2016 REGULAR SESSION

HOUSE OF DELEGATES
2016 REGULAR SESSION

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by G. Paul Nardo, Clerk thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Dr. Jack Knapp, Executive Director Emeritus, Virginia Assembly of Independent Baptists, offered the following prayer:

The Bible instructs us in 1 Timothy Chapter 2 that "prayers...be made...for Kings and all that are in authority..." it is for this reason that I ask you to join me in prayer this afternoon. Let us pray.

Our most gracious heavenly Father, we humbly come to lay our petitions before You. At this beginning of the 2016 Session of the General Assembly I come to pray for Your blessing upon these 100 Delegates. I pray that as they face the onslaught of nearly 3000 pieces of legislation that You will give to each of them the wisdom to discern what is best and right; the strength to make good decisions and health through the long hours and days ahead. I also pray for their staff members and for their families. I know that the separation for husbands, wives and children can be difficult at times so bless and keep them safe in the Delegates' absence. These things I pray in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Amen.

The Clerk led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The National Anthem was performed by the Richmond Symphony Chorus.

The following communication was received from the Senior Elections Administrator of the Department of Elections:

The Clerk requested Delegates Kilgore, Robinson, Webert, Morris, Pillion, Watts, Sickles, and Toscano to inform Delegate Howell of his election and escort him to the Chair.

Delegate William J. Howell took and subscribed the oath required by the Constitution, administered by the Honorable Donald W. Lemons, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:

Thank you.

It is truly an honor to stand before you today. I am humbled by the trust placed in me to lead this distinguished body again. Words cannot express how grateful I am for your support and prayers.

The office of Speaker is a constitutional office that comes with significant responsibilities and obligations, not to one party, but to every member of the House and the people of Virginia. I do not take these duties lightly. I will continue to serve with the discretion, judiciousness, honor and integrity that the people of the Commonwealth demand.

There are 11 new members with us today. I welcome each of you, and your families, to Mr. Jefferson's capitol and the House of Delegates. We are excited to have you join us.

It is a distinct honor to serve in this body. I need not remind you that gentlemen named Madison, Jefferson and Henry walked these halls. They are a constant reminder of the tremendous responsibility we bear as leaders of the Commonwealth. None of us are entitled to the seats we hold, and we can never forget why we are here – to serve our fellow citizens.

As we begin this session, it is important to reflect on the success of recent years. We have seen what happens when we set our ideological divisions aside and work together. Last year, thanks to the hard work of so many in this chamber, we adjourned early for the first time in 15 years. We passed legislation to make college more affordable, keep students safe on campus and provide our veterans with better healthcare access.

In the 2016 session, we must continue to build on this record of success. Virginia faces no shortage of challenges.

Our biggest priority this year is crafting a new state budget. Last year, not only did we adopt a responsible budget, but we did so ahead of schedule. Our conservative budgeting led to the largest single year revenue surplus in the history of the Commonwealth.

Our responsibility this year is to replicate that success. We must continue to be good stewards of taxpayer dollars. While Washington drowns in deficits and debt, we have a constitutional obligation to balance our budget. We must meet the needs of our Commonwealth without saddling our children and grandchildren with the bill.

Just as important as the budget is the manner in which we write it. We have a duty to conduct the people's business openly and transparently. Chairman Jones, the Appropriations Committee and their work has always been open and accessible. This year, we are strengthening our commitment to transparency by adopting in our rules a 48 hour review period before voting on the final conference report. This change will ensure that both legislators and the public have an opportunity to be fully apprised of the budget before this body takes action.

Additionally, in an effort to maintain and build on this body's commitment to transparency, we will no longer hold committee meetings at member's desks in the chamber. While I know this is an inconvenience to members, it is an important signal to the public that we are committed to openness.

In addition to the budget, a number of other pressing issues require our attention. We must remain focused on offering real solutions for our fellow citizens.

Virginia's economy, while improving, is not out of the woods. While unemployment numbers may have rebounded, Virginians continue to feel squeezed. We must redouble our efforts to encourage entrepreneurs and innovation, promote a positive business climate that attracts companies from around the world, and strengthen our workforce for the 21st century.

Education is also vital to the Commonwealth's long-term economic success. Our goal is to provide every student with the opportunity to succeed. That means investing in a strong public education system. It also means providing choice and flexibility for parents and students.

This year, we have the opportunity to pass a major amendment to our constitution that will expand educational opportunities. President Obama said that charter schools "are gateways to higher education and endless possibilities, lifting up students of all backgrounds and empowering them to achieve a brighter future." I think Republicans and Democrats can find common ground on charter schools in Virginia.

I would be remiss if I did not mention healthcare. This chamber has collectively expressed its will on Medicaid expansion no fewer than five times in the last two years. Virginians deserve access to quality, affordable healthcare.

And, we must focus on improving access to healthcare and keeping costs low. There are a number of proposals on Virginia's longstanding certificate of public need laws. Those proposals deserve full and due consideration this year. It is also imperative that we continue to strengthen our mental and behavioral health system, and continue to invest in the health care safety net.

We are not always going to agree. We will exchange lengthy dialogue between each other over our ideas on how to move Virginia forward. I encourage us all to do so in a civil and respectful way. That is what our constituents expect and demand.

I will conclude by again thanking each of you for your service and dedication to the Commonwealth. We have a long road ahead, but I am confident that we will find success.

Thank you.

 - 14. Rules 14 members
- and the Speaker

The Speaker shall designate seven members of the House Rules Committee to meet with members of the Senate to constitute the Joint Rules Committee.

Rule 16(a). Membership on all standing committees shall be contingent upon membership or nonmembership in the majority party caucus. The apportionment of members on all standing committees shall be according to the same ratio of members in the House of Delegates who are members or nonmembers of the majority party caucus. If such ratio would represent a fractional number of the committee membership assigned to the majority party caucus, then the number of majority party caucus members on standing committees shall be the next highest whole number of committee members. For the purposes of this rule only, members who do not caucus with the majority party caucus or the largest minority party caucus shall be deemed part of the majority party caucus.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Speaker of the House may appoint two more House members to any legislative commission, joint subcommittee of House and Senate committees, or any interim study committee than are appointed by the Senate.

Rule 16(b). The Speaker shall strive to appoint from each congressional district at least one member who represents that congressional district on all standing committees with the exception of Rules.

Rule 17. A majority shall constitute a quorum for committees. Each committee shall meet pursuant to a regular meeting schedule as approved by the Speaker. In addition to a committee's regular scheduled meeting(s), a committee chairman may call additional meetings. It shall be the duty of a committee to meet on call of a majority of the committee's members if the chairman is absent or declines to call a meeting. However, additional committee meetings may not be scheduled that are in conflict with another committee's regularly scheduled meeting time. No committee shall meet while the House is in session without special leave granted by the Speaker.

Rule 17(a). The chairman of any standing committee may appoint subcommittees provided any such subcommittee shall consist of no fewer than five members, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the conduct of business.

Rule 17(b). The chairman of any standing committee may appoint ad hoc subcommittees of less than five members to consider no more than one bill or resolution, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum to conduct business.

Rule 17(c). With the exception of Fridays, on days when the House is in session between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., no subcommittee of a standing committee except for the Appropriations or Rules Committees shall meet opposite a standing committee unless the parent committee forgoes meeting at its designated time to allow its subcommittees to meet. Subcommittees of standing committees may meet after the House has adjourned for the day on Fridays and weekends upon call of the chairman to consider any such matter as may have been referred to them.

Rule 18. The several standing committees shall consider matters specially referred to them and, whenever practicable, suggest such legislation as may be germane to the duties of the committee. The chairman shall have discretion to determine when, and if, legislation shall be heard before the committee. The chairman, at his discretion, may refer legislation for consideration to a subcommittee. If referred to a subcommittee, the legislation shall be considered by the subcommittee. If the subcommittee does not recommend such legislation by a majority vote, the chairman need not consider the legislation in the full committee. It shall be the duty of each committee to inquire into the condition and administration of the laws relating to the subjects which it has in its charge; to investigate the conduct and look to the responsibility of all public officers and agents concerned; and to suggest such measures as will correct abuses, protect the public interests, and promote the public welfare.

Any committee of the House may, at its discretion, confer with a committee of the Senate having under consideration the same subject. No select committee shall be appointed to consider any subject falling properly within the province of a standing committee.

Rule 18(a). When a question is before the committee, no motion shall be received unless specially provided for, except to adjourn, pass by indefinitely, lay upon the table, postpone for a specified time or purpose, refer or rerefer, amend or incorporate, strike from the docket, or report; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged and each such motion shall be required to be seconded.

The Committee on Rules may, on a vote of a majority of the members appointed plus one, send a bill, joint resolution, or resolution to the floor on a motion that "the bill, joint resolution, or resolution be reported to the floor by the committee without specific recommendation." This motion is a special motion and can only be made in the Committee on Rules.

