary happened.

In the 1920s, an inspired and determined clergyman—W.A.R. Goodwin—collaborated with one of America's great industrial and financial leaders—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.—to restore Williamsburg back to its former glory as a stronghold of revolutionary fervor and nation-building.

You are surrounded today by the legacy of their efforts, The Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, created in Mr. Rockefeller's words "... so that the future may learn from the past."

The Foundation has a long history of its own, more than 85 years, though our goals endure unaltered: To preserve the vestiges of 18th century Williamsburg, while engaging in an effort to interpret this city's remarkable past to the advantage of our nation's challenging future.

We strongly believe that anyone who understands what occurred here in the 18th century will better grasp our founding national principles—the formative choices that were discussed, debated—often on this very spot—and enshrined in the U.S. Constitution.

Our purpose here at Colonial Williamsburg is to explain and illuminate the historical conditions that put constitutional rights and citizenship in the center of American political thinking.

We are also about encouraging Americans to be better citizens—an effort that embraces the ideas best expressed by George Mason in the Virginia Declaration of Rights, that "no free government, or the blessings of liberty, can be preserved to any people, but by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality, and virtue, and by frequent recurrence to fundamental principles."

These concepts—these fundamental principles—were hammered out in Revolutionary Williamsburg and it set off a chain reaction, running far beyond the 13 colonies.

It demonstrated for the world that a free people, unencumbered by tyranny, could establish a system of self-government that would secure the land, foster prosperity and liberate individual promise.

You are the living embodiment of our democratic institutional continuity.

From the chambers you occupy in Richmond, the line extends deep into the past—indeed, not only to colonial America, but to the Houses of Parliament and the Magna Carta.

The aspirations of Virginia's people rest upon your shoulders.

Our freedoms and the protection of our rights depend upon your judgments.

You know better than anyone, though, that governing is a human business, subject to all human impulses—good or less good.

The sesquicentennial of the Civil War reminds us all how difficult democracy can be.

It has always been a struggle; it will always be a struggle.

I believe history does more than illuminate. It strengthens us. It makes us less alone in that struggle.

And we are absolutely resolved here at Colonial Williamsburg to make the most of history. To put it to use.

On the evening of January 11, 1989, President Ronald Reagan made his last speech from the Oval Office. He reflected back on his eight years as president. He talked about what had gone well and what he thought needed to be improved.

In the latter category, he said this:

We've got to do a better job of getting across that America is freedom—freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of enterprise. And freedom is special and rare. It's fragile; it needs [protection].

So, we've got to teach history based not on what's in fashion but what's important...if we forget what we did, we won't know who we are.

President Reagan then went onto say:

I'm warning of an eradication of the American memory that could result, ultimately, in an erosion of the American spirit. Let's start with some basics: more attention to American history and a greater emphasis on civic ritual.

President Reagan, who had visited Colonial Williamsburg on several occasions, understood what we are trying to do here.

He knew we have the tools to get the job done—to inform, to teach, to delight and to inspire people far and wide with the legacy and promise of America.

So welcome. Your presence here today represents the living continuity of Virginia's grand experiment in representative democracy—the grandest experiment in political freedom the world has ever known.

The President of the Joint Assembly thanked Mr. Campbell for addressing the Joint Assembly.

The President of the Joint Assembly requested His Excellency, Robert F. McDonnell, Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, to address the Joint Assembly.

The Governor addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

Thanks for your inspiring remarks. Those were really terrific to give us a sense of this marvelous place that has stood as a monument to human freedom now for these several centuries.

Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Attorney General, Justices of the Supreme Court that I know are here, Cabinet Secretaries, Mayor Haulman here at Williamsburg, several of the trustees of the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, Dr. Reveley, President of the College of William and Mary, families of the distinguished elected officials and my friends in the General Assembly, good afternoon. It is nice to be back. I will not make it a habit of speaking to you every two weeks, but I appreciate the invitation to be back. I will say you look much different than your fellow travelers in the House of Burgesses did 200 years ago. The hats and the ties are much different than they were back then.

I want to say that the First Lady and I are delighted to be able to be here today. One of the great highlights, I think, of being in elected offices is this tradition that we have done now for some 80 years, when every four we come down here and walk in the footsteps of some of the great people in American democracy, those that have served in the General Assembly of Virginia since its founding nearly 400 years ago. I was honored to be sworn in here as Attorney General of Virginia with Governor Tim Kaine, for the first time since 1778 when then Governor Thomas Jefferson and Attorney General Edwin Randolph also took that oath of office here in Williamsburg. Other than the 25-degree drop in temperature and the rainstorm, Senator Norment, that you arranged, it was a delightful day, I might say, for all of us.

America was born just down the road from here on the banks of the James River. And the things that were done at Jamestown and in Williamsburg before moving to Richmond helped to create these marvelous concepts and ideas of human freedom and liberty and self-government that have not only changed America, but, in fact, have created those ideas that were exported around the world, and even in these last 20 years we have seen those ideas that were born on these shores create new opportunities and new experiments in freedom and democracy for other nations.

The convening of this first democratically elected body in 1619 in Jamestown, before it moved to this site, truly is something to celebrate and commemorate, and I applaud the General Assembly for these past 80 years of making this a pilgrimage back to our roots here in Williamsburg every four years. We are, as Colin pointed out, truly heirs to a glorious tradition here in Virginia. Throughout the various wars and mistakes that have been made on this soil and sometimes the errors in policies, nonetheless, the things that Virginians have done and that you all have done these last years, and even this Session, are part of a marvelous tradition of people coming together of different faith traditions, of different races, of different ethnic origins, all rallying around those marvelous traditions of Virginia and American democracy. We believe in what that American flag stands for, the red, the white, the blue. We remember the red as the blood of patriots and the blue as that intense sense of loyalty to our foundational principles. It is something that's united us as Virginians and even as Americans now to truly create the greatest experiment in human freedom that the world has ever known, the United States of America. It's something that we Virginians, I think, played an instrumental role in and one that we continue to be proud of and continue to try to enshrine in every aspect of human life.

This is a place where Jefferson, and Henry, and Madison, and Mason, and others gathered. We truly do walk in the footsteps, literally, of the giants of American democracy here today. So, Mr. Speaker, I salute you and the others, Lieutenant Governor, for continuing this marvelous tradition and returning to these shores. It is no accident that we are called the "cradle of democracy," the "birthplace of Presidents," and the many other accolades that have been ascribed to Virginia. As I have had a chance to visit with other governors and visit other states and people, they remark at our creditable business-friendly climate, our great place to raise a child, and the many other accolades that have been bestowed on the Commonwealth of Virginia because of the good work that you all do as citizen legislators for the people of Virginia. Having done it for 14 years, I know that it is not easy. There are many demands and you all do it incredibly well, sacrificing time with family, financial reward, to do what is best to honor these traditions that were planted here some 235 years ago, and for that, I salute you.

I would conclude by saying that our presence here in this reconstructed House of Burgesses is a reminder, I think, of the great obligation that we each have to the citizens for whom we have been elected to represent, but also to one another. And that is that we continue to try to embrace these great concepts of liberty, but also of civility, to make sure that we are, first and foremost, focused on getting things accomplished for our citizens, and as an elected official that we have this duty to carry on and uphold these enduring foundational ideals and the legacy that those great Virginians enshrined right here on this spot over two centuries ago.

