2016 REGULAR SESSION

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Tyrone Nelson, Sixth Mount Zion Baptist Church, Richmond, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Dear God, first let me say, "Thank You" on behalf of all who are gathered here today. Thank You for Your many and abundant blessings. Thank You for life itself, for the measure of health we need to fulfill our callings, for sustenance and for friendship. Thank You for the ability to be involved in useful work and for the honor of bearing the privilege and responsibility to govern. Thank You for loving us from Your boundless and gracious nature.

In the scriptures, You have said that citizens ought to obey the governing authorities since You have established those very authorities to promote peace and justice. Therefore, I pray today for the Senate of the Commonwealth of Virginia. I am asking that You would graciously grant them:

Wisdom to govern

A sense of the welfare and true needs of its people

A keen thirst for justice and righteousness

Confidence in what is good and fitting

The ability to work together in harmony even when there is honest disagreement

Personal peace in their lives and joy in their task

I pray for the agenda set before them this day. Please give an assurance of what would please You and what would benefit those who live in the Commonwealth.

It is in Your name we pray, Amen.

The Committee may report such bills and resolutions with the recommendation that they be passed, or that they be rereferred to another Committee. In considering a bill or resolution, the Committee is empowered to sit while the Senate is in session. There shall be a subcommittee of the Committee, consisting of the Chair and members appointed by the Chair to equal the number of House members appointed to the subcommittee, which shall exercise on behalf of the Committee such powers as are delegated to the Committee when acting jointly with the Committee on Rules of the House of Delegates or a subcommittee thereof.

19 (b). If there is any objection as to the referral by the Clerk of the Senate of any bill or resolution to any standing Committee or any matter relating to the Office of the Clerk, the Committee on Rules shall hear the same, resolve the issue and report to the Senate.

19 (e). The Chair of the Committee on Rules shall appoint a subcommittee to review the financial disclosure statements filed annually by members or candidates and shall determine whether each statement is correct and complete as filed or requires correction, augmentation, or revision by the member or candidate involved, who shall be directed in writing to make the changes required within such time as shall be set by the Committee.

Additional review shall be made of any financial disclosure statement by the Committee on Rules upon a request in writing by 20 percent of the membership of the Senate on the basis of newly discovered evidence. This review shall be made promptly, the adequacy of filing determined, and notice of the determination of the Committee sent in writing to the member involved. If a financial disclosure statement is found to need correction, augmentation, or revision, the member or candidate involved shall be directed in writing to make the changes required within such time as shall be set by the Committee. Failure to make the correction shall result in the matter being referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections for disciplinary action pursuant to Rules 18 (h) and 53 (b).

19 (f). There shall be a Subcommittee on Standards of Conduct of the Committee on Rules, consisting of three members, one of whom shall be a member of the minority party, appointed by the Chair. Any Senator requesting such an advisory opinion shall submit the request in writing, addressed to the Chair of the Committee on Rules, and shall set forth specifically the facts relative to the opinion sought. The Subcommittee shall convene as soon as practicable, granting the Senator requesting the opinion the right to appear and, upon the conclusion of its deliberations, the Subcommittee shall submit its written opinion to the full Committee on Rules. The Committee on Rules shall consider the written opinion submitted by the Subcommittee and, if accepted, the same shall constitute an advisory opinion for the conduct of the members of the Senate on the issues set forth. The Clerk of the Senate shall maintain a record of such advisory opinions, which shall be available to any member of the Senate.

19 (g). Any Senator who wishes to present a person to the Senate shall first seek the approval of the Chair of the Committee on Rules. The Senator shall submit a written request to the Chair of the Committee and a copy of the request to the Clerk of the Senate, at least 48 hours prior to the time of the presentation. The Chair shall determine the merit of the presentation and notify the Senator of the decision. The submission of the written request and the approval of the Chair shall not be required to present members of the Virginia Congressional Delegation and former members of the Virginia Senate. The Chair, in consultation with the Clerk, shall approve the dates for the presentations. During the regular session, presentations shall not be made on Fridays, crossover, or any day involving action on the appropriation act.

19 (h). 20 (a). The total membership of all Committees and the membership of each standing Committee shall be composed of members of the two major political parties in the Commonwealth and ~~as nearly as practicable with equal consideration shall be given to the geographic balance in the membership of resident Senators from the several congressional districts of the Commonwealth as the same exist on the date of election of the Senate~~ of each standing Committee. Senators shall serve terms on such Committees coincident with their current terms of office. No member shall be removed from a Committee, except by a majority vote of the members present and voting or by forfeiture under these rules or upon submission of the member's resignation from the Committee.

The standing Committees may also include any Senator not elected as a member of the two major political parties. All members of the Senate shall be elected to the standing Committees, where practicable. When the Committees are elected, the Senator first named shall be the Chair, except that in the case of the ~~Committee for Courts of Justice and the Committee on Finance, the first two Senators of the majority party named to these Committees~~ the Committee shall be Co-Chairs. All references in these Rules to the Chair of a standing Committee shall be interpreted to include and apply to the Co-Chairs. A Senator shall serve as Chair of only one of the standing Committees. Next shall be listed the members, listed by seniority and by the date elected to the Committee. At the first meeting of the Committee, the Chair may appoint and announce a vice chair.

Should any Senator, during his term of office, cease to be a member of the political party of which he was a member at the time of his election either by self-declaration or through other conduct as confirmed by a two-thirds majority of the members elected to the Senate, he shall be deemed, thereby, to have forfeited all Committee memberships to which he may have been elected.

20 (b). Any vacancy in Committee membership during the four-year term of the Committee members shall be filled in the manner in which Committee members are elected in the first instance.

20 (c). The standing Committees shall meet at such time and place as shall be designated by the Committee on Rules, after consultation with the respective Committee Chair, and the fixed time and place of Committee meetings shall be published. All committees shall be governed by the Rules of the Senate.

20 (d). All Committee meetings shall be held in public. All votes on bills shall be recorded.

However, executive sessions may be held pursuant to applicable provisions of law upon a recorded vote. Except as provided herein, a recorded vote of members upon each measure shall be taken and the name and number of those voting for, against or abstaining reported with the bill or resolution and ordered printed on the Calendar. A recorded vote shall not be necessary to report a resolution, if that resolution does not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules. A Senator who has a personal interest in the transaction, as defined in § 30-101 of the Code of Virginia, shall neither vote nor be counted upon it, and he shall withdraw, or invoke this Rule not to be counted, prior to the taking of any vote upon it, by stating the same before the Committee, and the fact shall be recorded by the Committee Clerk and reported along with the votes of the Committee members on the bill or resolution. If a Senator invokes this rule, the Senator shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in the matter wherein the rule is invoked. Pairs may be taken in Committee voting as provided in Rule 36.

20 (e). The majority of any Committee shall constitute a quorum. Any Senator attending and recorded as present at a Committee meeting who must depart prior to the rising of the Committee, may designate, in writing on committee proxy forms, one member of the Committee to vote his proxy for the duration of his absence, but for no longer than the meeting of the Committee at which the proxy is given and only for the duration during which the Senator leaving the proxy is within the confines of Capitol Square. Proxies are not transferable. The Chair shall be informed in open session of the proxy authority prior to the departure of the Senator so leaving.

20 (f). Any bill or resolution introduced in an even-numbered year, and not reported to the Senate by a Committee may, upon the majority vote of the elected membership of the Committee to which it has been referred, be continued on the agenda of the Committee for hearings and Committee action during the interim between sessions or for future action by the Committee during the following odd-numbered year regular sessions. A bill or resolution may be continued only one year from an even-numbered year session and not otherwise. The Committee shall report, prior to the adjournment sine die of the Senate, such bills or resolutions as shall be continued and the Clerk of the Senate shall enter upon the Journal the fact that such bill or resolution has been continued.

20 (g). The Senate, upon consideration of any bill or resolution on the Calendar, may recommit, in accordance with these Rules, the bill or resolution to the Committee reporting the same, and direct the Committee to continue the bill or resolution until the following odd-numbered year regular session, and hold such hearings or render such further consideration of the bill or resolution as the Committee may deem proper.

20 (h). The Chair of the Committee, or the majority of the elected membership of a Committee, may call meetings of the Committee during the interim between sessions to study, call hearings, and consider any bill or resolution continued for further action at the odd-numbered year session, or to consider such other matters as may be germane to the duties of the Committee.

20 (i). The provisions of this Rule relating to legislative continuity between sessions shall be subject to the provisions of Article IV, Section 7 of the Constitution of Virginia.

20 (j). Each Committee shall have a clerk appointed by the Clerk of the Senate, after consultation with the Chair of the Committee on Rules and the Chair of the respective Committee. The Clerk of the Senate shall be the clerk to the Committee on Rules.

20 (k). The Chair of any Committee may appoint subcommittees to consider a particular bill or resolution or to consider matters relative to a portion of the work of the Committee. Such subcommittees shall not take final votes and shall only make recommendations to the Committee. The Chair of the full Committee shall be an ex officio member of all subcommittees and entitled to vote, but shall not be counted as a member for purposes of a quorum. All subcommittees shall be governed by the Rules of the Senate.

20 (l). Any Committee of the Senate may, at its discretion, confer with any Committee of the House of Delegates having under consideration the same subject and arrange joint meetings, hearings or studies, as the Committees deem appropriate.

20 (m). A Committee, after considering a bill or resolution referred to it may:

A. Refer the same to another Committee, in the same form received, to consider applicable portions of such bill or resolution as are germane to another Committee under the Rules, or may

B. Report it to the Senate

(i) without amendment,

(ii) with recommendation that a Committee amendment(s) be adopted, or

(iii) with recommendation that it be rereferred to another Committee (either with or without amendment), in which latter event the Clerk of the Senate shall so rerefer unless the Senate shall otherwise direct.

A recorded vote of members shall be taken upon any motion listed in A and B above and the name and number of those voting for, against or abstaining reported with the bill or resolution and ordered printed on the Calendar. The report recorded by the Committee Clerk shall be the recorded vote on the motion and cannot be changed unless the vote is reconsidered and voted upon again. A recorded vote shall not be necessary to report or rerefer a resolution, if that resolution does not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules.