The vote of each member voting on any question shall be recorded upon the call of the chairman or the desire of one-fifth of the members present.

When a question has been decided, it may be reconsidered on the motion of any member who voted with the prevailing side provided it be made on the same day or if such motion has not been communicated to the House, such motion may be made no later than the adjournment of the next regularly scheduled meeting of the full committee, except for those measures continued pursuant to Rule 22.

Rule 18(b). Committees shall in all cases report by bill or resolution, with or without amendment or amendments, in such form that, if passed or agreed to, it will carry into effect their recommendations; but no papers returned therewith shall be printed unless the committee shall so recommend. Every bill shall be printed, as provided in Rule 37. Bills may be considered in executive session, but final vote thereon shall be in open session.

Rule 18(c). A recorded vote of members upon each measure sent to the floor, including those measures reported and referred by committee, shall be taken and the name and number of those voting for, against, or abstaining shall be reported with the bill or resolution and ordered printed on the Calendar.

Rule 18(d). Reports of the committees may be handed to the Clerk at any time and may be disposed of in the morning hour. If, in the judgment of the Speaker, any report of a committee requires immediate action he may bring it to the attention of the House at any time.

Rule 18(e). No member shall be excluded from any meeting of a committee, subcommittee, joint subcommittee, or interim study committee except as hereinafter provided for the maintenance of order. If an electronic meeting is authorized by the chairman, no member shall be excluded from participating by electronic communication means, and members participating by electronic communication means shall not be counted in attendance for purposes of a quorum. The chairman of the committee shall maintain order and decorum, and the business of the committee shall be conducted at all times in accordance with the Rules of the House.

Rule 19. The chairman or, in his absence, the vice chairman, or the majority of the membership of the committee, may call meetings of the committee to study, call hearings, and consider any bill or resolution, or to consider such other matters as may be germane to the duties of the committee.

Rule 20. The chairman of any standing committee is authorized to seek and obtain the services of citizens of the Commonwealth whose function will be to participate with such committees or subcommittees thereof in reviewing legislation or in performing any referred study or study initiated by the committee or its chairman.

Citizens so appointed to serve may receive a daily compensation as provided in the Appropriation Act and reimbursement for their actual expenses incurred in the performance of services for the committee. For this purpose and for such other expenses as may be occasioned by the conduct of any committee study, payments shall be made from the general appropriations to the House of Delegates.

Persons who are asked by a committee chairman to appear before a committee or subcommittee to offer expert testimony may receive reimbursement for their actual and reasonable expenses if approved by the chairman and the Speaker.

Rule 21. The conduct of the business of any subcommittee of any House committee, any joint subcommittee of House and Senate committees, and any interim study committee created by a House measure shall be governed in accordance with the Rules of the House. If a House measure and a Senate measure create the same study, the conduct of business of the study shall be governed by the rules of the house of the chairman of the study, or in the case of co-chairmen, the rules of the house as agreed upon by the co-chairmen.

Rule 22. Any bill or resolution introduced in an even-numbered year and not reported to the House of Delegates by the committee to which it has been referred, may be continued on the agenda of the committee for hearings and committee action during the interim between regular sessions and not otherwise. The committee shall report, prior to the adjournment sine die of the House of Delegates, such bills or resolutions as shall be continued and the Clerk of the House of Delegates shall enter upon the Journal the fact that such bill or resolution has been continued. Any bill or resolution that has been continued and subsequently reported from a committee shall be placed upon the Calendar of the House of Delegates.

The House of Delegates, upon consideration of any bill or resolution on the Calendar, may rerefer the bill to the committee reporting the same and direct the committee to continue the bill or resolution until the following odd-numbered year regular session and hold such hearings and render such further consideration of the bill or resolution as the committee may deem proper.

(The provisions of any rule relating to legislative continuity between sessions shall be subject to the provisions of Article IV, Section 7 of the Constitution of Virginia.)

Standards of Conduct.

Rule 23. There shall be a subcommittee on Standards of Conduct of the Rules Committee consisting of four members, two of whom shall be members of the majority caucus and two of whom shall be nonmembers of the majority caucus, appointed by the chairman, which shall review annually members' statements of economic interests and consider any request by a member for an advisory opinion with respect to the general propriety of any current or proposed conduct of such member.

Rule 24. The Privileges and Elections Committee shall receive and investigate any charges or complaints brought against any member of the House of Delegates in the performance of his duties or the discharge of his responsibilities and recommend to the House such action as it may deem appropriate to establish and enforce standards of conduct for members.

Committee of the Whole.

Rule 25. When the House shall go into the Committee of the Whole, the Speaker may vacate the Chair and appoint a member to preside in Committee; the other officers shall attend, and the Rules of the House shall be observed and enforced in Committee, as far as applicable, except that the previous question shall not be ordered.

Rule 26. If the Committee of the Whole arise before the consideration of the subject referred is concluded, the same shall be reported back and have its place in order as unfinished business of the House. When it shall be again reached in order, unless it be otherwise disposed of, the House, after making such orders as it may deem proper in relation to the business before the Committee, shall stand again resolved into the Committee of the Whole, and so on until the business therein be disposed of.

Rule 27. Nothing shall be in order in the Committee of the Whole except such matters as may be specially referred to it by the House.

Rule 28. Whenever the Committee of the Whole shall find itself without a quorum, the chairman shall cause the roll to be called and thereupon the Committee shall rise, and the chairman shall report the fact and the names of the absentees, which shall be entered upon the Journal of the House.

Rule 29. The motion to go into Committee of the Whole, and the motion to discharge the Committee, shall not be debated.

II. Attendance and Adjournment.

Attendance.

Rule 30. No member shall absent himself from the service of the House unless he has leave granted by the Speaker or is sick or otherwise unable to attend and such leave shall be entered upon the Journal.

Rule 31. Any ten members or more including the Speaker, if there is one, and he is present, shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members by a call of the House.

Rule 32. The roll of the House shall be taken by the use of the electronic voting system or, if it is inoperable, by viva voce by response to the call of names arranged and called in alphabetical order except that the Speaker shall be called last.

Rule 33. The electronic voting system may be used for a call of the House; however, if it is inoperable, the call of the House shall be by viva voce, the names of the members shall be first called over by the Clerk, and the absentees noted; after which the names of the absentees shall be again called over. The doors shall then be shut and those for whom no excuse or insufficient excuses are made may, by order of those present, if ten in number, be taken into custody as they appear or may be sent for and taken into custody, wherever to be found, by the Sergeant at Arms or his assistants, or by special messengers to be appointed for that purpose.

Rule 34. When a member shall be discharged from custody and admitted to his seat the House shall determine whether such discharge shall be with or without payment of fees and expenses.

Adjournment.

Rule 35. Any member or members may adjourn from day to day. A motion to adjourn and a motion to fix the time for which the House will adjourn shall always be in order and be decided without debate.

III. Introduction of Business.

Messages, Reports, and Communications.

Rule 36. Messages from the Governor and reports and communications from any other public officer or agent may be received at any time. If, in the judgment of the Speaker, they require immediate action they may be brought at once to the attention of the House. Otherwise, they shall lie upon the Speaker's table and be disposed of in the morning hour. The same rule shall be observed with regard to messages from the Senate.

Introducing Legislation.

Rule 37. Members having bills or resolutions to present may, at any time pursuant to agreed upon deadlines, electronically file (e-file) such legislation via the Bill Drafting System or manually file such legislation with the Clerk, endorsed by one or more members with their names. Any bill or joint resolution introduced in the House may show as "Senate Patrons" the signatures or electronic signatures of members of the Senate. Any bill, joint resolution, or resolution manually filed prior to the commencement of the session in which it is to be considered may have the names of co-patrons signed to the measure by the chief patron, provided that each such co-patron expressly authorized the chief patron to sign for such co-patron and the chief patron plainly marks such signatures on the original copy of the measure as being signed by the chief patron. Any bill, joint resolution, or resolution e-filed prior to the commencement of the session in which it is to be considered may have the names of co-patrons added electronically via the Bill Drafting System.

No member may introduce more than 15 bills during the Regular Session of an odd-numbered year.

No bill expressly amending an existing law shall be offered by any member unless or until the e-filed or manually filed copy has been prepared so as to indicate deletions and additions. The form for deletions and additions shall set forth the material deleted with lines through such material and by underscoring the words added, before they are received in the Senate or House of Delegates. The stricken material and underscorings or italics in the printed bills, enrolled bills, and printed Acts shall not be considered evidence of all amendments to any bill or existing statute but merely as an aid for quick reference to amended portions. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring the use of stricken material or underscoring where new words are substituted for existing words and the new words or the omission of words do not change the sense or meaning of the act.

The Clerk shall, under the direction of the Speaker, refer all such legislation to the proper committee and enter the fact, with the names of the members presenting them, upon the Journal. Such bills shall be printed, unless otherwise ordered by the House, and numbered in the order in which they are filed with the Clerk.