So with that said, I have the distinct pleasure of introducing your primary speaker for this Joint Assembly, Mr. Speaker, and that is Dr. James “Bud” Robertson. Dr. Robertson is one of the most distinguished names in American Civil War history, transcending more than half a century. Dr. Robertson has brought the American Civil War experience and all of its facets to life for thousands of students in his very popular classes at Virginia Tech, but also has done that for millions of others with his numerous award-winning books, television appearances, radio essays, and his outreach in public service to the citizens of the United States. As I mentioned, he is currently an Alumni Distinguished Professor in History at Virginia Tech. He is the recipient of virtually every major award that one can receive in the Civil War field and is a charter member, by Senate appointment, of Virginia’s Civil War Sesquicentennial Commission. Today, his Civil War Era course at Virginia Tech, which attracts over 300 students per semester, is the largest of its kind in the nation. Dr. Robertson is a prolific writer, being the author of more than 20 books on the American Civil War, including the definitive biography of Thomas J. “Stonewall” Jackson. It has become an important source for many other works of art, including the film, “Gods and Generals” by a Virginia filmmaker, filmed principally here in Virginia.

On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the American Civil War, President John F. Kennedy asked Dr. Robertson to serve as the Executive Director of the United States Civil War Commission at the ripe old age of 30. Now, on this, the 150th anniversary of that war, he was called upon again by you, to serve as a member of the Executive Committee of the Virginia Sesquicentennial of the American Civil War Commission that many of you serve on as well.

He was the founding Executive Director of the Virginia Center for Civil War Studies, which, from its beginning in 1999, sought to educate the public, particularly young people, about the causes and the consequences of one of the nation’s most momentous conflicts and its legacy and all of its facets today.

Dr. Robertson received his bachelor’s degree from Randolph-Macon College. He holds a Ph.D. from Emory University and honorary doctorates from both Randolph-Macon and Shenandoah University.

So, Mr. Speaker, I cannot think of a more appropriate speaker, as we continue to discuss the history and the legacy of the American Civil War, than to bring Dr. Robertson here today. Ladies and gentleman of the General Assembly, it is now my privilege to present to you our keynote speaker, Dr. James “Bud” Robertson.

Dr. Robertson addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

Governor and Mrs. McDonnell, Lieutenant Governor Bolling, Honorable Members of the General Assembly, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen:

How insignificant a poor boy from Danville feels at this time, at this place, and before this assemblage. It is an honor I could never, and shall never, forget. I may be a bit pointed today, but I’m a college professor with tenure. In addition, I am retired, so freedom of speech reigns supreme.

On this occasion it is customary to discuss the founding and early years of the Old Dominion, and that is important. Virginia is today because of what Virginia was in the beginning. By 1600 the ocean barriers of the Old World had ceased to be barriers and had become the early portals of discovery. And it was in April of 1607 that 143 adventurers landed 30 miles up an imposing river they named for the reigning sovereign, King James. A tumultuous settlement began. The culmination of efforts came on June 30, 1619, when the first democratic representative assembly in the New World convened for a six-day meeting at the Jamestown Church. Three weeks later, a ship sailed up the James and discharged a cargo of 20 slaves from Africa. One might say that hope and despair simultaneously infected the little colony. Now it is interesting to note of that 1619 assemblage, that it occurred one year before the passengers on the Mayflower even saw land. And that's all I'm going to say about Massachusetts' claim to being first.

Virginia is the mother state. We can't help it; we brag about it. We are a little better than everybody else but that's the way God made us and we revel in it. But you must remember that the nation's sons were Virginians and they became the principal architects of history. I once taught at the University of Montana and I remember the Montana law school historian once asked me, "Could you lend us a couple of your heroes because we in Montana don't have these great people on whom we can look?" But look at us—George Washington was truly the Father of his Country. Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence. James Madison compiled most of the United States Constitution. John Marshall was the greatest of the Supreme Court justices. Eight of our first 11 presidents were from the Old Dominion. We dominated the country's first 70 years. And how tragic it was that when the nation began to collapse, Virginia literally and figuratively was caught right in the very middle.

The 1850s are not studied very often; I think they should be. Because you see what happens in the 1850s. You see what happens when Americans lose the one thing that holds them together, a spirit of compromise. That's the only thing that holds democracy together and politicians so often get this idea that you can beat up on democracy, dent it and kick it and abuse it and it will fall back into shape. It will not. It's the most untenable form of government we have. It has to be handled very carefully. In the 1850s the politicians became so politicized, so polarized, so unwilling to compromise that the nation fell apart. And for a professional historian it is easy to teach it, if you just say, "Watch. I bet you that he will not agree with him." He doesn't and so what we have is debate that turns into argument that turns into shouting and it is not far from shouting to shooting.

Well, it all began in South Carolina, of course, and when South Carolina seceded, one of its native sons became incensed. His name was James L. Pettigrew. He was a federal judge and he mightily resented what was taking place and he looked at South Carolina and growled, "It will never work. South Carolina is too small to be a nation, too large to be an insane asylum." That opinion is somewhat in vogue still in certain areas of the country.

Now, to fast forward, I'm not here to give you a Civil War lecture. It was Abraham Lincoln's call for troops to subdue the southern third of the nation that was the last straw for Virginia. I've edited and once wrote an article on the Virginia State Secession Convention. The proceedings are published in three thick volumes. If you are ever an insomniac, start reading Volume I; you won't go 50 pages and you'll be comatose. Everybody is talking but nobody is saying anything. But in all seriousness, what you find in the proceedings is not so much talk about slavery but a political word then called "coercion." There was a carryover of the old state rights days. By coercion Virginians meant, as strange as this may sound, that Federal troops could not cross Virginia soil without Virginia's permission. Now that may seem wild to you today, but the big mistake the average student in history makes is looking at the past through the lenses of the present. In 1860, the Federal government touched each of our lives directly one way. They delivered our mail. That's the only contact we had with what was going on in Washington. Eight out of ten Americans did not even know we had a flag. We certainly had no national anthem. We haven't got one now that is singable. But when Lincoln ordered 75,000 volunteers to gather in Washington with the intent of marching across Virginia to subdue the southern states, Virginians interpreted this as an overt action of war. Invasion by foreign power. In mid-April 1861, the Old Dominion cut its ties with the nation it had done so much to create. Virginia was a huge industrial and agricultural jewel that the Confederate states had to have for any chance of success. Its departure from the Union, along with North Carolina, Tennessee, and Arkansas, doubled the size of the southern nation. And what followed was a war of increasing savagery and enormous destruction. Virginia was the pivotal point for the entire struggle. American history has known few events more momentous than the secession of the Old Dominion, which turned a mere suppression of a small rebellion into a four-year cataclysm that shook America to the deepest depths of its being.