20 (n). Any bill, except the budget bill sent down by the Governor, whose principal objective is taxation or which establishes a special fund or any type of nonreverting fund, whether or not such bill may also require an appropriation, tax, special or general revenue, shall first be referred to the Standing Committee which has jurisdiction of the subject matter of the bill as defined in rules 18 (a) through 18 (j) of the Rules of the Senate. If said bill is reported by the Committee of original jurisdiction then said bill shall be rereferred by the Committee to the Finance Committee.

20 (o). A Committee may refer the subject matter of a bill or resolution to any agency, board, commission, council, or other governmental or nongovernmental entity for comment, but the bill or resolution shall remain with the Committee. The Chair of the Committee shall direct the Clerk of the Senate to prepare the appropriate letter and the action of the Committee shall be made available to the public.

20 (p). Committees of the Senate are authorized to seek and obtain, in the period of time between sessions of the General Assembly, the services of citizens of the Commonwealth whose function will be to participate with such Committees or Subcommittees thereof in reviewing legislation or in performing any referred study or study initiated by the Committee or its Chair.

Persons appointed to serve shall receive reimbursement for their actual and reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of services for the Committees. For such other expenses as may be occasioned by the conduct of any Committee study, payments shall have approval in advance by the Chair of the Committee on Rules in consultation with the Clerk and shall be made from the general appropriation to the Senate.

20 (q). Persons who are asked by a Committee Chair to appear before a Committee or subcommittee or study to offer expert testimony may receive reimbursement for their actual and reasonable expenses if approved in advance by the Chair of the Committee on Rules, in consultation with the Clerk.

ii. to recognize and welcome visitors to the Senate.

iii. to receive resolutions and bills, but such resolutions and bills may be received at the Clerk's desk at any time after the "morning hour," with leave of the Senate.

(e) Consideration of unfinished business. (Unfinished business is legislation before the Senate as a result of or pending action by the House of Delegates.)

(f) Consideration of the Calendar of the Senate for that day, for which purpose the Calendar shall be called by the Clerk of the Senate.

(g) Upon completion of the Calendar and then Senators expressing Point(s) of Personal Privilege and such other business as may come before the Senate, a recess or adjournment shall then be taken.

22. To expedite the business of the Senate, it may order the convening of a "special morning session," at which session no vote shall be taken or other business transacted except the introduction of bills and resolutions. Upon the completion thereof, such session shall recess to such time as the Senate may have theretofore ordered. Such "special morning session" shall be convened by the presiding officer or President pro tempore unless otherwise designated. The "special morning session" shall be considered adjourned upon the convening of the daily session.

23 (a). Notwithstanding Rule 21 and Rule 22, any subject may, by a recorded vote of a majority of the members present and voting, be made a special and continuing order, to commence at a time to be fixed by the Senate, and when the time so fixed for its consideration arises, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

23 (b). When two or more special and continuing orders have been made for the same time, they shall have precedence according to the order in which they were severally assigned, and that order shall only be changed by majority of those present and voting. All motions to change such order shall be decided without debate.

24. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of the passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

25 (a). All bills, resolutions or other business originating in the Senate and all bills, resolutions or other business sent from the House of Delegates shall be dispatched in the order in which they are introduced or received, unless the Senate shall otherwise direct.

25 (b). Bills or resolutions of either house shall be divided on the Calendar between the designation "Uncontested Calendar" and "Regular Calendar," and be considered in such order. When such a division is made for bills or resolutions, the Uncontested Calendar shall not include any bills or resolutions (i) which receive a dissenting vote or abstention in Committee, or (ii) to which objection is made by any Senator on first reading. Any bills or resolutions shall be removed from the Uncontested Calendar at any time at the request of any Senator. Resolutions which do not have a specific vote requirement pursuant to these Rules shall not be placed on the Uncontested Calendar but may be divided separately.

25 (c). It shall be the duty of the Clerk to see that the printing and engrossing, when ordered, shall be done in such time that the bills and resolutions may be acted upon according to their priorities upon the Calendar. If, however, any bill or resolution is not ready when it is reached upon the Calendar, it shall be passed by, and be allowed to retain its place upon the Calendar.

25 (d). When the Calendar has been called through, it may be called again in order to dispose of any business that may be ready, and if there is none, the business of the "morning hour" shall be resumed and disposed of; but the business of the "morning hour" shall in no case be allowed to interfere with that of the Calendar without the unanimous consent of the members present.

26 (a). No law shall be enacted except by bill. Every bill, upon its introduction, shall be referred to the appropriate Committee. No bill shall become a law until the procedures required by Article IV, Section 11 of the Constitution of Virginia have been observed.

26 (b). No bill expressly amending any existing law shall be offered by any member unless or until the original and all copies thereof have been prepared so as to indicate deletions and additions. Each bill or resolution shall be signed by at least one Senator or by the Clerk of the Senate upon authorization of a member who has become incapacitated or who is unavailable to sign the legislation. Upon the approval of the Committee on Rules, electronic filing of bills and resolutions and electronic patronage may be permitted. Any bill or resolution offered for introduction in the Senate may show two or more Senators as chief patrons and as "House Patrons" the signatures of members of the House of Delegates. The title of any bill having any provisions pertaining to taxation or revenues shall so indicate. The form for deletions and additions shall be to set forth the material deleted with lines through such material, e.g., ~~deleted material or words~~, and to underscore the words added, before they are received in the Senate. However, the stricken material and underscoring and italics in the printed bill, enrolled bills, and printed Acts shall not be considered evidence of all amendments to any bill or existing statute, but merely as an aid for quick reference to amended portions. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring the use of stricken material or underscoring when new words are substituted for existing words where the new words or the omission of words does not change the sense or meaning of the act.

26 (c). The title of a bill or resolution and all amendments offered thereto shall be entered upon the Journal, except the amendments in the nature of a substitute shall be printed separately, and only the titles thereof entered upon the Journal.

26 (d). Any Senate bill or resolution which has been amended during the legislative process by the Senate shall be engrossed and reproduced by the Clerk of the Senate, as soon as practicable, in sufficient numbers for the members of the Senate and House of Delegates.

26 (e). The designation of "Senate Bill" or "Senate Resolution" or "Senate Joint Resolution" shall not be changed nor amended after a bill or resolution is introduced in the Senate. A* co-patron added pursuant to this Rule shall be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such bill, joint resolution, or resolution, and shall be so listed on such bill, joint resolution, or resolution at its next printing, if any.

Any member of the Senate or House of Delegates may also request in writing to the Clerk ~~that his name~~ to be removed as a co-patron of any bill or joint resolution ~~provided that the first vote on the passage of the bill or agreement to the resolution has not occurred, or, if the bill or resolution is not reported from Committee, then prior to the last action on such legislation, and thereafter his name~~ prior to the deadline set by the General Assembly. A Senator may also request in writing to the Clerk to be removed from a Senate resolution provided that the first vote on the passage of the resolution has not occurred, or, if the resolution is not reported from Committee, then prior to the last action on such resolution. A co-patron removed pursuant to this Rule shall thereafter not be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such bill, joint resolution, or resolution, nor shall his the co-patron's name be listed on such bill, joint resolution, or resolution at its next printing, if any. This Rule shall not apply to the addition or removal of co-patrons to commending and memorial joint resolutions and resolutions.

26 (g). Any memorial or commending resolutions shall conform to the form and procedure set forth by the Clerk of the Senate and shall not be referred to the Committee on Rules, but shall be placed upon the Calendar on the next Thursday of the session and shall be considered for approval on said day; however, any one member may object to such consideration and the same shall be continued to the next Thursday session or any member may move that the same be referred to the Committee on Rules. Any member of the Senate or House of Delegates may request in writing to the Clerk to be added or removed as a co-patron to a Senate commending or memorial joint resolution until one hour after the adjournment of the House of Delegates on the day of the joint resolution's final agreement. A Senator may also request in writing to the Clerk to be added or removed as a co-patron to a Senate commending and memorial resolution until one hour after the adjournment of the Senate on the day of the resolution's final agreement. A co-patron added pursuant to this Rule shall be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such joint resolution or resolution and so listed on the joint resolution or resolution at its next printing, if any. A co-patron removed pursuant to this Rule shall thereafter not be listed in the Journal as a co-patron of such joint resolution or resolution, nor shall the co-patron's name be listed on such joint resolution or resolution at its next printing, if any.

No Senator may introduce more than a combined total of ten commending and memorial resolutions each session, except for the Chair of the Committee on Rules when introducing such resolutions according to custom or protocol.

27. Bills or resolutions originating in the House of Delegates and communicated to the Senate shall be read by title the first time when received and referred to the appropriate Committee unless otherwise directed by the Senate.

28 (a). No bill or resolution reported from a Committee of the Senate shall be recommitted or amended until it has been twice read by title, nor shall any Senate bill or resolution be amended after its third reading, except by the unanimous consent of the Senate. House bills or resolutions may be recommitted or amended at any time before their final passage, but a bill or resolution which has been recommitted to a Committee, when reported by Committee, shall be restored on the Calendar to the status it had before it was recommitted.

28 (b). In the case of a House bill or resolution, engrossment shall only apply to such amendments as may have been made in the Senate.

29. Whenever a Senate bill or resolution is reported to the Senate with one or more House amendments, copies of all such amendments shall be furnished to each Senator. The same shall apply to amendments proposed by a Senate Committee or by a Senator, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

30. Every question shall be put in the affirmative and the presiding officer shall declare whether the yeas or the nays have it, which declaration shall stand as the judgment of the Senate. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the Journal. On the final vote of any bill, and on the vote in any election or impeachment conducted in the General Assembly or on the expulsion of a Senator, the name of each Senator voting, and how he voted shall be recorded in the Journal. After the roll has been taken, and before the vote is announced by the presiding officer, any Senator shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name and the presiding officer shall order the vote to be stricken.