The Speaker shall review all legislation introduced in the House or communicated to the House for its action to determine if such legislation is in conflict with Article IV, Section 12 of the Constitution of Virginia. If such legislation is determined to be in conflict, the Speaker may withhold committee referral of the legislation.

The designation of "House Bill," "House Joint Resolution," or "House Resolution" shall not be changed after a bill or resolution is introduced in the House. Nor shall the designation of "Senate Bill" or "Senate Joint Resolution" be changed or amended after the bill or resolution is received by the House. In addition, no bill or resolution introduced for a purpose other than to direct or request a study shall be amended for the purpose of directing or requesting a study unless authorized by unanimous consent of the members of the House.

Rule 38. No bill, joint resolution, or resolution calling for information from the Governor or other public officer or agent shall be introduced, considered, or acted upon otherwise than is provided by Rule 37 and shall not be acted upon until it shall have been examined and reported upon by a committee.

Rule 39. Any other resolution or motion upon which a member may desire the judgment of the House, or any action other than a reference to a standing committee, may be presented to the House in the morning hour after the business on the Speaker's table is disposed of. A recorded vote shall be required on a resolution authorizing a study or an expenditure of funds. To obtain immediate consideration of any resolution other than a procedural or a memorial or commending resolution, without reference to a standing committee, the vote of two-thirds of the members elected, as required by Rule 81, shall be a recorded vote.

Rule 39(a). All memorial or commending joint resolutions or resolutions shall conform to the procedure set forth by the Clerk of the House and shall not be referred under Rule 37, unless so ordered by the Speaker or by majority vote of the House on motion of a member, but shall be placed on the Calendar.

IV. Order of Business.

The Morning Hour.

Rule 40. After the approval and signing of the Journal, a time, to be called the morning hour, shall be devoted to the dispatch of business upon the Speaker's table and to resolutions presented under Rule 39. The business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of in such order as the Speaker deems best, except as may be herein otherwise provided, or as the House may at any time order.

Rule 41. The annual message of the Governor shall be laid before the House as soon as it is received. It shall be printed for the use of the House and be considered by the several standing committees without any special order therefor.

Rule 42. All other messages from the Governor may be referred by the Speaker to the proper committees. The same rule shall be observed as to reports and communications from other public officers.

Rule 43. Bills and resolutions originating in the Senate and not requiring immediate action shall be read or printed on the Calendar by title the first time when received and referred to their appropriate committees, unless the House directs otherwise.

Rule 44. All bills reported from committee, pursuant to Rule 18(c), shall be transferred to the Calendar and the reading or printing on the Calendar of the titles as reported shall constitute the first reading or printing of the House bills and the second reading or printing of the Senate bills as required by the Constitution.

Rule 45. All other reports from committees shall be considered and disposed of in the order in which the Speaker presents them, unless the House directs otherwise.

Rule 46. A member presenting a resolution under Rule 39 shall be allowed five minutes in which to explain his wishes in relation to it, after which the question on referring to a standing committee shall be taken without debate.

Rule 47. Printing recommended by committees under Rule 18(b) shall be ordered by the Speaker, unless the House directs otherwise.

Rule 48. Once the morning hour expires, the House shall proceed to the business of the House as defined in Rule 49; however, the Speaker shall be permitted, without objection, to return to the morning hour for the purpose of recognizing any distinguished visitor or other individual defined in Rule 83 that may be present and seated on the floor or in the gallery.

The Calendar.

Rule 49. At the expiration of the morning hour, the House shall proceed to consider bills, joint resolutions, and resolutions on the Calendar or any Supplemental Calendar which shall be arranged in the following order:

1. Senate bills on third reading.
2. House bills on third reading.
3. House bills on second reading.
4. House bills and joint resolutions returned from Senate with amendments.
5. Resolutions.
6. Memorial and commending resolutions.
7. House bills returned by Governor without approval.
8. House bills returned by Governor with recommendations.
9. Senate bills returned by Governor without approval.
10. Senate bills returned by Governor with recommendations.
11. House bills and resolutions in conference.
12. Senate bills and resolutions in conference.
13. Unfinished business – House and Senate bills and joint resolutions.
14. Senate bills on second reading.
15. House bills on first reading.
16. Resolutions reported.
17. Senate bills and joint resolutions referred.
18. Bills referred.
19. Resolutions referred.
20. Resolutions presented.

The House may direct that bills and resolutions of either house be divided between the designations "Uncontested Calendar" and "Regular Calendar" and be considered in such order. When such a division is directed for bills and resolutions on the Calendar, the Uncontested Calendar shall not include any bill or resolution (i) which received a dissenting vote or an abstention in committee, (ii) to which objection is made by any member, or (iii) if any non-technical floor amendment or any floor amendment in the nature of a substitute is offered. Any bill or resolution shall be removed from the Uncontested Calendar and placed on the Regular Calendar at the request of any member rising from his seat for that purpose and stating the request for such legislation to be moved. Once legislation is moved to the Regular Calendar there it shall remain.

A Pro Forma Calendar prepared for a pro forma session of the House shall only contain new legislation reported from committee.

Supplemental Calendars may be prepared for consideration while the House remains in Session for the day and shall be considered when called by the Speaker. Any Supplemental Calendar and the measures contained therein shall be considered in the same manner as measures in the Calendar.

Rule 50. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to see that the printing and engrossing, when ordered, shall be done in such time that the bills and resolutions may be acted on according to their priorities on the Calendar.

Rule 51. If any bill or resolution shall not be ready for consideration when it is reached on the Calendar category, it shall be passed by temporarily and be allowed to retain its position on the Calendar. When the Calendar category has been called through, it may be called again in order to dispose of any business that may then be ready; otherwise it shall be passed by for the day. Upon completion of the business on the Calendar, the business of the morning hour shall be resumed.

Rule 52. The regular order of business herein established shall not be changed, nor shall any special order be made, except by vote of two-thirds of the members present. However, a majority may postpone the Calendar not exceeding one day at a time, or postpone for a specified time or purpose any subject coming up in order without changing its place, or agree to a joint order with the Senate, or postpone or discharge any special order.

V. Conduct of Business.

Order and Decorum.

Rule 53. The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum, may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order without debate, subject to an appeal to the House. If the decision relate to a question of decorum or propriety of conduct, it shall not be debatable; if it relate to the priority of business or the relevancy or applicability of propositions, the appeal may be debated, but no member shall speak on it more than once except by leave of the House.

Rule 54. When a member rises to speak he shall respectfully address, "Mr. Speaker," standing in his place; he shall confine himself strictly to the question before the House, and when he has finished he shall sit down.

Rule 55. When two or more members request to speak or rise at the same time the Speaker shall name the person to speak.

Rule 56. Every motion or proposition shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the Speaker or any member, and shall be delivered at the Clerk's table to be there read; and the question shall be stated by the Chair before the same shall be debated. When the reading of any paper in possession of the House, not being the precise matter upon which the House is acting, is called for, and objection is made by any member, the question shall be determined by a vote of the House without debate. Any motion or proposition may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before a decision, amendment, or other action of the body upon it, except a motion to reconsider which shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

Rule 57. No member shall in debate use any language or gesture calculated to wound, offend, or insult another member.

Rule 58. If any member, in speaking, transgress the Rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case the member called to order shall immediately take his seat unless permitted to explain. If there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be final. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; otherwise, he shall not proceed, except by leave of the House. For frequent or repeated violations of order, especially if persisted in after the admonition of the Speaker, a member shall be liable to the censure of the House.

Rule 59. If any member be called to order by another member for words spoken, the words excepted to shall be immediately taken down in writing in order that the Speaker and House may be better able to judge the matter.

Rule 60. No member shall, while the House is sitting, interrupt or hinder its business by standing up, leaving his place, moving about the Hall, engaging in conversation, expressing approval or disapproval of any of the proceedings, or by any other conduct tending to disorder and confusion.

Rule 61. No member shall speak more than once on any question until all others have spoken who desire to do so, nor more than twice, without the consent of a majority of the members present.

Ascertaining the Question.

Rule 62. If the question for decision includes several distinct propositions any member may have the same divided, but a motion to strike out and insert shall not be so divided; nor shall a motion to strike out, being lost, preclude either amendment or a motion to strike out and insert. In filling blanks, the question shall be put first upon the largest sum and the longest time or the broadest question.

Rule 62(a). No motion or proposition, or subject different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Rule 62(b). The Speaker shall determine all questions of germaneness relevant to any legislation under consideration by the House including House legislation and any amendments thereto communicated by the Senate or the Governor to the House for its action.

Rule 63. When a question is before the House, no motion shall be received unless specially provided for, except to adjourn, pass by indefinitely, lay upon the table, postpone for a specified time or purpose, refer or rerefer, amend, or strike from the Calendar, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged.