The Civil War was a four-year killing time that would consume more American soldiers than have died in all of our other wars combined. It had to be that way. Each side, you see, was fighting for an absolute. The North for union; the South for independence. No middle ground existing. One side had to conquer; the other side had to be conquered. Some observers, not historians, dismissed Virginia as merely the headland of the Confederacy. Virginia had the natural resources, the manpower, the foodstuffs, as no other southern state did. But it was not the headland of the Confederacy; it was the heartland—literally—the head and the heart of the Southern attempt at independence. And the body cannot function without either. Hence, to lose Virginia was to lose the Civil War for the South. The Old Dominion with such strong ties both to union and to secession became the principal battleground. For four years, three of every five battles occurred within the borders of our state. Tens of thousands of soldiers fought and suffered and died from one end of this state to the other. Travel Virginia highways today and see the vast sites of bloodshed. They are everywhere: Manassas, Winchester, Cross Keys, Port Republic, Seven Pines, Gaines Mill, Fredericksburg, the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Sailor's Creek, Appomattox. And by the time the slaughter ended, 700,000 men, an entire generation of Americans, lay dead. If today, the same war were to explode, if four years from now the casualties were the same in proportion to population now as they were then, this nation would lose six million men dead. Try to think of America with six million of its young people wiped out. Half of those who survived were crippled in one way or the other, everything from emphysema to missing a limb.

In addition, as I like to tell my students, we just didn't lose those men. That's just the tip of the loss. We lost the statesmanship they might have created. The great works of art and literature and music they might have composed. The great advances in sciences they might have given. In addition, we lost the children they never had and their children, and all their children and children's children might have achieved. In short, there is no way to measure the loss of the Civil War in any framework of American history, in particular, in Virginia, certainly and specifically. By 1865, Virginia was a wasteland. Countless homes, churches, and businesses had been destroyed. Fields ruined, farms put to the torch, crops confiscated, livestock murdered, streams contaminated, bridges wrecked, railroads dismantled beyond repair. The state's urban areas were in shambles. One overnight fire consumed 800 homes and businesses in downtown Richmond. All of Fredericksburg and much of Lexington lay in ashes. Petersburg was pockmarked from nine months of incessant bombardment. Norfolk was an abandoned ghost town. Manassas, Wytheville, Winchester and scores of smaller towns lay shattered from attacks. Warrenton, Culpeper, Lynchburg, and a dozen other communities had a general air of neglect and filth.

Meanwhile, the western third of the state had left to seek its own destiny in the Union. They're still hunting for it, I guess. There's a bit of rivalry between West Virginia University and Virginia Tech. At Tech, we like to say that the seven-course meal in West Virginia is road kill and a six pack. They have some nice things to say about us too. But even worse, despite that material destruction, 15,000 Virginians were dead and three times that number were permanently maimed. There was hardly a family in the Commonwealth that did not feel pain from vacant chairs around the dining table. Land had always been the source of Virginia's wealth, yet land worth $150 an acre in 1860 could, in 1865, be bought for $2 an acre. Further, 360,000 emancipated slaves in the state looked for someplace to go and something to do when they got there. Chaos swept through a once orderly society. Over everything was the withering spiritual shock of defeat. All that seemed left were broken dreams and graveyards.

From that holocaust, Virginia rose anew. War taught us the blessing of peace. Destruction inspired reconstruction. A new day became a new age. Memories of duty faithfully performed helped the restoration. One of England's most distinguished soldiers visited Virginia in the late 1890s and he wrote this: "Virginia's brows are bound with glory and her spotless name is high among the nations. Surely Virginia must rest content, knowing that so long as men turn to the records of history, will their deeds live, giving to all times one of the noblest examples of unyielding courage and devotion the world has ever seen.”

That brings us to the sesquicentennial, the 150th anniversary of the great war that made us whole. The struggle between North and South bides deep in the American soul and, in particular, in Virginia’s soul. As long as there is a United States, the Civil War is not going away because the United States exists because of that war. What happened in the 1860s is not some closed chapter in our dusty past. It is a high watermark of our national history. It is the starting point for the America you know today. It is the starting point from which we measure the dimensions of just about everything that has happened to us since. Union victory in 1865 was decisive, but it was not complete. The winners usually write the history. However, in the postwar South, the losers proudly wrote their story of the war through historical markers, statues, customs, events, and mementoes. Some groups today are attempting to remove those symbols from the landscape; others interpret such actions as attacks on their heritage. How would the soldiers of the blue and gray react to such divisions of spirit? It is difficult to know, of course. Yet, Johnny Rebs never apologized for what they had done and Billy Yanks never asked them to do so.

In a small cemetery at Appomattox, 18 soldier graves stand in a single file. Seventeen of them contain Johnny Rebs. The grave at the end is that of a Billy Yank and they sleep side by side, and it is fitting that they do, for what they collectively gave us we have today and so often take for granted. The truth in Civil War history is not an account of heroes on one side and villains on the other, few stories are so uncomplicated. Moreover, to continue to argue over the past is a dead-end street. The past is the past. We may not like it, but we can’t change it. We learn from it. That is the value of history. It’s the greatest teacher you, ladies and gentlemen, will ever have. Political leaders need a knowledge of history so that they do not make the same mistakes again. Political leaders need a sense of history if they wish to be remembered. Thinking only of today will ensure that you will be forgotten tomorrow. Connecting the present with the future is the key to successful government, and history is the key to the success for the future.

But we must be careful of the educational tools we use. One of the greatest resources devised by mankind is also one of the most dangerous for historians. I refer to what is called the “World Wide Web.” It is not the last word. In fact, it is not a word at all most of the time. It is an intellectual sewer where one can easily find fact and fiction and concoction and propaganda, all hidden under the eyes of truth. Punching into Google is like joining Alice for a trip to the Wonderland. We had the knowledge of that recently with a textbook in which the author tried to defend herself by saying, “I consulted Google. I went to the Web.” Well, that’s not the way it’s done. There is but one reason why knowledge of history is not more prominent in this country. Total reliance on the Web is one reason that is cutting history. The Civil War is the biggest event in national history. But our children do not know that and our grandchildren are totally unaware of it. In fact, American youth today have unbelievably little awareness of the country that Mr. Lincoln termed, “the last great hope of earth.” The past decades have seen so much emphasis placed on technology and computer science that it has created an embarrassing lag in such basic cultural issues as history. The 2010 National Assessment of Education Programs, known in our educational profession as the National Report Card, was released a few weeks ago. It contains statistics for 12,000 high school graduating seniors all across the country, from Maine to California. Twelve thousand graduating seniors took this test; 87 of them, seven out of eight, failed the American history portion. Of seven different categories in that national test, students performed worse in the field of history than they did in the other six. In short, our national heritage is the subject about which our younger generations know the least. This is not shocking, it is frightening. The fault lies not with the children; it should be a wake-up call for all of us. We endanger our nation by overlooking the past. How can you face tomorrow if you have no recollection of yesterday? How can our children write the next chapter of a story they do not know? I want to praise the General Assembly for your activity in creating a Virginia Sesquicentennial Commission. The do-nothing Congress fortunately did nothing in this instance and left us alone, so that the mother state could establish a commission to oversee the 150th anniversary and, under the skilled leadership of Speaker Howell, for whom I have unbounded enthusiasm and esteem, this Commission has been active. We are the measuring board for the rest of the nation. Other states are joining us and following our lead, and as it should be, we created this nation. They ought to be following our lead anytime, anyway. I want to tell you very briefly one program we did. Way back yonder in the Centennial when I was, again I want to underscore this, very, very young and heading up a national commission. In 1965 when that Centennial ended, I realized that I had made a major mistake. We had totally overlooked the young. And for 50 years I have wallowed in impatience with the hope that maybe, somehow, I might get the opportunity to rectify that mistake. As Speaker Howell and the members of the Commission know, many of you are here, the first request I made of the Commission when I came onboard, was to give me a grant to prepare a documentary for the schools and the teachers on Virginia and the Civil War. We got that grant. With the State Board of Education's approval, we made a two-disk set, three hours long, and this is not a boring thing. It is actually nine 20-minute segments. If you are a teacher, and I know Representative Howell is very, very strong on this, you know the best classroom session is to teach 20, show 20, wrap-up 10. So we have taken the Civil War, put it in nine different categories and left it to the teachers to do. The film came out last year. The first 2,000 copies, thanks to the goodness of the General Assembly, went free of charge into every school in the Commonwealth of Virginia, from the elementary school through university. It is my greatest historical achievement because long after I am gone, the generations yet unborn, they will see this film and have a chance to see the Civil War depicted accurately, totally, factually, and it will be a learning guide for teachers and students alike. If the Sesquicentennial Commission did nothing else, it is a resounding success just for that. But I hasten to add that is just the start of our sesquicentennial programs. And thanks to you again for permitting us to be active, to lead the nation in marking the 150th anniversary.