31. Any Senator may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions so distinct in substance that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Senate.

32. Upon the determination of a question, any Senator may enter his protest upon the Journal, with the consent of one-third of the Senators present; and on the question "Shall the protest be entered on the Journal?", no privileged motion as set out in Rule 47 (a) or Rule 47 (b) shall be in order except to adjourn.

33. Whenever the Senate proceeds to consider any nominations or appointments after the same have been reported by the appropriate Committee, which are subject to the choice or ratification of the Senate, and when it is so ordered by the Senate pursuant to Chapter 37 of Title 2.2 of the Code of Virginia, the same shall be considered in executive session.

All incidental questions of order arising after a motion for the pending question is made, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

35. Upon a motion for the previous question, agreed to by a majority of the Senators present, as indicated by a recorded vote, and there being no other motions afforded priority by these Rules, the presiding officer shall immediately put the question, first upon the amendments in the order prescribed in the Rules, and then upon the main question. If the previous question be not ordered, debate may continue as if the motion had not been made.

XI.

Taking the Vote.

36. Every Senator present in the Chamber, when any question is put or vote taken, shall vote or be counted as voting on one side or the other, except in the case of pairs, as hereinafter provided, or in the case of judicial elections. A Senator who has a personal interest in the transaction, as defined in § 30-101 of the Code of Virginia, shall neither vote nor be counted upon it, and he shall withdraw, or invoke this rule not to be counted, prior to the division and the fact shall be recorded on the voting machine. If a Senator invokes this rule, the Senator shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in the matter wherein the rule is invoked. Pairs upon any question pending may be made and entered upon the Journal, and in such cases shall be announced immediately upon completion of the roll call, and before the announcement of its result. Pairs may be general or special. General pairs shall extend to and include all motions, amendments, or other proceedings in aid of or against the question pending, and which is the subject of the pairs. Special pairs shall depend in their scope upon the agreement between the Senators making the same, but in absence of a specific agreement, the presumption shall be conclusive that the pairs are general. The Senator announcing a pair shall be counted as present for the purposes of establishing a quorum. Pairs may be taken in Committee votes under this rule herein set forth.

37. The voting machine may be used for the call of the roll, for recording abstentions under Rule 36, or for the affirmative and the negative of the question.

38 (a). No Senator shall be allowed to vote or submit a vote statement unless he is in attendance at the daily session at the time the Senate is being divided, or before a determination of the question upon a call of the roll, and is physically present in the Chamber, or one of its anterooms. A Senator may submit a vote statement if he was not recorded as voting or if his recorded vote does not reflect his intention. The statement shall be limited to the fact that his vote was not recorded or that his vote did not reflect his intention and must be submitted to the Clerk of the Senate by the adjournment of the daily session.

38 (b). In cases where the presiding officer is also a member of the Senate at the time a recorded vote is being taken, the presiding officer shall request another Senator to cast his vote for him or shall cast his vote from the Chair.

The Senate members of any committee of conference with the House of Delegates shall be designated by the Chair of the Committee to which the bill or resolution in conference was first referred by the Clerk of the Senate. If a Senate bill or resolution is in conference, the chief patron(s) of the same shall be a conferee and, where feasible, members of a Committee to which the bill or resolution was referred or rereferred shall comprise the conferees.

Any conference report must be agreed to by the majority of the members of each house on the conference committee before it may be filed with the Senate. If the report of the first named conference is rejected by the Senate or the conferees cannot agree, the Chair shall designate the same or new conferees in the event a second conference is formed.

Conferees shall not insert in their report matters not committed to them by either house, nor shall they strike from the bill or resolution in conference matters agreed to by both houses.

39 (b). When a committee of conference is meeting it shall inform the Clerk of the place of meeting; and, when a vote be put, the presiding officer shall, before calling the vote, inform the Senate conferees of the pending vote and grant them a reasonable opportunity to return to the Chamber to vote.

While the presiding officer is reporting or putting any question, or the Clerk of the Senate is reporting a bill or resolution or calling the roll, or a Senator is addressing the Chair, strict order shall be observed. No Senator or other person shall give audible expression to his or her approval or disapproval of any proceeding before the Senate. The use of props is prohibited on the floor of the Senate.

40 (b). The use of audible electronic devices used for transmitting and receiving communications is prohibited in Senate committee rooms and the Senate Chamber. The use of cellular telephones is prohibited in Senate committee rooms and the Senate Chamber. Violations of this rule shall be punishable as prescribed by the Committee on Rules.

41. If words are spoken in debate that give offense, exception thereto shall be taken the same day, and be stated in writing; and in such case, if the words are decided by the presiding officer, or by the Senate, upon an appeal, to be offensive, and they are not explained or retracted by the Senator who uttered them, he shall be subject to such action as the Senate may deem necessary.

42. When any member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat, and without advancing, with due respect, address "Mr. President," confining himself strictly to the point in debate, and avoiding all disrespectful language.

43. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject without leave of the Senate, nor more than once, until every member choosing to speak has spoken.

44. No question shall be debated until it has been stated by the presiding officer, and the mover shall have the right to explain his views in preference to any Senator.

45. During any debate any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may rise and speak to the orders of the Senate if they are transgressed, in case the presiding officer does not so rise and speak, but if the presiding officer stands up at any time, he is first to be heard, and while he is standing Senators shall keep their seats.

46. No Senator shall be allowed to be interrupted while speaking, except on points of order, to correct erroneous statements, or for a Senator to answer any questions that may be stated by the Senator speaking.

47 (a). The following motions shall not be debated or spoken to except as hereinafter provided:

(i) A motion to adjourn.

(ii) A motion calling for a vote on the pending question.

(iii) A motion calling for a vote on the previous question.

(iv) A motion to suspend the Rules.

(v) A motion to close debate.

(vi) A motion to limit debate.

(vii) A motion to extend the limit of debate.

(viii) A motion to reconsider matters not debatable.

(ix) A motion to change, in case of two or more special and continuing orders.

47 (b). Upon the following motions, the mover shall be allowed five minutes to speak to his motion, to state the reasons therefor, and one member opposed to the motion shall be allowed a like time to speak to the motion, to state his objections:

(i) A motion for a special and continuing order.

(ii) A motion to appeal a ruling of the Chair.

47 (c). When a question not debatable is before the Senate, all incidental questions arising after it is stated shall be decided and settled without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise. This same Rule shall apply to all incidental questions arising after the presiding officer has put any question to the Senate.

47 (d). A motion to strike out, being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to insert, nor a motion to strike out and insert.

47 (e). When a question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to pass by for the day, for the pending question, for the previous question, or to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein set out.

47 (f). Except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of Rule 47 (e), a primary motion may be substituted once.

XIV.

Reconsideration.

48 (a). A question arising on a Senate Bill, Senate Resolution or Senate Joint Resolution being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the course of that session of the General Assembly be drawn again into debate, unless a motion to reconsider a question which has been decided has been made by a Senator voting with the prevailing side on the same day on which the vote was taken.

However, if such action has not been communicated to the House, a motion to reconsider may be made within the next two days of actual session of the Senate thereafter.

Unless unanimous consent of the members of the Senate present and voting on a motion for a second or subsequent reconsideration be granted, no measure being once determined may be reconsidered more than once by the Senate during that session of the General Assembly.

When any question is decided in the negative simply for the want of a majority of the whole Senate, any Senator who was absent from the city of Richmond or detained from his seat by sickness at the time of the vote sought to be reconsidered may move its reconsideration.

A Senator desiring such reconsideration shall confer with the Chair of the Committee on Rules, or in his absence the next listed available member of the Committee on Rules, who shall consult with the chief spokesman for and against the measure, if there is any, and thereafter such Chair or next listed member may direct the Clerk to defer or expedite the transmittal of the action of the Senate on the measure to the House of Delegates to permit the making of such motion for reconsideration; however, in no event shall such deferral of transmittal hereunder be for more than one legislative day.

This rule shall not preclude consideration of any House Bill, House Joint Resolution, or House amendment to a Senate Bill or a Senate Joint Resolution, regardless of whether such House measure involves a question already determined.

48 (b). If the Committee has possession of a bill or resolution, a motion to reconsider in Committee may be made no later than the next Committee meeting.

However, a motion to reconsider at a second or subsequent meeting may be made with unanimous consent if the Committee has possession of the bill or resolution.

XV.

Suspension of Rules.

49. Any rule of the Senate may only, except where otherwise provided by the Constitution of Virginia, be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting. These Rules may be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting. If the Senate is meeting due to a state emergency or enemy attack pursuant to Article IV, Section 8 of the Constitution, then the Rules of the Senate may be suspended by a vote of two-thirds of the quorum.

XVI.

Appeals.

50. If the presiding officer rules on any matter under these Rules by his own act, or upon request of any Senator, and if any Senator objects to the ruling of the presiding officer, then an appeal to the Senate shall lie. The appeal shall be stated as a motion to sustain the ruling of the Chair. To overrule the ruling of the Chair shall require a majority of those present and voting. A ruling of the Chair shall not be overruled on appeal by a tie vote.

XVII.

Committee of the Whole.

51. The Senate may go into the Committee of the Whole only upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present and voting. When the Senate shall resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, the President shall leave the Chair and the President pro tempore shall preside in the Committee. If the President pro tempore is absent from the Senate, then the Senate shall elect a chair to preside therein.

The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the Senate. The Rules of the Senate shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable. The proceedings in the Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the Senate, except so far as reported to the Senate by the Chair of the Committee.

XVIII.

Campaign Advocacy Contribution Limitations.

52. During any regular, special, or reconvened session of the General Assembly, no member of the Senate shall use his name or title or authorize another person to use the Senator's name or title, orally or in writing, to solicit monetary contributions if any part of the contributions would be used to pay for an advocacy campaign conducted through mass mailings, e-mails, telephone calls or other communication media to influence the outcome of legislative action by the General Assembly. This rule shall not apply during any recess of a special session. Nothing in this rule shall prohibit a Senator from using his name or title or authorizing another person to use the Senator's name or title in the letterhead or roster listing the membership of an organization.