Rule 64. Upon the motion to pass by indefinitely, the mover shall be allowed two minutes to state the reason for his motion, and one member opposed to the motion shall be allowed a like time to object. The motion to lay upon the table, for the previous question, and for the pending question shall not be debated; nor shall debate be allowed on a motion to take up a subject from the table or to reconsider any question which was not debated. When a question not debatable is before the House all incidental questions arising after it is stated to the House shall be decided and settled, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate; and the same rule shall apply to incidental questions rising after any question is put to the House.

Pending and Previous Questions.

Rule 65. Pending a debate, any member who obtains the floor for the purpose only, and submits no other motion or remark, may move for the "previous question" or the "pending question," and in either case the motion shall be forthwith put to the House. Two-thirds of the members present shall be required to order the main question; however, a majority may require an immediate vote upon the pending question, whatever it may be.

Rule 66. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question now be put?" If carried, its effect shall be to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon a motion to refer or rerefer, if pending; then upon amendments reported by a committee, if any; then upon pending amendments; and then upon the main question. If upon the motion for the previous question, the main question be not ordered, debate may continue as if the motion had not been made.

Taking the Vote.

Rule 67. The Speaker shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting. Questions shall be distinctly put in substantially the following forms, viz.: "As many as agree that, etc. (as the question may be), say 'Aye,' " and "Those opposed say 'No.' " If the Speaker doubts or a division is called for, the House shall divide with those in the affirmative of the question rising first from their seats and afterwards those in the negative, or by a show of hands in the affirmative and then in the negative. If required, the Speaker shall cause the result to be ascertained by a count.

Rule 68. The yeas and nays on any question may be called for at any time before proceeding to another question or proposition but, being refused, they shall not be again demanded on the same question. Any member shall have a right to vote at any time before the decision is announced by the Chair.

Rule 69. Upon a division of the House on any question, a member who is present and fails to vote shall on the demand of any member be counted on the negative of the question and when the yeas and nays are taken shall, in addition, be entered on the Journal as present and not voting. However, no member who has an immediate and personal interest in the result of the question shall either vote or be counted upon it.

Reconsideration.

Rule 70. When a question has been decided, it may be reconsidered on the motion of any member who voted with the prevailing side, provided it be made on the same day or within the next two days of actual session, as long as such action has not been communicated to the Senate or the Governor. The motion may be entered as a matter of privilege and shall take precedence of everything except special orders and other questions of privilege and be disposed of in the morning hour or with the Calendar, as the case may be. All motions to reconsider shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the members present.

Bills and Amendments.

Rule 71. Every bill shall be read or printed on the Calendar by title on three different calendar days in the House previous to its being passed, and it shall be distinctly announced or set out at each reading or printing on the Calendar, whether it is the first, second, or third time. A bill may be referred or rereferred at any time before its passage.

Rule 72. The first reading or printing on the Calendar of the House bill shall be for information merely and, notwithstanding a motion to refer or rerefer to a committee or a motion to strike, it shall go to second reading or printing on the Calendar without a question. The second reading or printing on the Calendar of a Senate bill shall be for information merely and, notwithstanding a motion to refer or rerefer to a committee or a motion to strike, it shall go to third reading or printing on the Calendar without a question.

Rule 73. Upon the second reading or printing on the Calendar of a House bill it shall be open to amendment or to referral or rereferral or to any of the motions provided for in Rule 63, and the final question shall be "Whether it shall be engrossed and read or printed on the Calendar a third time?" Upon the third reading or printing on the Calendar of a Senate bill it shall be open to amendment or to referral or rereferral or to any of the motions provided in Rule 63.

The Speaker may direct by notice to the House, or the House may determine by a majority vote, that there shall be a deadline for the submission of any proposed floor amendment or floor amendment in the nature of a substitute (floor substitute) to the House version of the Budget Bill(s). The deadline for submission of any floor amendment or floor substitute shall be 24 hours prior to the commencement of the Special Order set for the consideration of the Budget Bill(s). Any floor amendment or floor substitute offered after the deadline for submission may be considered if (i) it is an amendment that has been approved by the Committee on Appropriations or (ii) it is offered as a technical amendment or clarifying amendment to a previously submitted floor amendment or floor substitute and is germane to the purpose of the original floor amendment or floor substitute.

Rule 74. A House bill ordered to be engrossed shall not have its third reading or printing on the Calendar until the engrossment is actually and properly done. However, in the case of a Senate bill, the engrossment shall only apply to such amendments as may have been made in the House.

Rule 75. A House bill on its third reading shall not be open for debate; however, any member may be recognized to speak to the legislation or offer motions. No amendment to a House bill shall be received upon its third reading or printing on the Calendar by way of rider or otherwise, and no amendment involving an additional appropriation shall be added to the general appropriation bill, and no amendment to increase any tax shall be added to any tax measure, unless either such amendment be to carry into effect an existing law or unless it received the vote required to pass the bill itself. A Senate amendment to a House bill to be concurred in, a Governor's recommendation to be agreed to, or a conference report to be adopted, must receive the same recorded vote as required to pass the bill itself.

Rule 75(a). If the Senate refuses to concur in the amendments of the House and so communicates such action to the House, the House may vote to recede from its amendments and subsequently pass the legislation in the form originally passed by the Senate or insist on its amendments and request a committee of conference with the Senate. Conversely, the House in considering Senate amendments to House legislation shall wait for communication by the Senate that they have voted to insist on their amendments and request a committee of conference whereby the House may agree to the request for a committee of conference.

Rule 75(b). Upon an affirmative vote to form a committee of conference, the Speaker shall appoint the House membership to the committee. A majority of the members of each house on the committee of conference shall agree to the committee of conference report prior to its submission and consideration by the House. If a committee of conference is unable to reach agreement and reports such action to the House, the Speaker may appoint new conferees or, upon the motion of a member and an affirmative vote of the House, a new set of conferees shall be appointed. In addition, if a committee of conference report is considered and rejected, the House may agree by a majority vote of the members present to request an additional committee of conference.

Rule 75(c). Any conference committee on the Budget Bill shall complete its deliberations and make the report of such conference available to the House as soon as practicable. The House shall consider such conference report no earlier than 48 hours after receipt, unless the House determines to proceed earlier by a vote of two-thirds of the members voting. The conference report shall clearly state the funding of any nonstate agencies, any item that was not included in the Budget Bill as passed by either house, and any provisions from legislation that failed during that session.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

MONDAY, JANUARY 18, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Alex Leighton, Associate Rector of All Saints' Church, Woodbridge, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father,

We stand before you today and worship you, the Source of all life and Creator of all that is. In you we live and move and have our being. We give you the honor and the glory that is due your Name.

We ask you to forgive us for falling short of that glory, for the ways that we have dishonored you. We ask you to bless our precious Commonwealth, whose motto is "Sic Semper Tyrannis", "Thus Always to Tyrants." It has been said, "Rebellion to tyrants is obedience to God." We pray that you would indeed help us to overthrow tyranny, but keep us mindful of the tyranny of our own deceptive and rebellious hearts. Let us be reminded of the words of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., as we remember him today, "Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate. Only love can do that." We pray that in your love you would forgive us and heal our hearts.

We thank you for your gracious hand in bringing us here, for the blessings that you have so freely given. You are the Giver of all good gifts.

We humbly ask for your Presence here in this Assembly today. We ask you to come and be with us, and especially, with these faithful men and women of the House of Delegates. Pour out your grace upon them. Give them courage, wisdom, and discernment. Fill them with your love, your joy, and your peace. Help them to make hard decisions, to pursue justice, to seek the Truth, and all in the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

All this we ask in the Name of your Son, Jesus Christ. Amen.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 19, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Dr. Reginald C. Woodhouse, Pastor of First Baptist Church Jefferson Park, Newport News, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, As we come before you in prayer we are reminded that you promised us if we would hear your words and put them into practice we would be like the wise man who built his house on the rock, that when the rains and floods came, it could not destroy it! But if we were to ignore your words we would be like the foolish man who built his house on the sands which was swept away when the rains and floods came!

Help us Father to build our House on the rock, which is you! For it is the ones who do not just hear your words but obey them, who are considered Great Leaders! Help these our State Leaders, to not only listen to one another but to consider what is being presented so that they will operate in divine wisdom and do what is best for the people of the Commonwealth of VA.

Help their hearts and minds to show respect for one another as they show fear and respect for you. Help them that the laws and decisions that will be made during this session will help to bring about true blessings for your people throughout this State. I pray that all will go well for this House, the House of the Commonwealth of VA! Amen.

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 20, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Frederick S. Crookshank, Pastor of Hanover Baptist Church, King George, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven,

I am thankful for the privilege to open this session in prayer because it allows these men and women, here assembled, to hear how they are prayed for on a weekly basis, by churches such as mine. May they joyfully fulfill their duties and their obligations to the public trust knowing that intercessions are regularly made on their behalf.

You command us in the Bible to pray for "all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty." "Quiet" is the absence of external disturbances, "peaceable" refers to the absence of internal disturbances, "godliness" is standing in awe of Your majesty, and "honesty" is the freedom to obey a morally instructed conscience.