Civil War history does not have to be humdrum to be instructed. It certainly doesn't have to be politically correct to be respectful or romanticized to be dramatic. Tragedy and triumph are the basic ingredients of yesteryear. Genuine understanding lies in the variations of individuals and the emotions that motivated them at that time and in that place. The Civil War is an event, ladies and gentlemen, that must be remembered for many reasons. First, it brought an end to slavery in a land that long held people in bondage while proclaiming freedom for all. The blatant national hypocrisy was humiliating. The war resolved that. From that war came one of history's greatest figures in Abraham Lincoln, a product of the American frontier, limited in education, unbelievably ugly in appearance; he would be a disaster on television. Lincoln, nevertheless, had a love of country, a dream of nationhood, a vision of freedom followed by equality that led to yesterday's hopes becoming today's realities. Have you ever wondered what would be if all the things that Washington did and Jefferson and Madison and Marshall did? They would all be worthless if Lincoln had not been there to hold that Union together in its most trying hour. Also high among the war's heroes remains a figure, which I am somewhat familiar, General Stonewall Jackson, the most esteemed soldier in the world. When mortally wounded by his own men, Jackson fought war with Old Testament fury in his quest for the peace of New Testament love. Further, although there was bitterness at war's end, there was also inspiring compassion. Ponder this, Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis could well have been hanged for treason. Instead they were allowed to rebuild their lives. Civil wars do not normally end that way. It is well that the South lost its struggle. Otherwise, we would have become a vulcanized continent without the strength of a great nation. And global democracy today would surely be less secure without the United States paving the way.

The Civil War must be remembered if, for no other purpose, than to pay simple homage to 700,000 farmers and clerks, students and laborers who, for various reasons, put on their country's uniform, marched off to battle, and did not come back. And we need also to hold dear in memory the grief-stricken mothers and heartbroken wives and sweethearts who did not lose life, but they lost the love that gives meaning to life. If only every one of those men and women could know that their sacrifices would once and for all unite the states. If only they could know that the world would be better because of what they gave. They do not know these things, but we do. And that is why Americans of all ages need to learn and to honor during the Sesquicentennial years. We must remember because as citizens of the mother state, we cannot forget that our pains of childbirth exceeded all others in bringing life to this country. Remembering and doing so with homage are among your highest responsibilities. You are the most influential citizens of this Commonwealth. You are Virginia's present. The past is your guide to the future. May the Father of us all walk in your shadow as you continue to make your history-making journey.

Thank you so much.

MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Randy Singer, Trinity Church, Virginia Beach, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Dear God, we start by acknowledging Your sovereignty over the affairs of men. No one here has been Your counselor. Nobody here has given You something You need to repay. From You, and through You, and for You all things exist.

But, we also affirm that this moment matters. That even in Your sovereignty, You are moved to hear and answer our prayers. This is not something we do as a matter of formality to quiet the chamber. Instead, we quiet our hearts and minds before You, a Holy and Sovereign God, and we honestly seek Your will for the decisions of this day.

I pray that You will help each Senator to put the good of the Commonwealth above party loyalties or political ambitions. That they will find wisdom not from the polls or pundits but from Your answers to this prayer. That even when they disagree, that they might honor You by treating each other in a Christ-like manner. And that collectively, You will help them to govern in the same way that You govern—with a heart for the most vulnerable and least fortunate, and with righteousness and justice and peace.

With respect for all faiths gathered here, I ask these things in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

TUESDAY, JANUARY 31, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Robert M. Chapman II, Market Street United Methodist Church, Onancock, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

To You O God, who breathes life into the depths of our being, we pause to invoke Your spirit within this historic body of the Virginia Senate. Receive our thanksgiving for the Commonwealth of Virginia. It has been a sacred home of Native Americans, remembered in the tribal heritage of Algonquians, Chickahominies, and the Powhatans. We were pioneers in the early days of NASA and now we remain free and strong, with brave men and women dutifully serving their country as pilots and Seals.

In Virginia, You gave birth to the legends of Pearl Bailey, Ella Fitzgerald, and June Carter. Educators like Booker T. Washington, great athletes in Arthur Ashe, Ace Parker and Olympic Gold Medalist Dave Walters. We live and worship in small towns known as Achilles, Selma and Saxis. Today, rather than settling beside river banks and "necks," we nestle along interstates like I-64 and I-95.

For Your grace in our past, and divine promise toward our future, call us to remain faithful, endow us with courage, wisdom, and creativity. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Barker, Black, Blevins, Carrico, Colgan, Deeds, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Herring, Howell, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, Marsh, Martin, McDougale, McEachin, McWaters, Miller, J.C., Miller, Y.B., Newman, Northam, Obenshain, Petersen, Puckett, Puller, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Smith, Stanley, Stosch, Stuart, Vogel, Wagner, Watkins.

A quorum was present.

Creator of All, be with those whom we have chosen to lead us, as they come into this chamber to do the work of the people of this Great Commonwealth. Help them to strive to establish justice and opportunity for all who dwell in this birthplace of American patriotism and religious tolerance. Offer Your strength and wisdom as they struggle to serve with integrity and humility.

Source of Justice, bless our Commonwealth and all of its inhabitants. Be with those whom we have chosen to lead us, planting in each heart the seeds of compromise and compassion that will ripen into prosperity and opportunity for all of the families who call this place home.

Author of freedom, we ask Your blessings upon our beloved country and all those who devote their lives to protecting her security and freedom. Dear Heavenly Father, we humbly acknowledge that it is by Your providence that we have been set on this earth to develop the many natural resources of Your creation. Keep us always mindful of our responsibility to be good stewards of these gifts that You have entrusted to our care.

As we look beyond ourselves, we are reminded of the bounty that You have blessed us to enjoy in this place we call Virginia. It is You and You alone who has blessed us with the seeds that we have sown here to bear fruit. And it is Your grace that has made this a good place to do business, a good place to raise a family, and a good place to enjoy life.