XIX.

Senate Ethics and Senate Ethics Advisory Panel.

53 (a). The Senate Ethics Advisory Panel shall be composed of five members: three of whom shall be former members of the Senate; and two of whom shall be citizens of the Commonwealth who have not previously held such office. No member shall engage in activities requiring him to register as a lobbyist under § 2.2-422 of the Code of Virginia during his tenure on the Panel. The members shall be nominated by the Committee on ~~Privileges and Elections~~ Rules of the Senate and confirmed by the Senate. Nominations shall be made so as to assure bipartisan representation on the Panel.

53 (b). Whenever the Clerk receives a report of the Senate Ethics Advisory Panel or a resolution seeking the reprimand, censure, or expulsion of a Senator, the report shall be referred forthwith to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The Committee shall consider the matter, conduct such hearings as it shall deem necessary, and, in all cases report its determination of the matter, together with its recommendations and reasons for its resolves, to the Senate. If the Committee deems disciplinary action warranted, it shall report a resolution offered by a member of the Committee to express such action. Any such resolution reported by the Committee shall be a privileged matter. The Senate as a whole shall then consider the resolution, and, by recorded vote, either defeat the resolution or take one or more of the following actions: (i) reprimand the Senator with a majority vote of the Senators present and voting; (ii) censure the Senator and place the Senator last in seniority with a majority vote of the elected membership of the Senate; (iii) expel the Senator with a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of the Senate; or (iv) refer the matter to the Attorney General for appropriate action with a majority vote of the Senators present and voting, in the event the Senate finds a knowing violation of § 30-108 or subsection C of § 30-110 of the Code of Virginia.

XX.

Court of Impeachment.

54. When, pursuant to the Constitution, the Senate sits as a Court for the trial of impeachments, the Rules covering the same shall be as the Rules of Procedure and Practice in the United States Senate when sitting on Impeachment Trials.

XXI.

Votes Required.

55. The votes required shall be as set forth in the Appendix to these Rules.

XXII.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Matthew D. Bates, Centenary United Methodist Church, Richmond, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and all-compassionate God, we pause in these moments to humble ourselves before You. We acknowledge You as the creator and source of life and its many blessings. Whatever differences we may have of background, social standing, personal history, or political philosophy, we acknowledge that we share a connection to the One who creates, guides, and seeks to bless us all. In the midst of the important discussions and deliberations of this body, let us never forget what we share in common.

You have blessed this Commonwealth with a rich history, gifted leaders past and present, natural beauty, and bountiful resources. Let us use these gifts for the good of all. Make us wise and careful stewards of these blessings.

We pray for all the citizens of this Commonwealth. Bless each person with a sense of purpose and dignity. Be with our sisters and brothers who have plenty. Fill them with gratitude for their blessings and use them to bless others. Bless and keep those who are homeless, sick, hungry, in prison, or without hope or consolation in the midst of a time of trial.

Now, we thank You for these servants who offer themselves to serve the common good of the citizens of Virginia. Bless them in their labors. Fill their hearts and minds with a burning desire to do justice and love mercy on behalf of the people of Virginia. Grant them clarity of thought, purity of intention, and transparency in their actions. Bless the deliberations of this hour. Allow the members of this body to be as eager to understand as they are to be understood. Let the members of this body find ways to model virtue in their work on behalf of those they serve, that we all might be inspired to speak, act, and live in ways that promote the health of this great Commonwealth now and in the days to come. Amen.

WHEREAS, the restricting time limit for the Equal Rights Amendment ratification is in the resolving clause and is not a part of the amendment proposed by Congress and already ratified by 35 states; and

WHEREAS, constitutional equality for women and men continues to be a timely issue in the United States and worldwide, and a number of other nations have achieved constitutional equality for their women and men; and

WHEREAS, since Congress passed a time extension for the Equal Rights Amendment on October 20, 1978, Congress has demonstrated that a time limit in a resolving clause can be disregarded if it is not a part of the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, Congress is in a unique position to judge the tenor of the nation, to be aware of the political, social, and economic factors affecting the nation, and to be aware of the importance to the nation of the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, if an amendment to the United States Constitution has been proposed by two-thirds of both houses of Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, it is for Congress to determine the validity of the state ratifications occurring after a time limit in the resolving clause, but not in the amendment itself; now, therefore, be it

President of the Senate

Clerk of the Senate

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Jonathan Stells, House of Prayer, Chesterfield, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Our Father who art in heaven, we humbly come before You asking for Your presence and guidance, not so much in a flourish of ostentatious words, but with sincerity and in awareness of our great need. Almighty God, You say that if anyone lacks wisdom that we should ask of You and that You will give it generously without finding fault. And so we ask for wisdom, so that we can walk in Your ways and in Your purposes. We know there is no authority except that which You have established, so we pray for our leaders today.

Heavenly Father, we ask that You, being ever faithful, would empower this governing body with the strength to make difficult, yet moral and just decisions, that will set the course for the laws of this Commonwealth and the well-being of its citizens. We ask that You, being the very definition of love, would give us the heart, the compassion, and the grace to see and know what our state can do to help all of its citizens. We ask that You would be our leader and our compass, pointing this body in the direction that is morally righteous and civically just, so that our great Commonwealth can flourish in all seasons and at all times.

As You have been faithful in the past, from the founding of our nation through all its great trials and triumphs, to this present day, we pray that You would be faithful to build within us a spirit of Godly unity, of love, and of peace. Apart from You, we can do nothing. But with You, all things are possible. As this body of elected officials endeavors to do all the good that they can, I pray that You would bless them and keep them, that You would make Your face shine upon them and be gracious to them, that You would lift up Your countenance upon them, and give them and our great state of Virginia peace. We ask it in Your precious and holy Name. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Black, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnavant, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougle, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Vogel, Wagner, Wexton.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Gerry Creedon, Holy Family Catholic Church, Dale City, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

God of all people, send us a spirit of unity and mutual regard. In a time when our society is divided by political differences and polarized public discourse, bring us back, Lord, to the ways of civility. Help us again to be Virginia's gentlewomen and Virginia gentlemen. "For the believer," Pope Francis said, "dialogue is not secondary but an indispensable expression of faith. Dialogue is a school of humanity, a builder of unity, which helps to create a society founded on tolerance and mutual respect." Through honest conversation and diplomacy may we find the path to a common purpose and a higher ground. May the aisles between us present no barriers to the work we can only accomplish when we do this work together.

In this shared faith may we find our common weal and a more perfect union.

Peace be upon us. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnivant, Ebbin, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougale, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Wagner, Wexton.

A quorum was present.

After the roll call, Senators Black, Edwards, and Vogel notified the Clerk of their presence.

On motion of Senator Deeds, the reading of the Journal was waived.

The Reverend Dr. Jon Heeringa, First Presbyterian on Court Square, Harrisonburg, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the Scriptures tell us to offer petitions, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving for all people and particularly for those in authority that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness. So today that is what I do. I thank You that You have raised up each member here for just such a time as this. I pray that You would bless this Senate with Your wisdom that we may indeed live peaceful and quiet lives. I pray that You would cause them to seek the good in one another that the common good might be advanced. I pray that their attitude would be the same as that of Christ Jesus who came not to be served but to serve. I pray that Your people would hold them up in prayer and make their service a joy. May You protect them and watch over their families and loved ones. May they find joy and fulfillment in their work and may this Commonwealth be blessed because of them. Hear now our prayer, for Your name's sake. Amen.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 2016

The Senate met at 2:00 p.m. in Commemorative Session in the General Court Chamber of the Reconstructed Capitol at Williamsburg, Virginia, pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 173, and was called to order by the President pro tempore, Stephen D. Newman.

Senator A. Donald McEachin, Ninth Senatorial District, Henrico, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, we thank You for this day. We thank You for this wonderful country that we call the United States of America. Today we celebrate our commonality as we focus on Your servant our patriarch Abraham.

We acknowledge his frailties as he often used his family to protect himself. At the same time we acknowledge his faithfulness as he prepared to sacrifice all that he had for Your glory.

Father God, let us always focus on our commonalities and let us always remember we are all Your children. When we look at each other let us see each other's humanity and if we cannot do that, let us see You in each of us.

And let the children of God say, Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnavant, Edwards, Favola, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougle, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Wexton.

The Honorable James S. Gilmore III

President of The College of William and Mary in Virginia:

W. Taylor Reveley III

The President of the Joint Assembly requested Dr. Mitchell B. Reiss, President and Chief Executive Officer of The Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, to address the Joint Assembly.

Dr. Reiss addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Senator Newman; Governors Gilmore, Wilder and Baliles; distinguished members of the Senate and House of Delegates, ladies and gentlemen.

It's a privilege to welcome you to Colonial Williamsburg, and to Virginia's restored Colonial Capitol -- where you might say the very first shots of the Revolution were fired.

I know, I know -- the first actual shots of the Revolution were fired at Lexington in 1775.

This is true, in a literal sense.

But in a different sense, one could argue that an impassioned country lawyer named Patrick Henry unleashed the first volley a decade earlier -- right here -- when he attacked and denounced the Stamp Act, on this very site.

It was also here that George Mason proposed the Virginia Declaration of Rights -- a critical precursor to our Declaration of Independence -- embedding the natural rights of citizens in the highest laws of the land.

And it was here, in May of 1776, that the Virginia Convention voted to ask the Continental Congress to declare all 13 colonies free and independent -- setting in motion a revolution that would launch a Nation, and forever change the world.

Today, Colonial Williamsburg endures as a critical bridge between America's formative past and our complicated present.

Every day here, we bring to life those extraordinary historic scenes and events -- through interpretation and preservation, yes, but also through conversations with the thousands of men, women and children who visit us every year.

From racial equality to the limits of federal authority, the debates and struggles of America's earliest generations continue to reverberate in our lives, our culture, and our politics.

It is this Foundation's mission to deepen our understanding of these issues, their origins, and their evolution through the years.