Throughout their terms in office, may You prompt, in these who represent us, the desire to begin each day seeking ways to promote greater freedom to follow the dictates of our conscience and to ensure the security of our individual liberty as the founders of this great Commonwealth, and of our great nation, envisioned. Superintend in the "affairs of men" such that Your will may be done. Enliven the minds and hearts of this assembly to grasp the root causes of the challenges that face our Commonwealth, and please enable them to rely upon Your timeless truth for wisdom to discover practical solutions.

Please protect them, their families, and their interests while they are absent from each other. Please protect those who wear a United States uniform around the world and those who keep the peace across our great land.

Grant that what is accomplished this day may please You, for "Thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever."

In the peerless Name of Jesus Christ, Your Son,

Amen.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Douglas W. Kittredge, Senior Pastor of New Life in Christ Church, Fredericksburg, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father,

You are worthy, O Lord, to receive praise and honor for You created all things. You renew the earth daily, and in Your mercy You sustain our world so that the whole earth is filled with Your glory.

We confess that if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without your notice, how can our Commonwealth continue without Your wisdom and Your aid? All authority comes from you, O God; any authority we exercise is a delegated authority. We are assured that "except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it." We desperately need Your help in this Assembly. A house divided cannot stand. Unite us in Your wisdom.

Without your aid, our efforts to publicly serve this Commonwealth will be no better than the divisive efforts of the tower of Babel; our projects will be confounded, and we will become a reproach and byword to future generations. Forgive us when we rely on our own understanding. Help us to serve with a clear conscience before You, dependent upon Your mercy and grace. Send forth Your Spirit to guide and lead us. May the Commonwealth of Virginia be a witness to Your honor and glory to our nation and world.

In the Name of Jesus, the One Who sacrificed Himself for us and intercedes for us, we pray. Amen.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Honorable James P. "Jimmie" Massie, III, the Gentleman from Henrico, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray!

Lord, my House colleagues have so many distracting things on their minds: their legislative and financial bills, their families, their day jobs, their political futures, their strained relationships and snow removal.

Lord, given that, please...please give me their undivided attention for just the next 30 seconds!

Lord, we love you...with all our hearts...and with all our souls! You are the eternal, infinite, omniscient and sinless God the father, God the Son and God the Holy Ghost.

Lord, in contrast, we are finite, limited knowledge, sinful human beings.

Given that, Lord we implore you, we beg you in all circumstances: to please give us the wisdom to discern: what is the right thing to do for our constituents, the citizens of the Commonwealth of Virginia?

And then Lord, please give us the strength and humility to do it!

All this I pray, in the name of your son, Jesus Christ!

Amen!

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

CHAPTER NUMBER

Delegate Cox moved that when the House adjourns today, it adjourn to meet tomorrow at 12 m.

The motion was agreed to.

On motion of Delegate Cox, the House adjourned at 2:11 p.m.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Andrew E. Casper, Pastor of South County Church, Lorton, offered the following prayer:

Lord, we say thanks for the privilege it is to serve you by serving the people of this great state. You have chosen every leader here and appointed them in this capacity. The Holy Scriptures declare, "...all authority comes from God, and those in positions of authority have been placed there by God." (Romans 13:1) This is a heavy responsibility you have given each person here, but you have not left them alone. You are with them...even now. We pray for wisdom to be released in this Assembly today. Many times there is uncertainty, so we pray for divine guidance today in every decision. We pray for righteousness to prevail here. The Holy Scriptures tell us that "when there is moral rot within a nation, its government topples easily. But wise and knowledgeable leaders bring stability." (Proverbs 28:2) May there be great stability here because of the wisdom you give. May the country and other nations around us be astounded by the wisdom and leadership of this Assembly. It is in your mighty and holy name we pray...Amen.

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The roll was called and the following members answered to their names:

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Benjamin J. Sprouse, Associate Pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, Staunton, offered the following prayer:

I am one of your Citizen Soldiers; a civilian pastor, and a military chaplain in the Virginia Army National Guard. As such, I have donned the uniform alongside our Citizen Soldiers of the Commonwealth and deployed with them, to foreign lands, to combat, on multiple occasions. I want you to know, I've seen it, when Virginians are called upon to serve, and give all they have, they do well, they do exceedingly well, just as Virginians always have.

It's in this spirit of service, I offer this prayer.

Lord, hear our prayers,

In as much as the sun rises and the sun sets, as we move about, the earth under our feet; as we breathe the air that surrounds us; every step and every breath, is a step and breath of freedom.

Lord, we give a thanksgiving for the actions and lives of those that have gone before us, and for your inspiration of a heritage of freedom, of which they sought, of which we now enjoy and sustain.

Lord, we ask for a blessing on this day, as it has begun, as it will pass, yet may the tasks of the day not pass without purpose and significance.

Lord, in as much as you have placed the desire in each of our hearts for that which is eternal, that which is good: to act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with our God; Lord, may we live and act with such virtue.

Lord, be with us; Lord, hear our prayers,

We pray in the name of our Lord, Amen.

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The roll was called and the following members answered to their names:

The President of the Joint Assembly requested Dr. Mitchell B. Reiss, President and Chief Executive Officer of The Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, to address the Joint Assembly.

Dr. Reiss addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Senator Newman; Governors Gilmore, Wilder and Baliles; distinguished members of the Senate and House of Delegates, ladies and gentlemen.

It's a privilege to welcome you to Colonial Williamsburg, and to Virginia's restored Colonial Capitol -- where you might say the very first shots of the Revolution were fired.

I know, I know -- the first actual shots of the Revolution were fired at Lexington in 1775. This is true, in a literal sense.

But in a different sense, one could argue that an impassioned country lawyer named Patrick Henry unleashed the first volley a decade earlier -- right here -- when he attacked and denounced the Stamp Act, on this very site.

It was also here that George Mason proposed the Virginia Declaration of Rights -- a critical precursor to our Declaration of Independence -- embedding the natural rights of citizens in the highest laws of the land.

And it was here, in May of 1776, that the Virginia Convention voted to ask the Continental Congress to declare all 13 colonies free and independent -- setting in motion a revolution that would launch a Nation, and forever change the world.

Today, Colonial Williamsburg endures as a critical bridge between America's formative past and our complicated present.

Every day here, we bring to life those extraordinary historic scenes and events -- through interpretation and preservation, yes, but also through conversations with the thousands of men, women and children who visit us every year.

From racial equality to the limits of federal authority, the debates and struggles of America's earliest generations continue to reverberate in our lives, our culture, and our politics.

It is this Foundation's mission to deepen our understanding of these issues, their origins, and their evolution through the years.

With that understanding comes a greater appreciation not only of the wisdom, but also of the limitations of America's first leaders. We all know that even the most revered of our Founders were not omniscient. They did not have all the answers. And to their credit, they knew it. The quest on which they embarked -- to form a more perfect union -- was necessarily aspirational. Our democratic republic began, and will forever remain, a constant work-in-progress.

It is to that work which we, as Americans, and as Virginians, must recommit ourselves today, and every day.

I think it goes without saying, these are not easy times for our Nation. We are facing serious threats from abroad. We are experiencing serious economic challenges at home. Over the last year, we have witnessed breakdowns in race relations throughout our country, and terrifying mass shootings.

On such realities we can all agree. But that cannot be the end to our agreement.

Much media attention has been paid to the deep divisions between our political parties, the polarization of our electorate, and the resulting dysfunction in Washington.

There is truth in these observations, but it bears remembering that such discord has been with us since the earliest days of our Nation.

For all of George Washington's hatred of partisanship and "factions," the legendary feud between two of his Cabinet members -- Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton -- all-but elevated partisanship to the level of blood sport.

The division between them both fueled and reflected deep divisions throughout the fledgling country -- inspiring fears about its long-term prospects for survival.

And yet survive we did. Not only did America withstand these internal rifts, it flourished despite them. And arguably, because of them -- or at least, because of our ability to rise above them in the interest of those over-arching values and principles on which our Nation was founded.

And so we have, again and again.

Those fundamental values still have the power to unite us to this day.

After all, we are Americans -- we are the masters of our collective fate. In the end, we are only as immovable as we choose to be.

That does not mean the challenges are not great. And I realize that the issues weighing on our Commonwealth -- and the leaders here in this room -- are no less pressing, complex or politically volatile than those we face as a Nation.

Education; health care; gun ownership; ethics reform; economic stimulus -- every one of these issues comes to you wrapped in the heated rhetoric of partisanship and the expectations of special interests.

Every time you place the interests of the Commonwealth above the rest, you do all of your constituents extremely proud.

Those constituents include, incidentally, the 2,500 people employed here at Colonial Williamsburg. I spoke earlier about the historical significance of this Foundation, but I would be remiss if I did not also mention its critical role in the economy and community life of our region.