Today, I humbly ask that You be with all those here to whom we have entrusted the authority of government. I pray that, together in a spirit of cooperation, they will possess the wisdom to resolve the complex issues that affect the livelihood of us all.

We are thankful for the freedoms that we enjoy and ask for Your continued presence to be with the men and women of our armed forces both here and abroad. Keep them safe, bring home those who are away, and please be with their loved ones here until they return.

In Your name, we pray. Amen.

Almighty God, as this great Body meets on this day, and on the many days to come, to deliberate and legislate the matters set before them, I pray that You will bestow upon these Senators clearness of mind and a singleness of purpose.

Give them a burning desire to do Your will in all that they undertake to accomplish.

Remove from this chamber any pettiness or discord which will impede them from the work at hand. Almighty Creator, Sustainer and Redeemer, we gather on this day grateful for Your presence and mindful of Your loving kindness and Your tender mercies. It is with sincere humility that we pause thankful for Your provisions and Your strength in an effort to seek Your wisdom and Your guidance.

Today we ask Your blessings upon these leaders and the lawmakers. Grant them the wisdom and the courage to rise above the forces that seek to divide us, to refrain from the actions that hinder us and to not be bound by emotions that mire us in mediocrity.

Bless these leaders and these lawmakers and grant to each of them the capacity to possess the courage and the will to be the unique servants and the distinctive instruments of hope that lead us to brighter days and better lives. Produce in them a faith, a hope and a love in order that they may possess vision but act with compassion. Keep them in community one with another but illumine their spirit of communion. Inspire these leaders and these lawmakers to defend our liberties but to be promoters of unity. We ask that You will guide them, guard them and govern them in order that grace, truth and justice would abound in the lives of the represented here and the lives of everyone everywhere.

We pray this prayer in Your precious name. Amen.

The Reverend Michael Cadaret, Grace and Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Richmond, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

O God, the fountain of wisdom, whose will is good and gracious, and whose law is truth: We beseech You to guide and bless this assembly. Bestow upon them a spirit of wisdom and humility; save them from discord and confusion; from pride and arrogance, that they may discern the truth and may enact such laws as shall provide for the needs of all our people.

We pray also that You will imbue the citizens of this Commonwealth with patience, compassion, and hope that we may meet the days to come with courage and grace. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in You to fail.

We pray all this through our true desire for God's goodness and peace to prevail in our time. Amen.

Eternal God, source of life and creator of this new day, as we begin today, we look to You as our source of strength and inspiration as we face the challenges and issues of our public life.

Keep us mindful of our great good fortune especially in these days when limitations may rob us of Your will for well-being.

As citizens and elected leaders, strengthen our resolve for the improvement of our civic life. Where we have erred, forgive us, where we have done what is pleasing in Your sight, strengthen us, and where we are divided, bring us together for the common good.

Because You are a God of righteousness, truth and justice, for Your mercy's sake, may those godly virtues prevail among us.

We thank You for the call to serve others that You have placed into the hearts of humankind. As You have given us the will to respond to Your call on our lives, we pray God, that You continue to bless and favor our best ambitions. In the sure and certain hope that You light our path and guide our lives, we say, Amen.

Author of Creation, we ask Your blessing upon these Senators assembled to conduct the business and governance of this Commonwealth. The issues that are faced do not always lend themselves to simple solutions. But the problems that are confronted impel call for action.

Give us the clarity of vision to discern the way we should go, and pour out Your wisdom upon these Senators, so assembled, and give them the courage to do the right thing for the Commonwealth and its people.

In this time we also lift our prayers for the families who have sacrificed so that this assembly may conduct the business of the Commonwealth. Our prayer is that You will keep them safe in the time we are here and that when the business of this session is concluded we may have a glad reunion with them.

We lift these prayers to You. Amen!

Heavenly Lord, as we focus our attention on the work at hand, let us first and foremost focus ourselves on Your work in our lives.

You have brought the Clerk and her staff into positions of service on behalf of Your creation. Grant them knowledge and diligence to complete their work as Your servants and as servants of the state so that the work of the Senate might be carried out in good order and to Your glory.

You have called out Senate pages and messengers from around Virginia to serve the Senate of this great Commonwealth. Grant them endurance and strength to honor You as well as their teachers and parents in carrying out the duties assigned to them.

You have set these Senators into positions of authority through the vocation of public service in our Commonwealth. Guide them this day so that all of our citizens may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. Let their deliberations and decisions be guided by Your will so that the weak may be cared for, our freedoms may be protected, and You may be glorified by their work together.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 3 AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE

Proposing an amendment to Section 11 of Article I of the Constitution of Virginia, relating to taking or damaging of private property.

WHEREAS, a proposed amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, hereinafter set forth, was agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the General Assembly at the regular session of 2011 and referred to this, the next regular session held after the 2011 general election of members of the House of Delegates, as required by the Constitution of Virginia; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the Senate, the House of Delegates concurring, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same hereby is, proposed in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of Article XII of the Constitution of Virginia, namely:

Amend Section 11 of Article I of the Constitution of Virginia as follows:

ARTICLE I BILL OF RIGHTS

Section 11. Due process of law; obligation of contracts; taking or damaging of private property; prohibited discrimination; jury trial in civil cases.

That no person shall be deprived of his life, liberty, or property without due process of law; that the General Assembly shall not pass any law impairing the obligation of contracts, ~~nor any law whereby private property shall be taken or damaged for public uses, without just compensation, the term "public uses" to be defined by the General Assembly;~~ and that the right to be free from any governmental discrimination upon the basis of religious conviction, race, color, sex, or national origin shall not be abridged, except that the mere separation of the sexes shall not be considered discrimination.

That in controversies respecting property, and in suits between man and man, trial by jury is preferable to any other, and ought to be held sacred. The General Assembly may limit the number of jurors for civil cases in courts of record to not less than five.

That the General Assembly shall pass no law whereby private property, the right to which is fundamental, shall be damaged or taken except for public use. No private property shall be damaged or taken for public use without just compensation to the owner thereof. No more private property may be taken than necessary to achieve the stated public use. Just compensation shall be no less than the value of the property taken, lost profits and lost access, and damages to the residue caused by the taking. The terms "lost profits" and "lost access" are to be defined by the General Assembly. A public service company, public service corporation, or railroad exercises the power of eminent domain for public use when such exercise is for the authorized provision of utility, common carrier, or railroad services. In all other cases, a taking or damaging of private property is not for public use if the primary use is for private gain, private benefit, private enterprise, increasing jobs, increasing tax revenue, or economic development, except for the elimination of a public nuisance existing on the property. The condemnor bears the burden of proving that the use is public, without a presumption that it is.

Almighty and Eternal God, we humbly bow before You, knowing that prayer is essential in having a meaningful relationship with You, from whom all blessings flow.

Father, we thank You for granting us Your guidance and direction in our lives as we serve the people of our great state. We pray for those who are ill and could not be with us this day. We ask Your healing hand upon them.

We lift up to You our young men and women in the Armed Forces of our country, especially those in Harm's Way. We pray that peace will someday come to our nation and all our troops will return home safely.

May God bless each of you and your family and may He grant you His traveling mercies as you represent us throughout our Commonwealth.