With that understanding comes a greater appreciation not only of the wisdom, but also of the limitations of America's first leaders. We all know that even the most revered of our Founders were not omniscient. They did not have all the answers. And to their credit, they knew it. The quest on which they embarked -- to form a more perfect union -- was necessarily aspirational. Our democratic republic began, and will forever remain, a constant work-in-progress.

It is to that work which we, as Americans, and as Virginians, must recommit ourselves today, and every day.

I think it goes without saying, these are not easy times for our Nation. We are facing serious threats from abroad. We are experiencing serious economic challenges at home. Over the last year, we have witnessed breakdowns in race relations throughout our country, and terrifying mass shootings.

On such realities we can all agree. But that cannot be the end to our agreement.

Much media attention has been paid to the deep divisions between our political parties, the polarization of our electorate, and the resulting dysfunction in Washington.

There is truth in these observations, but it bears remembering that such discord has been with us since the earliest days of our Nation.

For all of George Washington's hatred of partisanship and "factions," the legendary feud between two of his Cabinet members -- Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton -- all-but elevated partisanship to the level of blood sport.

The division between them both fueled and reflected deep divisions throughout the fledgling country -- inspiring fears about its long-term prospects for survival.

And yet survive we did. Not only did America withstand these internal rifts, it flourished despite them. And arguably, because of them -- or at least, because of our ability to rise above them in the interest of those over-arching values and principles on which our Nation was founded.

And so we have, again and again.

Those fundamental values still have the power to unite us to this day.

After all, we are Americans -- we are the masters of our collective fate. In the end, we are only as immovable as we choose to be.

That does not mean the challenges are not great. And I realize that the issues weighing on our Commonwealth -- and the leaders here in this room -- are no less pressing, complex or politically volatile than those we face as a Nation.

Education; health care; gun ownership; ethics reform; economic stimulus -- every one of these issues comes to you wrapped in the heated rhetoric of partisanship and the expectations of special interests.

Every time you place the interests of the Commonwealth above the rest, you do all of your constituents extremely proud.

Those constituents include, incidentally, the 2,500 people employed here at Colonial Williamsburg. I spoke earlier about the historical significance of this Foundation, but I would be remiss if I did not also mention its critical role in the economy and community life of our region.

All told, we are responsible for more than 8,000 jobs and $500 million of economic activity each year. Over the next few years, we will invest tens of millions of dollars to make Colonial Williamsburg even better, and stronger -- from expanding our dynamic corps of costumed interpreters to winning back the fifth star at the Williamsburg Inn.

In other words, Colonial Williamsburg has a great deal at stake in the work you are doing, and the decisions you are making. We want you to be successful. We need you to be successful.

So on behalf of everyone at Colonial Williamsburg, thank you for taking on the essential work of governing. It is our honor to host your quadrennial commemorative session here today.

While you are with us, I hope you find both comfort and inspiration here, where the grandest experiment in political freedom and representative democracy first took root.

Thank you very much.

The President of the Joint Assembly thanked Dr. Reiss for addressing the Joint Assembly.

The President of the Joint Assembly requested Mr. W. Taylor Reveley III, President of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, to address the Joint Assembly.

Mr. Reveley addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

In the Beginning there was Virginia, and Virginia Led

Mr. Speaker, Senators, Delegates, Governors Emeriti, President Reiss, other divinities, and friends all, it's grand to have you once again in the Colonial Capital.

In the beginning there was Virginia, the Old Dominion -- at least in the beginning of the English presence in North America. In the beginning, Virginia's territory was vast. It included a sweeping spread of what became the United States, plus healthy chunks of Canada and Mexico as well. In short, Virginia came first, and it was huge.

Many states later sprang from the Old Dominion's loins. Some like Maryland, the Carolinas, Kentucky and West Virginia acknowledge their ancestry. Other states are more reluctant to acknowledge from whence they sprang, despite the fact that all those south of Wyoming, from sea to sea, were once part of Virginia.

Even the dulcet island of Bermuda, which would have marvelously enhanced Virginia tourism, was once, very briefly, in the fold.

So, Massachusetts, any way you chew it Virginia has temporal pride of place. Virginia is more deeply rooted in America's soil and history than any other part of our country.

Indeed, we're gathered today in the Historic Triangle formed by Jamestown, Williamsburg, and Yorktown, all within spitting distance of one another. This Triangle, this small bit of geography, has deeper and more important roots in America's past than any other bit of turf in our country.

Here in the Triangle, at Jamestown, English colonists established their first permanent foothold in America in 1607, leading the way for waves of colonists yet to come.

Here in 1619, Virginia's House of Burgesses first met, setting in motion what has become the oldest continuous law making body in the New World, of which the General Assembly is now the lineal descendent, with citizen legislators who serve in the grand tradition of Virginia leaders who leave their regular jobs from time to time to care for the public interest.

In short, Virginia began representative government in America. The House of Burgesses was the first elected deliberative body in America. Senators and Delegates in this historic chamber today are the stewards of that great inheritance in our time.

Also in 1619, here in the Historic Triangle, began our country's ongoing passage through multicultural life with the arrival of the first Africans in Virginia. Then Native Americans, European Americans, African Americans, people with radically different backgrounds and perspectives, and with very different social and political stations, were thrown together in the Old Dominion to work out their futures, often tragically, as the European Americans in their growing numbers and strength pushed aside, often decimated, the Native Americans and enslaved the African Americans.

Here in the Triangle was the first flowering of free enterprise in America. The colonists came to the Old Dominion in the early 1600s to pursue their fortunes, to make money, not for religious reasons. Once the cultivation of tobacco got underway, they began making money, bundles of it.

Here seminal thought took place about the optimum nature of government for a free people and about the practical politics of beginning a revolution, leading to the creation of our nation and ultimately the decisive battle for our independence at Yorktown.

All in all, the Historic Triangle where we are now gathered has seen a remarkable number of great American leaders in action, and it has been a place where profoundly important American history has been made.

But so what? Truly, friends, does it make any difference these days amid the relentless technological advances, the enormous societal flux, and the pervasively bad mood of the early 21st century -- amid all this does it really matter that Virginia came first and that Jamestown, Williamsburg, and Yorktown saw gifted humans do compelling deeds long ago? Really, what difference does it make if a state, or for that matter a university or family, has been around for a very long time and moved mountains in the past?

I've given this question some thought.

To judge by behavior, we humans do put stock in things with some age on them, especially if age comes with past distinction. So we Virginians carefully police the fact that Jamestown came first, not Plymouth Rock. Our colonists were here a whole 13 years before the Mayflower got blown off course and the Pilgrims ended up straggling ashore on the barren rocks of what became Massachusetts.

We Virginians also point out that the first thanksgiving in America took place at Berkeley on the James River in 1619. The Pilgrims didn't have their feast with neighboring tribes until several years thereafter, although our friends in Massachusetts have obscured that fact by effectively marketing a sweet vision of Pilgrims at table with Indians.

Institutions, such as William & Mary, celebrate their birthdays every 25 years, with special fervor on occasions denominated in the 100s. Most entities, as soon as they've been around awhile, begin to celebrate their anniversaries with growing passion as the years roll on.

Perhaps consideration of our mortality encourages us to gravitate toward age-old organizations. Knowing that we live comparatively brief lives, we welcome the chance to align ourselves with institutions that share our values and will continue to serve them long after we have shuffled off our mortal coils. This gives us a tie to a future we'll never experience while providing us the security of an anchor to the past.

But even more the point, it seems that we care about venerable institutions like the Commonwealth of Virginia because there is a presumption of quality inherent in age. People who belong to venerable institutions feel distinguished themselves because of the association. They are nourished vicariously by the institution's deep roots and flourish under the glory of its ancient foliage. They feel linked to past generations, on common ground with those who also have been nourished by the institution in earlier years. This is especially true when those who have gone before did glittering deeds.

But why presume age and quality go hand in hand? In my view, age suggests staying power, the ability to keep going through thick and thin. It suggests the capacity over time to survive adversity and seize opportunity. Age often engenders the poise and the dignity that come from surmounting countless flaps and crises, having been there and done that for generations, having seen it all. And age brings the wisdom born of experience, especially the knowledge what not to change even as everything else does.

Whether states, universities or families, some institutions move powerfully from one generation to the next. Others find themselves becalmed, or founder. Reasons for success or failure are legion. But those institutions that prevail usually take strength from their past. They remember their heroes, their times of peril and triumph, and their basic beliefs. The importance of the past as a source of confidence and poise grows with the turmoil of the present.

The struggles and mistakes of the past serve as a useful guide. They reassure and comfort. Things come and go, not always happily. People get angry. But, if successful, the institution moves forward, tempered by its passage through the fires. The inevitable fires are usually damped by the respect and affection traditional among those who share an institutional home.

Since 1607, Virginia has been through some rough times, indeed some terrible times. Slavery, secession, and segregation come quickly to mind. Each took a terrible toll on the Commonwealth.

Then, too, there is the matter of political and economic power. In our country's first national census, Virginia was the most populous state, almost twice the size of the next largest. Virginia was preeminent politically, supplying four of the country's first five presidents, the brilliant run of Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, and Virginia supplied the great chief justice of the United States, John Marshall.

Now, I must pause to note, lest I not be allowed back on campus, George Washington had intimate ties to William & Mary, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe were among William & Mary's undergraduate alumni and John Marshall was among William & Mary's first law students. Not for nothing does William & Mary call itself the Alma Mater of the Nation.

But to my message. Even amid the splendor of Virginia's political and economic power, the seeds of decline had been sown. Intense cultivation of tobacco for generation after generation had exhausted the Commonwealth's soil, leaving parts of her territory barren: in the words of one observer, there was "a scene of desolation that baffled description -- farm after farm worn out, washed and gullied, so that scarcely an acre could be found in a place fit for cultivation." With the soil exhausted, there followed a massive exodus from Virginia between the Revolutionary War and Civil War, perhaps a million of our citizens left to seek their fortunes amid more fertile land to the west and south. With the exodus, Virginia's congressional delegation was cut in half, and its political and economic power waned, though it remained preeminent in the South.