All told, we are responsible for more than 8,000 jobs and $500 million of economic activity each year. Over the next few years, we will invest tens of millions of dollars to make Colonial Williamsburg even better, and stronger -- from expanding our dynamic corps of costumed interpreters to winning back the fifth star at the Williamsburg Inn.

In other words, Colonial Williamsburg has a great deal at stake in the work you are doing, and the decisions you are making. We want you to be successful. We need you to be successful.

So on behalf of everyone at Colonial Williamsburg, thank you for taking on the essential work of governing. It is our honor to host your quadrennial commemorative session here today.

While you are with us, I hope you find both comfort and inspiration here, where the grandest experiment in political freedom and representative democracy first took root.

Thank you very much.

The President of the Joint Assembly thanked Dr. Reiss for addressing the Joint Assembly.

The President of the Joint Assembly requested Mr. W. Taylor Reveley III, President of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, to address the Joint Assembly.

Mr. Reveley addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

In the Beginning there was Virginia, and Virginia Led

Mr. Speaker, Senators, Delegates, Governors Emeriti, President Reiss, other divinities, and friends all, it's grand to have you once again in the Colonial Capital.

In the beginning there was Virginia, the Old Dominion -- at least in the beginning of the English presence in North America. In the beginning, Virginia's territory was vast. It included a sweeping spread of what became the United States, plus healthy chunks of Canada and Mexico as well. In short, Virginia came first, and it was huge.

Many states later sprang from the Old Dominion's loins. Some like Maryland, the Carolinas, Kentucky and West Virginia acknowledge their ancestry. Other states are more reluctant to acknowledge from whence they sprang, despite the fact that all those south of Wyoming, from sea to sea, were once part of Virginia.

Even the dulcet island of Bermuda, which would have marvelously enhanced Virginia tourism, was once, very briefly, in the fold.

So, Massachusetts, any way you chew it Virginia has temporal pride of place. Virginia is more deeply rooted in America's soil and history than any other part of our country.

Indeed, we're gathered today in the Historic Triangle formed by Jamestown, Williamsburg, and Yorktown, all within spitting distance of one another. This Triangle, this small bit of geography, has deeper and more important roots in America's past than any other bit of turf in our country.

Here in the Triangle, at Jamestown, English colonists established their first permanent foothold in America in 1607, leading the way for waves of colonists yet to come.

Here in 1619, Virginia's House of Burgesses first met, setting in motion what has become the oldest continuous law making body in the New World, of which the General Assembly is now the lineal descendent, with citizen legislators who serve in the grand tradition of Virginia leaders who leave their regular jobs from time to time to care for the public interest.

In short, Virginia began representative government in America. The House of Burgesses was the first elected deliberative body in America. Senators and Delegates in this historic chamber today are the stewards of that great inheritance in our time.

Also in 1619, here in the Historic Triangle, began our country's ongoing passage through multicultural life with the arrival of the first Africans in Virginia. Then Native Americans, European Americans, African Americans, people with radically different backgrounds and perspectives, and with very different social and political stations, were thrown together in the Old Dominion to work out their futures, often tragically, as the European Americans in their growing numbers and strength pushed aside, often decimated, the Native Americans and enslaved the African Americans.

Here in the Triangle was the first flowering of free enterprise in America. The colonists came to the Old Dominion in the early 1600s to pursue their fortunes, to make money, not for religious reasons. Once the cultivation of tobacco got underway, they began making money, bundles of it.

Here seminal thought took place about the optimum nature of government for a free people and about the practical politics of beginning a revolution, leading to the creation of our nation and ultimately the decisive battle for our independence at Yorktown.

All in all, the Historic Triangle where we are now gathered has seen a remarkable number of great American leaders in action, and it has been a place where profoundly important American history has been made.

But so what? Truly, friends, does it make any difference these days amid the relentless technological advances, the enormous societal flux, and the pervasively bad mood of the early 21st century -- amid all this does it really matter that Virginia came first and that Jamestown, Williamsburg, and Yorktown saw gifted humans do compelling deeds long ago? Really, what difference does it make if a state, or for that matter a university or family, has been around for a very long time and moved mountains in the past?

I've given this question some thought.

To judge by behavior, we humans do put stock in things with some age on them, especially if age comes with past distinction. So we Virginians carefully police the fact that Jamestown came first, not Plymouth Rock. Our colonists were here a whole 13 years before the Mayflower got blown off course and the Pilgrims ended up straggling ashore on the barren rocks of what became Massachusetts.

We Virginians also point out that the first thanksgiving in America took place at Berkeley on the James River in 1619. The Pilgrims didn't have their feast with neighboring tribes until several years thereafter, although our friends in Massachusetts have obscured that fact by effectively marketing a sweet vision of Pilgrims at table with Indians.

Institutions, such as William & Mary, celebrate their birthdays every 25 years, with special fervor on occasions denominated in the 100s. Most entities, as soon as they've been around awhile, begin to celebrate their anniversaries with growing passion as the years roll on.

Perhaps consideration of our mortality encourages us to gravitate toward age-old organizations. Knowing that we live comparatively brief lives, we welcome the chance to align ourselves with institutions that share our values and will continue to serve them long after we have shuffled off our mortal coils. This gives us a tie to a future we'll never experience while providing us the security of an anchor to the past.

But even more the point, it seems that we care about venerable institutions like the Commonwealth of Virginia because there is a presumption of quality inherent in age. People who belong to venerable institutions feel distinguished themselves because of the association. They are nourished vicariously by the institution's deep roots and flourish under the glory of its ancient foliage. They feel linked to past generations, on common ground with those who also have been nourished by the institution in earlier years. This is especially true when those who have gone before did glittering deeds.

But why presume age and quality go hand in hand? In my view, age suggests staying power, the ability to keep going through thick and thin. It suggests the capacity over time to survive adversity and seize opportunity. Age often engenders the poise and the dignity that come from surmounting countless flaps and crises, having been there and done that for generations, having seen it all. And age brings the wisdom born of experience, especially the knowledge what not to change even as everything else does.

Whether states, universities or families, some institutions move powerfully from one generation to the next. Others find themselves becalmed, or founder. Reasons for success or failure are legion. But those institutions that prevail usually take strength from their past. They remember their heroes, their times of peril and triumph, and their basic beliefs. The importance of the past as a source of confidence and poise grows with the turmoil of the present.

The struggles and mistakes of the past serve as a useful guide. They reassure and comfort. Things come and go, not always happily. People get angry. But, if successful, the institution moves forward, tempered by its passage through the fires. The inevitable fires are usually damped by the respect and affection traditional among those who share an institutional home.

Since 1607, Virginia has been through some rough times, indeed some terrible times. Slavery, secession, and segregation come quickly to mind. Each took a terrible toll on the Commonwealth.

Then, too, there is the matter of political and economic power. In our country's first national census, Virginia was the most populous state, almost twice the size of the next largest. Virginia was preeminent politically, supplying four of the country's first five presidents, the brilliant run of Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, and Virginia supplied the great chief justice of the United States, John Marshall.

Now, I must pause to note, lest I not be allowed back on campus, George Washington had intimate ties to William & Mary, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe were among William & Mary's undergraduate alumni and John Marshall was among William & Mary's first law students. Not for nothing does William & Mary call itself the Alma Mater of the Nation.

But to my message. Even amid the splendor of Virginia's political and economic power, the seeds of decline had been sown. Intense cultivation of tobacco for generation after generation had exhausted the Commonwealth's soil, leaving parts of her territory barren: in the words of one observer, there was "a scene of desolation that baffled description -- farm after farm worn out, washed and gullied, so that scarcely an acre could be found in a place fit for cultivation." With the soil exhausted, there followed a massive exodus from Virginia between the Revolutionary War and Civil War, perhaps a million of our citizens left to seek their fortunes amid more fertile land to the west and south. With the exodus, Virginia's congressional delegation was cut in half, and its political and economic power waned, though it remained preeminent in the South.

Of course, Virginia has also enjoyed many robustly good times. Those good times in recent decades have been funded in meaningful part by the taxpayers of other states through the federal government's enormous defense spending in the Commonwealth, especially Northern Virginia and Hampton Roads. Now this tribute from out of state may have been seemly recognition that, in the beginning, all America was Virginia, but still it has had a quality of living on borrowed time.

Time has run out. Out of state support -- mostly the beneficence of the Department of Defense -- has now declined seriously. In significant measure, it is likely a thing of the past, unless enormous new threats to national security arise. Thus, it seems that we Virginians must scramble to rebuild our economic strength. We'll need to scramble more than Virginia is accustomed to scrambling since the Second World War to expand existing businesses and attract new ones, to develop emerging opportunities in technology and cybersecurity, to drive more international trade through our magnificent port, to lure more tourists to our extraordinary cultural and recreational attractions, to see to crucial infrastructure (highways, bridges and tunnels are high on the list), to do all sorts of things, including of course, figure out, soon, how to sustain our schools -- K12, community colleges, four year colleges and research universities.