Father, You have shown us the importance of thanksgiving and praise in our daily prayer and devotions. It speaks of our need to live in Your presence continually, forever and ever. We ask You to forgive us our sins as we forgive others. We are taught that through forgiveness we enter into Your very heart.

We pray for our country, that it will always be "One Nation Under God."

All of these gifts and graces we ask in Your precious name. Amen.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Dr. Bryan E. Smith, First Baptist Church of Roanoke, Roanoke, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, You have said that a word rightly spoken is like apples of gold in settings of silver. Even so we ask that as this assembly meets today that You would not let any corrupt word proceed out of our mouths but only that which is good and necessary for edification and the accomplishment of Your will. May these who have been elected by the people of our Commonwealth bring forth today that which is in agreement with Your law and in the fulfillment of Your will and honorable to You.

May we remember, Oh Lord, that You so loved the world that You gave Your only begotten Son and raised Him up so that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. Surely if You did not spare Your own Son, but delivered Him up for us, will You not also give to us all that we need to accomplish Your will this day in the matters that will come before this assembly for the governing of our citizens?

May we remember Lord that You are Good and Your Mercy endures to all generations. So forgive us our sins and may we in turn display Your forgiveness towards those who sin against us. Remind us now that You alone are worthy of praise and able to do far greater things in us, through us and with us than any of us could ever ask or imagine. May Your Kingdom come, Your will be done here today even as it is done in heaven.

Lord God, please bless Virginia and make it strong with Your strength. Bless our people and turn every heart to You that we might be filled with the beauty and joy of Your holiness through Jesus Christ our Lord. Help us by Your grace to demonstrate Your love this day in deed and truth.

For it is in the strong name of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ that I pray. Amen.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Travis Witt, Evington, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

On this day, February 20, 2012, in the year of our Lord Christ, we recognize President's Day, established in 1885 to remember America's first President and one of Virginia's finest sons, George Washington.

Father, may each Senator be thankful for the wisdom of George Washington who asked for God's blessing to be upon the leaders of each state when he declared, "God would have you, and the State over which you preside, in His holy protection; that He would incline the hearts of the citizens ... to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another ... and finally that He would most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy ... which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion, and without a humble imitation of whose example in these things, we can never hope to be a happy nation."

God in heaven and Comforter on earth, on this President's Day, may each Senator of the Commonwealth of Virginia remember the words of Thomas Jefferson who said, "God who gave us life gave us liberty. Can the liberties of a nation be secure when we have removed a conviction that these liberties are the gift of God? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just, that His justice cannot sleep forever."

Divine Providence, may the Senators find gratitude in the words of another President from Virginia, James Madison. "No people ought to feel greater obligations to celebrate the goodness of the Great Disposer of Events and of the Destiny of Nations than the people of the United States; ...And to the same Divine Author of Every Good and Perfect Gift we are indebted for all those privileges and advantages, religious as well as civil, which are so richly enjoyed in this favored land."

In the mighty name of the Redeemer of Mankind, Jesus Christ, Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Barker, Black, Blevins, Carrico, Colgan, Deeds, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Herring, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, Marsh, Martin, McDougle, McEachin, McWaters, Miller, J.C., Miller, Y.B., Newman, Norment, Northam, Obenshain, Petersen, Puckett, Puller, Reeves, Ruff, Smith, Stanley, Stosch, Stuart, Vogel, Wagner, Watkins.

A quorum was present.

After the roll call, Senators Howell and Saslaw notified the Clerk of their presence.

On motion of Senator Petersen, the reading of the Journal was waived.

The recorded vote is as follows:

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Sekyu Chang, Light Global Mission Church, Fairfax, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Father in Heaven, we praise You and give You thanks for Your goodness. We offer You our fragrances of Thanksgiving for Your grace and for Your righteousness. I give You thanks for this great nation; the nation that paved the highway for free people all over the world, lowering the high mountains and raising the deepest valleys. I give You thanks for this great Commonwealth of Virginia where the first torch of liberty was raised and the first proclamation was made that we are created after Your own image.

As a beneficiary of the sacrifice paid by the people of this land, I lay my prayer of appeal upon Your altar that You fill every one in this room with Godly wisdom that they may fight against the tyranny over the mind of man. I pray that You fill every authority and power in this room with Your own power and with Your own strength that they may fight against the tyranny over the liberty of man. I pray that You fill every heart of man and woman in this room with the charity of a mother and the compassion of a father that they may fight against all forms of tyranny over the destiny of man. I pray that You fill every servant of Yours in this room with the spirit of servanthip that they will never become any form of tyranny over the spirit of man seeking and obeying Your will. I pray that You hear every word spoken in this room. Watch over every hand raised in this room that every decision and every judgment made in this room will become our priestly possession following the footsteps of our Savior, who came to this world to rule and govern his own people, not as a tyranny but as the king of love, lowering himself all the way to die on the cross raising eternal hostility against the ultimate tyranny over man, our sin, our death, and our eternal judgment.

In Jesus precious name I pray. Amen.

Clerk of the Senate

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2012

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor William T. Bolling.

The Reverend Dr. Donald D. Binder, Pohick Episcopal Church, Lorton, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, we bow our heads at this noon hour in prayer on behalf of our Commonwealth and our nation; and we especially remember before You this day the birthday of the Father of our Country, Your servant, General George Washington.

Upon assuming command of the Continental Army, he led his fellow soldiers in observing a day of fasting and prayer "to implore the Lord and Giver of all victory to pardon [their] manifold sins and wickedness." Today, as millions of Americans gather to observe Ash Wednesday, we pause to reflect upon our own shortcomings.

With our ancestors and fellow citizens, we lay before You, O Lord, our many failings: that we have not loved You with our whole heart, and soul, and mind; that we have not loved our neighbor as our self; that we have not forgiven others, as we have been forgiven.

Accept our repentance, O Lord, for these and all our misdeeds, those things both done and left undone. And grant us the grace and consolation of Your Spirit that we may each receive absolution of our sins and amendment of life—and so be reconciled to You and our neighbor.

Finally, we pray that You would kindle within all Your people our Founding Father's spirit of humble service: that, mindful of our own imperfections, we might be quick to forgive and eager to agree, all in service of the common good. For it is only with the aid of Your mercies, O Lord, that we can ever hope to advance the blessings of liberty and peace for which Washington and our forebears so earnestly labored. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Barker, Black, Blevins, Carrico, Colgan, Deeds, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Herring, Howell, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, Marsh, Martin, McDougle, McEachin, McWaters, Miller, J.C., Miller, Y.B., Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Puckett, Puller, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Smith, Stanley, Stosch, Stuart, Vogel, Wagner, Watkins.

A quorum was present.

On motion of Senator Puller, the reading of the Journal was waived.

We thank You for our state Senators and their dedicated staffs who provide valuable assistance to them. Thank You for the good work they are doing for the citizens of the Commonwealth.

We realize that there are political and ideological differences in this body and, therefore, we pray for Your wisdom to bring unity and peace in difficult issues. Help each member of the Senate to have an open mind, a teachable spirit, and the courage to lay aside differences to accomplish a common good for the state of Virginia.