Of course, Virginia has also enjoyed many robustly good times. Those good times in recent decades have been funded in meaningful part by the taxpayers of other states through the federal government's enormous defense spending in the Commonwealth, especially Northern Virginia and Hampton Roads. Now this tribute from out of state may have been seemly recognition that, in the beginning, all America was Virginia, but still it has had a quality of living on borrowed time.

Time has run out. Out of state support -- mostly the beneficence of the Department of Defense -- has now declined seriously. In significant measure, it is likely a thing of the past, unless enormous new threats to national security arise. Thus, it seems that we Virginians must scramble to rebuild our economic strength. We'll need to scramble more than Virginia is accustomed to scrambling since the Second World War to expand existing businesses and attract new ones, to develop emerging opportunities in technology and cybersecurity, to drive more international trade through our magnificent port, to lure more tourists to our extraordinary cultural and recreational attractions, to see to crucial infrastructure (highways, bridges and tunnels are high on the list), to do all sorts of things, including of course, figure out, soon, how to sustain our schools -- K12, community colleges, four year colleges and research universities.

None of this will be easy, and it will all take leadership. There simply isn't enough public money to go around. Creative problem solving, as well as new ways of doing business, will be essential.

You and I are in the business of leadership. We're in the wheelhouse charged with the responsibility and obligation to do our level best to make good things happen.

I believe citizens -- people -- care about being led, even when they seem to disdain leaders.

Political ambition, the determination to lead, is the bone marrow of a functioning democracy.

It's inescapable! Leaders matter. It's rare that anything out of the ordinary actually gets done unless a few people, leaders, cut through the fog of competing priorities and ever-present uncertainties, identify the key contemporary needs, and persuade people to move effectively to meet them.

Leaders do spot things that need to be done. They marshal the troops to pursue specific goals, they keep the chase going by helping those involved work out their conflicts and deal with the tradeoffs. Leaders keep morale high even when the going gets rough. And they strike a sound balance between visionary optimism, on the one hand, and inescapable realities on the other.

They don't let a quixotic search for the perfect stamp out the realization of the good. They don't confuse their own policy preferences with the matters of principle about which there can be no compromise. Indeed, they are masters of compromise when crucial to advance the mission. Constitutionally, and thus practically, compromise is essential to the functioning of our American government of shared powers among the branches.

So, Senators and Delegates of the august Commonwealth of Virginia, leaders, your mission is crucially important, and it's vital that you take great satisfaction from helping push our extraordinarily wonderful Commonwealth forward.

Along the way, it's seemly to draw strength and confidence from the fact that you do lead Virginia, the Old Dominion, which did come first among all the states in the union. We can drink deeply from the rich well of our Commonwealth's history and its pantheon of heroes. There is prestige and confidence in having been first. There is wisdom and staying power, grace under pressure, the calm dignity that comes from having been there, done that, and lived to tell the tale—all this and more accompanies temporal primacy.

But of course it's also important that we do all this in a non jackass-like fashion, without pomposity, with due regard for human frailty and the absurd. My maternal grandmother, whom I loved dearly, was a Virginia gentlewoman if ever there were one. Grandma was very interested in genealogy. It was she to whom all the family records and papers gravitated. Grandma also had a wicked sense of humor. She loved to tell a tale that I'll share and then subside.

There was a lady of new wealth who decided she needed to know her ancestors, the better to burnish her social standing. She hired a genealogist. After a time he returned to report his findings. All was well, he said, with one exception. A great uncle, inconveniently, was a convicted murderer. He'd been executed in state prison, dying strapped in the electric chair. The newly wealthy, socially hopeful woman was aghast, aghast! Not to worry, said the genealogist. He'd handle it. Soon he returned with a beautiful leather-bound account of the lady's forebears. She anxiously turned to the passage about her murderous great uncle. It stated simply that he had held the chair of applied electricity at a leading state institution and died in harness.

In the beginning there was Virginia, friends, and Virginia led. So inspired, we must lead in our time.

Dear Lord, we come to You today and we are grateful that You give us direction when we ask. We are grateful that You lead us when we need to be led. We acknowledge that without You, all of our efforts are in vain. We pray for a clear path set before us.

We come today Lord with the decisions of this great state and we humbly place them before You. As we move throughout our day, place checks in our spirit, give us confirmation in our spirit and lead us to make decisions that You would have us make.

As these men and women represent You, Lord, let the people be assured that these state leaders are being led by one much higher than they. By the One who bestows the bountiful blessings on this state. Lord, we pray for prosperity, a strong economy, peace, and a state that depends on You for blessing. Go ahead of us Lord and we follow.

Lord, we pray Proverbs 3:5-6, that when, "We trust in You with all of our heart and lean not unto our own understanding; in all of our ways, we acknowledge You and we trust that You shall direct our paths." In the name of Jesus, I pray. Amen.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

Cantor Jason Kaufman, Beth El Hebrew Congregation, Alexandria, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Creator of all life, I offer this prayer on behalf of those who are gathered in this room whom we entrust to uplift and improve the lives of the residents of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

“Justice, justice shall you pursue,” the book of Deuteronomy demands.

May we hear this call and devote ourselves to lives of service.

God, all are created in Your image.

May we see You in every face. May we see You in every family. May we see You in every community.

May the struggle of one be the concern of all.

Help us to demolish the barriers and ceilings that limit us and prevent us from reaching our full potential.

Let us honor the generations that came before, by teaching our history, and may we heed the words of Virginia’s son, President Thomas Jefferson that “laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind.”

So Justice, justice shall YOU pursue.

May this justice create equality of educational and economic opportunity.

May this justice create safety and security, and may we always be generous and hospitable to those in need.

And together, may we create a world where future generations only know: “liberty and justice for all.”

And let us say, Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Steve Taylor, Nomini Baptist Church, Montross, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Good day, esteemed gentlemen and ladies of the Senate of Virginia, staff, and visitors. I bring you greetings from the Northern Neck of Virginia, the watermen and farmers, the families, the teachers, the outdoorsmen and children and the seniors.

For our invocation I would like to consider the immortal words of the Apostle Paul who said:

And now I will show you the most excellent way.

If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal.

If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have the faith that can move mountains but have not love, I am nothing.

If I give all I possess to the poor and surrender my very body to the flames but have not love, I gain nothing.

Love is patient; love is kind. It does not envy. It does not boast; it is not proud.

It is not rude; it is not self-serving; it is not easily angered; it keeps no record of wrongs.

Love does not delight in evil but rejoices in the truth.

It always protects; it always trusts; always hopes; always perseveres.

In the end, these three remain—faith, hope, and love, but the greatest of these is love.

If we would just bow our heads for a moment, exhort these fine individuals to recall the reason they do what they do: legislating, governing and leading is serious business and it's tough stuff. Let us keep in mind why we do what we do not for the love of money, not for the lust of power or personal gain, not for the delight of winning while the other side loses but rather to come together to serve those in love.

We ask this in this task that you will be aided in all things by the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Black, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnavant, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougle, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Vogel.

A quorum was present.

After the roll call, Senators Wagner and Wexton notified the Clerk of their presence.

On motion of Senator Alexander, the reading of the Journal was waived.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Jeanne Pupke, First Unitarian Universalist Church, Richmond, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

God of many names, source of all goodness, source of all hope, we offer thanks because we are blessed with abundance, good people, good resources, good leaders, good coaches. By these, You tell us we have enough to do good in this world.

Teach us to trust the sufficiency of these blessings.

Place in our hearts and minds humility and wisdom, commitment and persistence, so that whatever difficult work awaits, whatever challenges seem insolvable, we undertake them believing Your path will open and Your way be known to us.

Oh God who shows us a way out of "no way" and bids us to love one another in every undertaking, we pray to build our Commonwealth according to Your ways, to serve one another and to support all those who govern.

God of love, hear our prayer. Blessed be, ashe, amin, Amen.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2016

The Senate met at 11:00 a.m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Honorable Sam Rasoul, Roanoke, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Shall we pray, in the name of God most gracious and most merciful.

Coming into Richmond, a billboard on 95 reminds us Jesus said to love and pray for our enemy. This duty tests our character.

We ask God for the strength to understand that our faith is not an end, rather a means to the end of serving our Creator by caring for all of humanity.

What better way to serve that end, than by looking our adversary in the eye and having the fortitude to intentionally and unequivocally cherish them with every fiber of our being.

Lord, give us the strength to realize this love for our enemy does not come from a place of weakness, rather from a source of strength.

Give us the wisdom to realize it is in these trying moments when emotions are high that the boldest profession of our faith is having the courage to love every single one of Your creations.

May peace be upon you all. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Black, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnivant, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Howell, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougle, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Vogel, Wexton.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Jacob Sahms, Blandford United Methodist Church, Petersburg, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, we thank You for all of the ways that You have blessed us, both individually and as leaders of the state of Virginia. We ask that You bring order in the midst of chaos, bring peace in the midst of conflict, and bring wisdom in the midst of difficult decisions.

Help us to speak for those who have no voice. Guide us in making decisions that serve the greatest good. Forgive us for our faults and show us how to forgive others that we might grow to embody the qualities we long to share.

On this day, lift us to the highest standards in thought and deed, that we might shine as a light to those in the midst of darkness. Bond us together beyond our differences to find those things that unite us. In Your unfailing love for each of us, help us to create space where all have enough, and where hope abounds for what could be. Amen.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Dr. Dwight Riddick, Gethsemane Baptist Church, Newport News, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

O mighty God, Creator and Sustainer of the universe, we give You thanks for the gift of this day. On this first day of the Lenten season, cause us to pause and reflect upon You, our Creator, and to consider our innermost thoughts. I ask that You would extend towards us Your grace and Your mercy. We beg Your forgiveness, and we thank You for Your long-suffering.

As this nation celebrates African American History Month, we thank You for the pioneers who sacrificed their lives and shed their blood so that all might have a taste of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Help us, O God, to demonstrate our faith in You, to live in harmony with this earth over which You have made us stewards and to live in harmony with each other.