None of this will be easy, and it will all take leadership. There simply isn't enough public money to go around. Creative problem solving, as well as new ways of doing business, will be essential.

You and I are in the business of leadership. We're in the wheelhouse charged with the responsibility and obligation to do our level best to make good things happen.

I believe citizens -- people -- care about being led, even when they seem to disdain leaders.

Political ambition, the determination to lead, is the bone marrow of a functioning democracy.

It's inescapable! Leaders matter. It's rare that anything out of the ordinary actually gets done unless a few people, leaders, cut through the fog of competing priorities and ever-present uncertainties, identify the key contemporary needs, and persuade people to move effectively to meet them.

Leaders do spot things that need to be done. They marshal the troops to pursue specific goals, they keep the chase going by helping those involved work out their conflicts and deal with the tradeoffs. Leaders keep morale high even when the going gets rough. And they strike a sound balance between visionary optimism, on the one hand, and inescapable realities on the other.

They don't let a quixotic search for the perfect stamp out the realization of the good. They don't confuse their own policy preferences with the matters of principle about which there can be no compromise. Indeed, they are masters of compromise when crucial to advance the mission. Constitutionally, and thus practically, compromise is essential to the functioning of our American government of shared powers among the branches.

So, Senators and Delegates of the august Commonwealth of Virginia, leaders, your mission is crucially important, and it's vital that you take great satisfaction from helping push our extraordinarily wonderful Commonwealth forward.

Along the way, it's seemly to draw strength and confidence from the fact that you do lead Virginia, the Old Dominion, which did come first among all the states in the union. We can drink deeply from the rich well of our Commonwealth's history and its pantheon of heroes. There is prestige and confidence in having been first. There is wisdom and staying power, grace under pressure, the calm dignity that comes from having been there, done that, and lived to tell the tale—all this and more accompanies temporal primacy.

But of course it's also important that we do all this in a non jackass-like fashion, without pomposity, with due regard for human frailty and the absurd. My maternal grandmother, whom I loved dearly, was a Virginia gentlewoman if ever there were one. Grandma was very interested in genealogy. It was she to whom all the family records and papers gravitated. Grandma also had a wicked sense of humor. She loved to tell a tale that I'll share and then subside.

There was a lady of new wealth who decided she needed to know her ancestors, the better to burnish her social standing. She hired a genealogist. After a time he returned to report his findings. All was well, he said, with one exception. A great uncle, inconveniently, was a convicted murderer. He'd been executed in state prison, dying strapped in the electric chair. The newly wealthy, socially hopeful woman was aghast, aghast! Not to worry, said the genealogist. He'd handle it. Soon he returned with a beautiful leather-bound account of the lady's forebears. She anxiously turned to the passage about her murderous great uncle. It stated simply that he had held the chair of applied electricity at a leading state institution and died in harness.

In the beginning there was Virginia, friends, and Virginia led. So inspired, we must lead in our time.

The President of the Joint Assembly thanked Mr. Reveley for addressing the Joint Assembly.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Dr. Ralph R. Herbert, Senior Pastor of Great Bridge Presbyterian Church, Chesapeake, offered the following prayer:

Dear Holy and Gracious God,

We approach the throne of grace, in all reverence, with humility and bold confidence that You hear our earnest prayers. We pray for all the work and critical decisions acted upon in this house, that they be for Your glory, and for Your kingdom. For all that will be accomplished, is not for our sakes, but for the Commonwealth of Virginia and the millions of outstanding citizens who live here.

Therefore, we ask Your divine blessing upon every person who engages in this deliberative process, that Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. We thank You for the honor to serve You and our great country. Make us mindful of Godly wisdom and give each delegate discernment to assist them in their decisions.

Help us to recall the words of the former Chaplain of the United States Senate, Richard Halverson who spoke prophetically over 20 years ago: "We have become technological giants, but spiritual and moral dwarfs. We are sophisticated in scientific progress, but primitive in spiritual development. We are knowledgeable in the ways of the world, but ignorant in the ways of God."

Help us, dear Lord, to lay aside our pride and hunger for power to participate in the ways of God. Strengthen us to rely on the Holy Spirit for guidance so that we can reason together and glorify You, that serving You and our country would be the first wish of our hearts.

In Christ's Precious and Holy name, Amen.

Clerk of the House of Delegates

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

Rabbi Rosalin Mandelberg, Senior Rabbi of Ohef Sholom Temple, Norfolk, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, who blessed our leaders before us, bless this sacred congregation -- our House of Delegates,
the men and women elected to represent and lead us,
those who fulfill the needs of our great Commonwealth of Virginia.

Together we give thanks . . .
For you, our leaders:
You who love and sustain our precious democracy
by upholding the rights and freedoms we cherish.
You who advocate for justice, act for liberty, and defend the dignity of all of our citizens.

We pray that you continue to champion the values that can and should make of our state a refuge for our poor and hungry;
a shelter for our mentally ill and drug-addicted;
a sanctuary of healing for our veterans wounded in body and spirit;
and a haven of hope for our precious under-educated children.

May your leadership and actions reflect compassion for all people and may God grant You the courage of conscience and the wisdom and moral strength, that You may be both guardians and builders of strong, healthy, and secure communities -- of a Commonwealth of which we can all be proud.

May your sometimes seemingly thankless service, the endless time and talent your share, and your infinite love and commitment, bring you purpose, fulfillment and, sometimes, even unfettered joy.

And may you go from strength to strength, sources of goodness, light, and strength for us all. Amen.

The Reverend Amy Beth Coleman, Pastor of St. Andrew's United Methodist Church, Richmond, offered the following prayer:

God of all creation, the sun rises on another day, another day to love and serve You, another day to serve those You love. Those gathered here, in this room, have devoted this time to serve. We give thanks for them, for the staff who help them be prepared, and for their families who live without them for a season. These men and women are privileged with the task of governing those, from the least to the greatest, in this great Commonwealth of Virginia. May their discourse be full of Your love, may their work reflect Your justice and mercy, may their lives demonstrate Your grace, and may they always err on the side of compassion. May they do all the good they can, by all the means they can, in all the ways they can. Lord, hear this prayer. Amen.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

God of all the nations, You know what is in the hearts of your people. You know the love you planted there – and you know how we have subverted love in allowing ourselves to become polarized, as is so evident now in the national election cycle. Be with this House of Delegates and all who are part of the General Assembly. Give them your courage to resist every temptation to divide along lines of race or gender or political party. Give them a fierce commitment always to fulfil their vows and work for the benefit of your people. And give them your grace and your peace in times of stress and strife, so that your will may be accomplished even this day, even through them. We pray it all for the sake of your invincible love. Amen.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

Pastor David S. Morris, Calvary Baptist Church, Scottsville, offered the following prayer:

O'LORD GOD, I come before you today through Jesus Christ your Son, on behalf of these Delegates of Virginia.

Father, I thank you for the freedom that I have in Jesus Christ and for the freedom that I have as an American.

I give you thanks today for Virginia and for the men and women that have dedicated themselves to the service of the people of this wonderful Commonwealth.

I thank you for the manifold blessings that you have poured down upon our people.

Father, you have said that "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." I ask that you would forgive our country for our many sins and help us to be a righteous people.

You have exhorted that prayers of intercessions be made for those in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

O'LORD I pray for these servants of this Commonwealth of Virginia, that you would grant them wisdom and understanding as they strive to do that which is best for the citizens of Virginia.

God help them to lean unto your understanding in all things that they are involved in and for the decisions that they must make.

God grant them safety in this place; and protect their homes and their families.

May they seek help from you in time of need!

In Jesus' name, I pray, Amen!

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

Bishop Kim W. Brown, Senior Pastor of Mount Lebanon Missionary Baptist Church, Chesapeake, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God our Father, we pause today to express our gratitude for your grace and mercy that allows us to have the privilege of serving our community. As we begin this session of legislation we submit to your sovereign authority. We covenant with your Spirit, and request your presence to be manifested in our midst today, that as we sit in positions of leadership and make decisions, that you will be pleased. Enable us to remember that we sit today as representatives of our greater community, and are responsible to serve all demographics of humanity as we work corporately together for the good of our state. As we share this day we pray for an unusual spirit of Unity, and Wisdom to be upon every individual that will share. May the vision of this great body be sharpened by the dialogue and gifts of all who are called to participate this day. We ask for a Spirit of humility that will allow each of us to be open in our thinking, and receptive to ideas that challenge our opinions and ideologies. May we never lose sight of the reason we are here which is to forward the cause of our great State. We pray for our Governor and His cabinet and those around our State in positions of trust. May the discernment of every State representative present be used to its fullest extent that we might steward the legacy of this great State, and continue to build upon the foundation of those whose shoulders we stand upon. When we have concluded our business today, it is our sincere prayer that you are pleased, and that all of our decisions become a catalyst of change that will make our Great Commonwealth all that you have ordained it to be. We ask all of these blessings in the name of Jesus who is The Christ. Amen.