We ask for Your specific guidance for this day. May You give them Godly wisdom to make the very best decisions. Remind them that "righteousness exalts a nation" and life is a sacred gift from God. May they govern with a genuine commitment to the laws of God, principles from the word of God, and teachings from the Son of God.

We pray for moral courage and cooperation to produce a very successful session. May You bless their families during the Senators' service here in Richmond.

B. Transfers from this Item may be made when appropriations to the state agencies concerned are insufficient for the purposes stated in paragraph A of this Item, as determined by the Department of Planning and Budget, and subject to guidelines prescribed by the department. Further, the Department of Planning and Budget may transfer appropriations within this Item from the second year of the biennium to the first year, when necessary to accomplish the purposes stated in paragraph A of this Item.

C. Except as provided for elsewhere in this Item, agencies supported in whole or in part by nongeneral fund sources, shall pay the proportionate share of changes in salaries and benefits as required by this Item, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the appointing or governing authority of such agencies. Nongeneral fund revenues and balances required for this purpose are hereby appropriated.

D. The Governor is hereby authorized to transfer funds from agency appropriations to the accounts of participating state employees in such amounts as may be necessary to match the contributions of the qualified participating employees, consistent with the requirements of the Code of Virginia governing the deferred compensation cash match program. Such transfers shall be made consistent with the following:

1. The maximum cash match provided to eligible employees shall not be less than $10.00 per pay period, or $20.00 per month in the first year, and $20.00 per pay period, or $40.00 per month in the second year. The Governor may direct the agencies of the Commonwealth to utilize funds contained within their existing appropriations to meet these requirements.

2. The Governor may direct agencies supported in whole or in part with nongeneral funds to utilize existing agency appropriations to meet these requirements. Such nongeneral revenues and balances are hereby appropriated for this purpose, subject to the provisions of § 4-2.01 b of this act. The use of such nongeneral funds shall be consistent with any existing conditions and restrictions otherwise placed upon such nongeneral funds.

3. Employees who are otherwise eligible but whose 403 (b) provider does not participate in the cash match program by establishing a 401 (a) account are ineligible to receive a cash match.

4. The procurement of services related to the implementation of this program shall be governed by standards set forth in § 51.1-124.30 C, Code of Virginia, and shall not be subject to the provisions of Chapter 7 (§ 11-35 et seq.), Title 11, Code of Virginia.

5. Pursuant to § 3-1.01 of this act, amounts estimated at $3,491,632 the first year shall be transferred from eligible nongeneral fund accounts to the general fund, representing nongeneral fund savings associated with a reduction in the level of state match, from $20 per pay period to $10 per pay period, in the first year.

E. The Secretary of Administration, in conjunction with the Secretary of Finance, may establish a program that allows for the sharing of cost savings from improved productivity and performance with agencies and employees. Such gain sharing programs require a management philosophy of open communication encouraging employee participation; a system which seeks, evaluates and implements employee input on increasing productivity; and a formula for measuring productivity gains and sharing these gains between employees and the agency. The Department of Human Resource Management, in conjunction with the Department of Planning and Budget, shall develop specific gain sharing program guidelines for use by agencies. The Department of Human Resource Management shall provide to the Governor, the Chairmen of the House Appropriations and Senate Finance Committees an annual report no later than October 1 of each year detailing identified savings and their usage.

F.1. Out of the appropriation for this Item, amounts estimated at $11,376,638 the first year and $12,227,009 the second year from the general fund shall be transferred to state agencies and institutions of higher education to support the general fund portion of costs associated with changes in the employer's share of premiums paid for the Commonwealth's health benefit plans.

The Director, Department of Planning and Budget, is authorized to transfer these funds to the impacted state agencies based upon new workers compensation premiums as provided by the Department of Human Resource Management. Also, the Director, Department of Planning and Budget, is authorized to transfer funds between agencies based on these new premiums.

H.1. On July 1, 2010, the State Comptroller shall establish a fund on the books of the Commonwealth to be known as the Virginia Retirement System Suspense Payment Fund. Moreover, the period of 45 days shall be consecutive days that the participating employee is (i) actively at work and (ii) fully released to return to work full time, full duty. The Virginia Retirement System shall develop policies and procedures to administer the effects of the 45-day period in connection with participants who are deemed to have a major chronic condition.

2. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, any eligible employee commencing employment or re-employment on or after July 1, 2009, shall not be entitled to receive Virginia Sickness and Disability Program benefits under Article 3, Chapter 11, Title 51.1, Code of Virginia, (Nonwork Related Disability Benefits) until the employee completes one continuous year of active employment or re-employment.

P. The election of a Virginia Retirement System employer to pay, for any employee who was a Virginia Retirement System member on or before June 30, 2010, an equivalent amount in lieu of all member contributions under the provisions of § 51.1-144F is irrevocable. The provisions of this paragraph are declaratory of existing public policy and law

Q. The purpose of this paragraph is to provide a transitional severance benefit, under the conditions specified, to eligible city, county, school division or other political subdivision employees who are involuntarily separated from employment with their employer.

1.a. "Involuntary separation" includes, but is not limited to, terminations and layoffs from employment with the employer, or being placed on leave without pay-layoff or equivalent status, due to budget reductions, employer reorganizations, workforce downsizings, or other causes not related to the job performance or misconduct of the employee, but shall not include voluntary resignations. As used in this paragraph, a "terminated employee" shall mean an employee who is involuntarily separated from employment with his employer.

b. The governing authority of a city, county, school division or other political subdivision electing to cover its employees under the provisions of this paragraph shall adopt a resolution, as prescribed by the Board of Trustees of the Virginia Retirement System, to that effect. An election by a school division shall be evidenced by a resolution approved by the Board of such school division and its local governing authority.

2.a. Any (i) "eligible employee" as defined in § 51.1-132, (ii) "teacher" as defined in § 51.1-124.3, and (iii) any "local officer" as defined in § 51.1.124.3 except for the treasurer, commissioner of the revenue, attorney for the Commonwealth, clerk of a circuit court, or sheriff of any county or city, and (a) for whom reemployment with his employer is not possible because there is no available position for which the employee is qualified or the position offered to the employee requires relocation or a reduction in salary and (b) whose involuntary separation was due to causes other than job performance or misconduct, shall be eligible, under the conditions specified, for the transitional severance benefit conferred by this paragraph. The date of involuntary separation shall mean the date an employee was terminated from employment or placed on leave without pay-layoff or equivalent status.

b. Eligibility shall commence on the date of involuntary separation.