Be with our Commander in Chief, the President of these United States. Remember the honorable Governor and Lieutenant Governor of this great Commonwealth. Especially, I pray today for each member of the Senate of Virginia and all those who assist them. Thank You for each of them who have heeded the call to serve You by serving humanity. Grant unto them the wisdom, courage, fortitude, and tenacity to govern with justice and equality. Cause us always to be sensitive to the needs of the broken hearted and the downtrodden.

At last, I pray for the many men and women in uniform and their families who serve in harm's way to guard and to protect this nation. O God, hasten the day when we will beat our swords into plowshares, our spears into pruning hooks. Hasten the day when nation shall not lift up a sword against nation. Hasten the day when we will study war no more.

This I ask in the name of the one who orders our steps. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Black, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnavant, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougle, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Vogel, Wagner, Wexton.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

James Ronald Smith, Poet Laureate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

“Angelus: Chesapeake Bay”: This is a little poem about fishing and some other things. An angelus is a devotion said at morning, noon, and sunset. So:

Angelus: Chesapeake Bay

This is where the creek empties, where the speck spook
 in the eelgrass. I'm no fisherman and everybody knows it.

      Heavy line, light
 lure—how much of my life
       does that sum up?
       Shuffle and shoal in the purblind glare. We haul in rocks and reds—or they do, mostly.
 The air's thick with salt and funk.

      Hot, I say.
 The captain's grave eyes...
       It's five years now. I'm still out there,
 a seagull, hovering angel watching them reeling me in.

May our work here today be upright and fruitful.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Black, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Cosgrove, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnavant, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Lucas, Marsden, McDougle, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Vogel, Wagner, Wexton.

A quorum was present.

Our Father in heaven, we acknowledge You as the Creator and sovereign ruler of this universe. We thank You for Your great love You have showered upon us. The psalmist said, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." (Psalm 33:12)

You have instituted human government for order and for protection. You have given us the opportunity to rule and legislate as a stewardship. "The powers that be are ordered of God. Rulers are God's ministers." (Romans 13:4)

We are exhorted to pray for all that are in authority, so that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life. (1 Timothy 2:1, 2)

We pray for these men and women, our Senators. We thank You for their commitment to public service. We thank You for all they do.

May they seek the courage and wisdom that comes from You and may You give them that wisdom that comes from You alone. May we remember that "righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

May You bless this Senate in their work. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Father God, we come to You this day giving You all of the glory, honor and praise that is rightfully due Your name. I thank You Father God for the very breath You give us. I thank You that hope remains because You are our hope!

We need You God! Your word says that apart from You we can do nothing, but with You all things are possible. I ask that You touch these precious men and women, giving them Your wisdom, direction, grace and strength. Help us Father! Lay Your hand upon us. Guide us into Your truth. Oh remind us God, as my grandmother used to say, that "We are not our own!" We are here for Your purpose, to serve You and to serve those You created.

We love You, God. Draw us, hold us, fill us, keep us by Your power. May Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. We humbly ask all of these things in the name of You, our Faithful Father and soon coming King. Amen.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Dr. William Langford, Great Bridge Baptist Church, Chesapeake, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Dear Father, for each of these representatives, I give You thanks and ask You to bless them, protect them, and use them to bless others.

You have said if wisdom is lacking, ask and You will give it generously. So I pray for these representatives to be filled with wisdom as they make decisions that impact the citizens of our Commonwealth.

Surround them with people who will speak truth to their ears, and who place principle above temporary favor.

As they take on the issues of this day, grant them clarity and discernment, the ability to recognize limitations, and the courage to depend on You, for You have said, "God resists the proud, but pours out grace on the humble."

Give us the assurance, that whenever we stand resolved to seek Your wisdom and act on Your leadership, that You will indeed bless our tomorrows.

I pray these things in the name of Jesus, who is eternally faithful and trustworthy. Amen.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2016

The Senate met at 10:30 a.m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Dr. Bruce A. Gray, Richmond Fire Department, Richmond, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, You call us all, members of the Senate, members of a great variety of faith communities, and citizens all, to serve the common good, and to respect the dignity of every human being.

This task will require the very best from all of us who care about the people of Virginia. It will mean putting aside our political and cultural divisions to recognize the humanity of all people. It means taking care of the neediest among us, especially those who live on the margins of our society and communities and who tend to be forgotten, or are the targets of discrimination. Let us be seekers for justice for all people.

To accomplish this will require wisdom and courage, to put aside the politics of the moment and focus our work on the people who depend on us. Help us, O God, to put aside the fear and anger that seem to be driving our political battles. Inspire those who serve here to claim a vision for a better future for all our people. Correct those who speak of their opponents for political office as enemies. Teach us all to love our neighbors as You have called us to do.

Finally, on this day, we commend, O God, to Your loving care, Justice Antonin Scalia, who served this nation with distinction on the Supreme Court; and we ask that Your presence and strength will be with his family and loved ones as they live with their loss.

All this we ask in Your gracious and loving Name. Amen.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2016

The Senate met at 12 m. and was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Ralph S. Northam.

The Reverend Dr. Donald D. Binder, Pohick Episcopal Church, Lorton, Virginia, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, we pause here at the start of the morning hour to give thanks for the many blessings You have bestowed upon our nation and our Commonwealth, and also to remember before You the birthday today of the Father of our Country, Your servant, George Washington.

When he was a young man, he wrote out in his own hand the 110 Rules of Civility and Decent Behavior. Aided by Your wisdom and grace, he took these lessons to heart as he grew into adulthood, especially those reflected in Your call through Scripture to show reverence to You, our Creator, and respect to our neighbor in all our words and deeds. In doing so, he offered a model of honorable behavior to the soldiers who fought under him and to the citizens of the young nation who elected him as our first president—as well as to the generations that followed, down to our present day.

Bestow these same mercies upon our Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and the Senators and Delegates of this General Assembly, that as they face the many vexing challenges of our time, they may follow in Washington's example and persevere in their pursuit of the people's business with that same spirit of civility and reverence, ever mindful of the solemn charge and public trust that has been bestowed upon them.

Finally, we pray that You would kindle within all Your people our Founding Father's spirit of public service and self-sacrifice for the common good, that working together we may not only preserve, but further advance the blessings of liberty for which Washington and our Founders so mightily labored. Amen.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Alexander, Barker, Black, Carrico, Chafin, Chase, Dance, Deeds, DeSteph, Dunnivant, Ebbin, Edwards, Favola, Garrett, Hanger, Howell, Lewis, Locke, Marsden, McDougle, McEachin, McPike, Miller, Newman, Norment, Obenshain, Petersen, Reeves, Ruff, Saslaw, Stanley, Stuart, Sturtevant, Suetterlein, Surovell, Vogel, Wagner, Wexton.

A quorum was present.

After the roll call, Senators Cosgrove and Lucas notified the Clerk of their presence.

On motion of Senator Lewis, the reading of the Journal was waived.

Give them the courage, wisdom and understanding they will need to make good decisions that will be beneficial for today and generations to come. Keep them filled with Your spirit so that when they disagree, they will never become stagnant and carelessly disagreeable at the expense of Your people.

Today, we pray that You will shine Your favor upon every city of our state and throughout this nation. Keep all of our minds open to Your new revelations, research and inventions as You reveal to us the rising tides of change in our world. Additional funding of $327,813 each year from the general fund is required to increase the total number of funded judgeships to 406 (currently 405 judgeships are funded), consistent with the caseload study. This cost has been adjusted to reflect the savings from not filling six vacant judgeships which were funded in the budget as introduced but which are not authorized to be filled in this Item. Consideration should be given to best practices within the human resources field as well as stakeholder input from Virginia's school divisions. The Department shall report to the Senate Finance Committee by November 1, 2016 (i) a model exit survey; (ii) the next steps that have been implemented towards improving existing teacher turnover data, including but not limited to the results of exploring whether other existing datasets, such as retirement system data, may help inform the analysis, as well as whether any additional data fields have been added or are planned to be added to current data collections; and (iii) preliminary analysis of available data on teacher turnover rates by region."

Explanation:

(This amendment directs the Department of Education to develop a model exit questionnaire that school divisions may administer to exiting teachers, which was a recommendation of the January 2016 Feasibility Study on the Implementation of a Program to Track Teacher Turnover in the Commonwealth. The report found that although over half of Virginia school divisions indicate they already administer exit surveys or conduct exit interviews with departing employees, there is great variation in the survey/interview instruments.)

Explanation:

(This amendment provides funds of $4.2 million the second year, which is approximately 5 percent of the annual allocation for the 2 percent salary increase, to initiate and support efforts to attract, train, and retain quality teachers in hard-to-staff schools. The Fund will provide competitive multi-year grants to help initiate change to more dynamic teacher compensation systems designed to increase teacher quality, effectiveness, and satisfaction, and generate higher student achievement. needing qualified teachers in hard-to-staff subjects. The Fund will encourage school divisions to re-think how they combine their support with their salary structure to move away from the typical step increases based on tenure, to a system based on teacher performance and student progress.)

Explanation:

(This amendment allocates $96.4 million as flexible, additional support for classroom needs of school divisions. The amount of funding per school division is calculated in the same manner as the proposal in the introduced budget for state's share of one instructional position per elementary school and two instructional positions per middle and high school; however, this Additional Support for Classroom Needs contains no such mandate to hire additional new on-going positions. Explanation:

(This amendment reflects savings of $21.5 million from the budget as introduced, by adjusting funding based on changing the percentage At-Risk Add-On range from 2.5-14 percent of Basic Aid in the budget as introduced to 1-14 percent. The appropriations in this Item are provided to fund one-time incentive packages to attract high performing researchers with demonstrated success in commercializing their research, especially in the fields of cybersecurity, personalized medicine, or bioscience, and to create centers of excellence, where researchers can collaborate and receive support in the commercialization of their research. It is the intent of the General Assembly that this funding focus on areas of research that foster additional commerce and economic development in Virginia. The goal is to develop spin-off companies from research being conducted in Virginia that will accelerate the growth and strength of Virginia's cybersecurity, bioscience, and other industries. Any institution of higher education or related research entity pursuing this funding must provide a match of an amount at least equal to the awarded funds.

2. In addition to the funding in this Item, $25,000,000 the first year and $40,000,000 the second year in state supported debt, authorized in Item C-47, shall be made available to support the purchase of research equipment or laboratory renovations associated with the researcher incentive packages and the translation of research into commercial use. Any institution of higher education or related research entity pursuing this funding must provide a match of an amount at least equal to the awarded funds.

3. The State Council of Higher Education for Virginia shall develop guidelines for the awarding of cash grants or bond proceeds in the furtherance of the goals outlined in this Item and from funds for grants or loans provided through the Virginia Research Alliance Fund. The Council will also receive the proposals for funding for the cash grants, bond proceeds, or loans.

4. Additional funding for this Item will be provided from the Virginia Research Alliance Fund.

B.1. Any bioscience or personalized medicine-related proposal received by the Commonwealth for the purposes stated above shall be evaluated by the Virginia Biosciences Health Research Corporation (VBHRC) for merit and feasibility, while any cybersecurity-related proposal shall be evaluated by the Innovation and Entrepreneurship Investment Authority (IEIA). The VBHRC and IEIA shall identify those research proposals that support the Commonwealth's core bioscience, personalized medicine, and cybersecurity efforts through the following: 1) encouraging cooperation and collaboration among the Virginia public higher education research institutions and the private sector, 2) demonstrating commercial potential in the human health, personalized medicine, and cybersecurity fields, and (3) providing opportunities for new bioscience, personalized medicine, and cybersecurity industries and careers within Virginia.

2. Any proposals not related to bioscience or cybersecurity endeavors shall be evaluated by a panel of not more than five scientists appointed by the Virginia Academy of Science, Engineering and Medicine, who have expertise in the area covered by the proposal but who are not employed by or affiliated with any of the institutions requesting funding.

3. Any proposals receiving favorable evaluation from the VBHRC, IEIA, or the Virginia Academy of Science, Engineering and Medicine panel shall be forwarded to the Virginia Research Advisory Committee (V-RAC) for review. Upon favorable review by the V-RAC, the Governor shall authorize final approval of the project and allocate required funding, accordingly. The Director, Department of Planning and Budget, is authorized to provide for payment of these funds to any appropriately designated fiscal agent consistent with the details of the proposal upon approval of the Governor.

4. The Director, Department of Planning and Budget, is also authorized to approve treasury loans to state colleges and universities, if needed, for cash flow purposes, associated with any award involving state supported debt such that approved research proposals can proceed in a timely manner.

C. Consistent with the goals of this initiative, the Commonwealth Health Research Board shall coordinate and collaborate with the V-RAC on the research proposals it considers, ensuring it awards funding to proposals that support Virginia's core science strengths and efforts to improve human health.

D. 1. Out of this appropriation, up to $6,000,000 the first year and $6,000,000 the second year from the general fund may be used for executed and approved partnership agreements between up to four Virginia public research higher education institutions and the Global Genomics and Bioinformation Research Institute for the purposes of offering one-time incentive packages to attract high performing researchers with a history of commercialization in the fields specified in paragraph A.1. At a minimum, a private match in an amount of at least two times the investment from the state and any additional funds provided from the individual institution must be made in order to receive this funding.

2. An additional amount of $4,000,000 in the second year may be allocated from the Virginia Research Alliance.

3. This project will also be eligible to receive funding for laboratory renovations or research equipment through the process provided in this Item once an approved partnership agreement or agreements have been executed."

Explanation:

(This amendment accounts for a slightly higher federal match rate for Applied Behavioral Analysis (ABA) services in FY 2017. The introduced budget adds coverage for ABA, and other behavioral therapy services, for children in FAMIS. The federal match rate for FY 2017 was assumed to be approximately 82 percent; however, the federal government will cover 88 percent of costs. Such best practices to consider may include: (i) Washington State's "Seven Best Practices" in the emergency department; (ii) adoption of a system to electronically exchange patient information and more easily access the prescription monitoring program among emergency departments on a statewide basis, such as the EDIE system used in other states; (iii) development of a process to create care plans for super utilizers, including

Explanation:

(This amendment adds language directing the Medicaid Physician and Managed Care Liaison Committee to establish an Emergency Department Care Coordination work group and sets forth its representatives and tasks to improve coordination of care across provider types for "super utilizers" of services and identify best practices for collaborating on care across hospital and provider systems.)

Fifty percent of the slots shall be dedicated to primary care and the remainder for high-need specialties. Preference shall be given to residency programs in community and rural areas that are underserved."

Explanation:

(This amendment provides $1.3 million the first year and $2.5 million the second year from the general fund and an equivalent amount of federal matching funds to increase the number of medical residency slots funded through Medicaid. The average residency slot is estimated at $100,000 a year and this funding would create 25 the first year and an additional 25 the second year. Half of the slots would be dedicated to primary care and the remainder for high-need specialties. Preference will be given to residency programs in community and rural areas that are underserved. This is a Joint Commission on Health Care Recommendation.)

Explanation:

(This amendment reduces funding for the Medicaid program to reflect the suspension of the Affordable Care Act's tax on medical insurance companies. The excise tax began in 2014 and is allocated based on market share. The federal Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2016 (Pub. L. 114-113), was signed into law on December 18, 2015. This act suspended the tax for one year. The tax impacts Virginia because the contracted managed care companies that serve Medicaid clients are subject to the tax, which is passed on to the state Medicaid program in the monthly rates paid to the companies.)

Recent federal court action resulted in reinstatement of the federal overtime requirement for these workers. The introduced budget proposes to limit the overtime of these attendants to 16 hours per week. The remaining 50 waiver slots shall be used as reserve slots for emergencies, for individuals transferring between waivers and for individuals transitioning from an Intermediate Care Facility (ICF) or state nursing facility (SNF) to the community to ensure the health and safety of individuals in crisis. The Department of Medical Assistance Services shall seek federal approval for necessary changes to the DD waiver to add the additional reserve slots."

Explanation:

(This amendment provides $3.1 million the first year and $3.1 million the second year from the general fund and a like amount of federal Medicaid matching funds to move up to 400 individuals on the Developmental Disabilities (DD) waiver wait list, who are receiving services through the Elderly and Disabled with Consumer Direction waiver, to the newly configured Individual and Family Support (IFS) waiver on July 1, 2016. The Individual and Family Supports waiver replaces the Individual and Family Developmental Disabilities Support (DD) waiver and will provide services and supports to individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) living with their families, friends, or in their own homes, including those with some medical or behavioral needs. A number of I/DD individuals who are on the community waiting list are currently able to receive some limited services through the Elderly and Disabled with Consumer Direction waiver. ) or cerebral palsy. The adjustment factors used to determine both the direct and indirect care costs for these new peer groups shall be established at 62.5 percent of the peer group day-weighted median neutralized and inflated cost per day for freestanding nursing facilities. The department shall have authority to promulgate emergency regulations to implement this amendment within 280 days or less from the enactment date of this act."

Explanation:

(This amendment provides $500,000 from the general fund the second year and a like amount of federal Medicaid matching funds to change the reimbursement methodology for nursing facilities that provide services to a resident population in which at least 80 percent of the residents have specific chronic and disabling conditions. These conditions tend to occur in a younger population who consequently have a significantly longer stay in a nursing facility than many nursing facility residents. Consequently, the costs to serve these individuals is much higher. Currently, only one nursing facility, the Virginia Home, would meet the criteria to qualify for additional funding pursuant to the reimbursement methodology change.)

Explanation:

(This amendment adjusts the Medicaid rate increase for private duty nursing in the EPSDT program and Assistive Technology (TECH) waiver to 13.7 percent to match the increase for skilled nursing and private duty nursing in the intellectual and developmental disability (I/DD) waivers. A separate budget amendment setting out all the rate increases reflects a rate that is equal to the 13.7 percent rate increase for EPSDT and the TECH waiver. Medicaid rates for private duty nursing in the TECH waiver and the Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment (EPSDT) program cover a larger percentage of provider expenses and should match the rates paid in the Medicaid waivers. The introduced budget includes a two percent increase for nursing rates in the EPSDT program and the TECH waiver while the rates in the I/DD waiver were proposed to increase 40 percent. This amendment reallocates the total funding for all the rate changes and equalizes the increase across Medicaid.)

Explanation:

(This amendment adds funds to provide a five percent increase in the Medicaid waiver reimbursement rate for adult day health services. Adult day health care is much less expensive than alternative care in a nursing facility for which these clients qualify. Providers of adult day health care report a gap of $18.13 per client per day between actual costs and Medicaid reimbursement, which must be made up through contributions from individuals, churches, corporations, and foundations. These services are almost exclusively provided to Medicaid waiver recipients. This amendment will increase the statewide rate paid for Medicaid adult day health care services from $60.10/unit to $63.11/unit in Northern Virginia and from $55.65/unit to $58.43/unit in the rest of the state. Explanation:

(This amendment provides $551,000 each year from the general fund and a corresponding increase in federal matching funds for Children's National Health System to ensure that they are able to continue to provide the highest level of care to thousands of Virginia children with a broad spectrum of chronic and acute health needs in Northern and Central Virginia regardless of their families' ability to pay. These payments also ensure that Children's Virginia patients have access to every type of pediatric subspecialist, surgeon and pediatrician needed in a highly coordinated, efficient and regionalized system of care in greater Northern Virginia. These payments further ensure access to Children's 313 NICU and Inpatient beds, including a dedicated 54 Level IV NICU (American Academy of Pediatrics' highest designation), as well as the region's only pediatric-only trained flight teams-rapid helicopter transport service, and STAT MedEvac. Physician Supplemental Payments would help Children's address critical workforce development needs as the region's premier teaching hospital for pediatrics and would help bridge the gap between the pediatric Medicaid rate paid by Virginia to Children's and the Medicare rates.)

The Department of Medical Assistance Services has interpreted the language as a perpetual deferral and this language corrects that interpretation.