3.a. On his date of involuntary separation, an eligible employee with (i) two years' service or less to the employer shall be entitled to receive a transitional severance benefit equivalent to four weeks of salary; (ii) three years through and including nine years of consecutive service to the employer shall be entitled to receive a transitional severance benefit equivalent to four weeks of salary plus one additional week of salary for every year of service over two years; (iii) ten years through and including fourteen years of consecutive service to the employer shall be entitled to receive a transitional severance benefit equivalent to twelve weeks of salary plus two additional weeks of salary for every year of service over nine years; or (iv) fifteen years or more of consecutive service to the employer shall be entitled to receive a transitional severance benefit equivalent to two weeks of salary for every year of service, not to exceed thirty-six weeks of salary.

b. Transitional severance benefits shall be computed by the terminating employer's payroll department. Partial years of service shall be rounded up to the next highest year of service.

c. Transitional severance benefits shall be paid by the employer in the same manner as normal salary. In accordance with § 60.2-229, transitional severance benefits shall be allocated to the date of involuntary separation. The right of any employee who receives a transitional severance benefit to also receive unemployment compensation pursuant to § 60.2-100 et seq. shall not be denied, abridged, or modified in any way due to receipt of the transitional severance benefit; however, any employee who is entitled to unemployment compensation shall have his transitional severance benefit reduced by the amount of such unemployment compensation. Any offset to a terminated employee's transitional severance benefit due to reductions for unemployment compensation shall be paid in one lump sum at the time the last transitional severance benefit payment is made.

d. For twelve months after the employee's date of involuntary separation, the employee shall continue to be covered under the (i) health insurance plan administered by the employer for its employees, if he participated in such plan prior to his date of involuntary separation, and (ii) group life insurance plan administered by the Virginia Retirement System pursuant to Chapter 5 (§ 51.1-500 et seq.) of Title 51.1, or such other group life insurance plan as may be administered by the employer. During such twelve months, the terminating employer shall continue to pay its share of the terminated employee's premiums. Upon expiration of such twelve month period, the terminated employee shall be eligible to purchase continuing health insurance coverage under COBRA.

e. Transitional severance benefit payments shall cease if a terminated employee is reemployed or hired in an individual capacity as an independent contractor or consultant by the employer during the time he is receiving such payments.

f. All transitional severance benefits payable pursuant to this section shall be subject to applicable federal laws and regulations.

4.a. In lieu of the transitional severance benefit provided in subparagraph 3 of this paragraph, any otherwise eligible employee who, on the date of involuntary separation, is also (i) a vested member of the Virginia Retirement System, including a member eligible for the benefits described in subsection B of § 51.1-138, and (ii) at least fifty years of age, may elect to have the employer purchase on his behalf years to be credited to either his age or creditable service or a combination of age and creditable service, except that any years of credit purchased on behalf of a member of the Virginia Retirement System, including a member eligible for the benefits described in subsection B of § 51.1-138, who is eligible for unreduced retirement shall be added to his creditable service and not his age. The cost of each year of age or creditable service purchased by the employer shall be equal to fifteen percent of the employee's present annual compensation. The number of years of age or creditable service to be purchased by the employer shall be equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (i) the cash value of the benefits to which the employee would be entitled under subparagraphs 3.a. and 3.d. of this paragraph by (ii) the cost of each year of age or creditable service. Partial years shall be rounded up to the next highest year. Deferred retirement under the provisions of subsection C of §§ 51.1-153 and 51.1-205, and disability retirement under the provisions of § 51.1-156 et seq., shall not be available under this paragraph.

b. In lieu of the (i) transitional severance benefit provided in subparagraph 3 of this paragraph and (ii) the retirement program provided in this subsection, any employee who is otherwise eligible may take immediate retirement pursuant to §§ 51.1-155.1 or 51.1-155.2.

c. The retirement allowance for any employee electing to retire under this paragraph who, by adding years to his age, is between ages fifty-five and sixty-five, shall be reduced on the actuarial basis provided in subdivision A. 2. of § 51.1-155.

d. The retirement program provided in this subparagraph shall be otherwise governed by policies and procedures developed by the Virginia Retirement System.

e. Costs associated with the provisions of this subparagraph shall be factored into the employer contribution rates paid to the Virginia Retirement System beginning with the June 30, 2011 actuarial evaluation.

R. Out of the general fund appropriation for this Item, $3,400,000 in the second year shall be transferred to state agencies and institutions of higher education to support the general fund portion of costs associated with benefits provided pursuant to the Line of Duty Act.

S.1. All classified employees of the Executive branch and other full-time employees of the Commonwealth, except elected officials, who were employed on June 30, 2010 and remain employed until at least December 1, 2010, shall receive a one-time bonus payment equal to three percent of base pay on December 1, 2010, contingent upon additional general fund resources equaling or exceeding $82,200,000 from the combination of actual general fund revenue collections for FY 2010 exceeding the official FY 2010 revenue estimate contained in the first enactment of HB 29 of the 2010 session of the General Assembly, and by any discretionary unspent general fund appropriations recommended by the Governor for reversion at the end of FY 2010. If the combination of additional general fund revenue collections and year-end general fund balances recommended for reversion by the Governor for FY 2010 exceed the official revenue estimate by less than $82,200,000, the one-time bonus payment shall be prorated to a percent of base pay for the general fund payroll that equates to the amount of excess resources collected.

2. "K.1. Out of the appropriation for this item, $30,000,000 the second year from the general fund is provided to capitalize a reserve to be known as the Federal Action Contingency Trust (FACT) Fund. The Governor is authorized to distribute amounts from this reserve to mitigate or address a variety of negative impacts of federal fiscal actions on the Commonwealth. Although not specifically limited to the following, the Governor may use this reserve to address the replacement of losses of direct federal grant funding, to provide incentives to retain or consolidate federal facilities in Virginia, to address federal tax policy changes from conformity that are deemed undesirable, and to assist businesses impacted by the cutback of federal procurement or defense contracts in obtaining new alternative customers.

2. There is hereby created an advisory committee to provide advice to the Governor concerning the use of the Federal Action Contingency Trust (FACT) Fund. The committee shall consist of six legislative members appointed by the Joint Rules Committee one of which shall be from the Senate at large, and one of which shall be from the House at large, and two members of the Senate Committee on Finance and two members from the House Appropriations Committee. The secretaries of Commerce and Trade and Finance shall also serve as members of the advisory committee.

3. Prior to the distribution of any funds from the Federal Action Contingency Trust (FACT) Fund, the Governor shall consult with the advisory committee regarding the purpose of any proposed distribution and seek the advisory committee’s guidance. The advisory committee shall respond to the Governor within five days after receiving a proposal from the Governor indicating their guidance to him about the proposed distribution. The Governor shall also notify the chairmen of the Senate Finance Committee and the House Appropriations Committee in writing within ten days concerning his decision to distribute money from the FACT reserve having previously received guidance from the advisory committee.

4. If the U.S. Congress substantially delays or amends the automatic $1.2 trillion in federal budget reductions scheduled to take effect in January 2013 pursuant to the Budget Control Act of 2011; and, the Governor and the advisory committee determines that the result of any such action will not significantly impact the Commonwealth’s revenues, certain contingent appropriations as identified in Item 105 of Senate Bill 30 (2012) shall be provided from the Federal Action Contingency Trust (FACT) Fund.”

Such temporary structure shall comply with all of the applicable provisions of the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code and the Virginia Statewide Fire Prevention Code for that designated use and occupancy. Such waiver shall not relieve the locality of the requirement for submission to and Board of Corrections approval of a community-based corrections plan, planning study, and construction of a permanent facility or enlargement. The community-based corrections plan and planning study for the permanent facility or enlargement shall be submitted to the Board of Corrections within twelve months of the approval by the Board of Corrections of the waiver for the temporary structure. The locality shall provide to the Board of Corrections an annual update on the progress of the construction of a permanent facility or enlargement by July 1 of each year of the temporary facility’s use. Failure of a locality to comply with the above requirements may result in the Board of Corrections terminating the locality’s use of the temporary facility.