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

Bishop B. Courtney McBath, Senior Founding Pastor of Calvary Revival Church, Norfolk, offered the following prayer:

Today we stand before You Almighty God to give you praise for who You are and for what you have done. You are the Creator of Heaven and Earth and the God of all flesh and we bless Your Name.

Humbly we give thanks for your overwhelming provision and Divine protection acknowledging that You are God and beside You there is no other. Our prayer is that you would continue to watch over our nation and the nations of the world. Keep Your loving hand upon this Great Commonwealth, upon the men and women who live here and upon all of our children. Deliver us from greed, anger, hatred and prejudice and place a loving heart within us all. Forgive us for every unkind thought or word or deed and help us to live lives that please you.

Protect our troops both at home and wherever they may be deployed around the globe and protect the freedoms that as a nation we hold dear. Teach us to love, to give and to pray for one another and think the best of one another even when our ideals and opinions differ.

Let your power and your glory be expressed in our Commonwealth. And may the men and women in this Great Hall be wise tools in Your hand that produce prosperity for the citizens of Virginia.

We ask these things in the Name of Our Lord,

Amen.

BILL NUMBER
H.B. 1220 E

Delegate Cox moved that when the House adjourns today, it adjourn to meet tomorrow at 10:00 a.m.

The motion was agreed to.

On motion of Delegate Cox, the House adjourned at 2:18 p.m.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by S. Chris Jones, Speaker pro tempore thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Honorable G. Paul Nardo, Clerk of the Virginia House of Delegates, Richmond, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, creator of the universe and author of our lives: help us to understand that you are big and we are small.

Therefore, fashion in each of us here this morning and all those who are elected to serve in this venerable Virginia House of Delegates the willingness to come before you in prayer asking for forgiveness of our sins as well as the ability to glean from your divine guidance the manifold blessings of perspective. For with proper perspective, we are able to cast aside that which is lowly, unproductive or fleeting in this transitory life and instead focus on doing only those things that are edifying, beneficial and fruitful for all your humble servants great and small.

May the words of my mouth, the actions of this historic body and the meditations of our hearts be always acceptable in thy sight.

We offer this humble petition in Thy most holy name.

Amen.

Delegate Farrell led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The roll was called and the following members answered to their names:

Carr, Farrell, Jones, McQuinn.

There were 4 Delegates present.

The House proceeded with the business of the day.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

James Ronald "Ron" Smith, Poet Laureate of Virginia, Richmond, offered the following reflection:

Here's a poem about George Washington and his courtship of Martha Dandridge Custis. The young Washington was not only impressively dignified, he was also quite athletic. In the poem he and Martha are both 26 or 27 years old. The point of view is more or less hers.

Suitor

She liked him, though she knew exactly what he was after, this tower of a man, topped with flame. He came galloping up and flowed from the saddle with a dignified grace, flushed, perhaps from the sun, and looked her straight in the eye. She wanted to put her tiny hand in his prodigious one, but he bowed, as he always did, and began to speak oh so carefully, yes, as he always did. Yes, she would walk with him. Yes, it was a fine day.

When, to impress her, he had thrown those flat stones across the Rappahanock, she thought of Ulysses among the Phaeacians, the discus he threw like the demigod he was. Or was he?
 Ulysses, she meant, not this grandly self-conscious militia colonel who had returned from Barbados scarred by the pox. And all for nothing. A perfect match, her land and his. He always won at pulling the stick or throwing the bar and he could ride, oh he could ride like a centaur. Hercules, he was the demigod, not Ulysses who, nevertheless, made the Phaeacians flinch when he flung the humming disc out of sight and offered to box or wrestle any of them.

 Yes, of course, she would write to him, for she loved receiving his courtesies in that controlled, precise hand. Come again, she said, and returning his bow (a little ironically), felt her palms aching, though she didn't know why.

May the Lord watch over our work here today.

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The roll was called and the following members answered to their names:

Delegate Orrock raised a point of order that the Gentleman's amendments, which would impose a requirement on the culprit before they had been adjudicated, went beyond the original intent of the bill, which dealt only with changes to the Code of Virginia relating to a victim of domestic violence and would inquire as to whether the amendments were germane.

The Speaker stated that the introduced bill dealt with allowing spouses, victims of domestic violence, to have the option of taking a firearms safety or training course while the amendments offered by the Gentleman from Fairfax required that the accused person have his weapons taken, which went beyond that original intent.

Almighty and eternal God, in your kindness, you bring all that is good into creation. Guide our elected officials and grant them wisdom, so that people may continue to enjoy the blessings of life and liberty which you envisioned, especially here in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Lord, you guide and govern everything with order and love. Bless this assembly. Fill them with the spirit of your goodness so they may always act according to your will, and their decisions may be for the greater good of all the people they serve.

God of justice, it is through you that authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted, and judgment is decreed. Assist with your spirit of counsel and fortitude the legislators of this Commonwealth. May they always seek the ways of righteousness, justice, and mercy. Grant them courage, that they may enact public policies with honesty and integrity.

Move the hearts of all our elected officials to fulfill their sacred duty worthily and well. Help them to extend the mantle of protection to our most vulnerable residents, and to uphold the values of life, and liberty for all.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend James N. Wishmyer, Pastor of Leesburg United Methodist Church, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, bless the work today of these members of the Virginia House of Delegates who lead our Commonwealth. Strengthen them with the courage of their convictions: women and men who in sincerity yearn to do the right, if only they can be sure what is right. Make it plain to them, O Lord. At the same time, keep them from that hardening of heart and attitude that refuses to consider alternative views.

Instead, grant them the gracious wisdom and a softening of heart to discern common ground and beneficial compromise for the good of all Virginians. Help each to recognize and distinguish between polarization motivated by personal pride and courageous advocacy prompted by worthwhile principle.

Be patient with them, with all Virginians, and with me – that they and we may find the right, true, and unifying path forward on issues that threaten to divide, separate, and disillusion. Keep working, we pray, to turn hearts and minds, guiding these worthy leaders to your vision of goodness; and please do not give up on them or us, for we can be hard to turn.

Thank you for hearing the prayers, hopes, and yearnings of each person present, including this prayer that I offer in the name of Jesus, my Savior and Lord. Amen.

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The Reverend William A. Harmon, Senior Pastor of King of Glory Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, offered the following prayer:

Blessings to you from your friends at King of Glory Lutheran Church in Williamsburg, New Kent, and around the world.

Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths. Proverbs 3: 5-6

Almighty God, Creator of all things, we come before You this day offering You all the praise and glory for Your steadfast love and mercy upon us, Your creation. All that we have, all that we are, all that we ever hope to be is because of You, our Lord and God. Savior of the nations, we pray Your hand of grace upon this prestigious body and those who have been elected to serve on behalf of Your people including the Senate, the Judiciary, the Governor, and all Your servants in our land. May the work of this body be pleasing to You and may they be guided by Your word to act justly, love kindness, and walk humbly with You. Spirit of the living God, fall afresh upon every citizen of the Commonwealth. Increase their faith, protect them, support them, and guide them in Your ways. Gracious God, may we be a people who daily pick up our crosses and follow You, for You are the Way, the Truth, and the Life. Hear our prayers for the sake of Your people as we ask them in Your most holy and precious name. Amen.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Clarence M. "Buddy" Thompson, Senior Pastor of Life Church, Mechanicsville, offered the following prayer:

Numbers 6:24-26 (NKJV)

²⁴ The LORD bless you and keep you;

²⁵ The LORD make His face shine upon you, And be gracious to you;

²⁶ The LORD lift up His countenance upon you, And give you peace."

Heavenly Father, we are thankful to be gathered here and we honor and acknowledge you first and foremost this day. We ask you to bless these men and women you have chosen to serve our commonwealth and order their steps and guide their decisions this day and for the remainder of this session of the General Assembly.

Lord, You are the Creator of all things. We acknowledge that your thoughts are higher than our thoughts, and we thank you for the privilege of invoking your will your desires for our state over our own will or personal agendas.

Give these delegates the grace and the courage to make a difference for the good of all citizens, help them to make right choices – choices that are not only politically expedient but are in accord with your will.

Let the decisions made in this assembly advance the good of our fellow man and remind us that we are never more like you than when we are helping others who cannot help themselves.

We put our trust in you, Lord - not the economy, not our state or federal government, not our own clever solutions - but we put our trust and our confidence in you, O God, knowing that the steps of a good man or woman are ordered by the Lord.

Thank you that we live in a land that allows us to pursue our heart's desires, that we live in a land that allows us to worship in the manner that we choose, and in a land that affords us the opportunities of a better tomorrow.

It is in the name of Jesus, that I pray - Amen.

Thank you and God bless each of you for serving our state.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Dr. Keith A. Savage, Senior Servant of First Baptist Church, Manassas, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we invite Your holy presence and direction.

We are best when we avoid the advice of the wicked, the path that leads to sin, or place ourselves in positions to become pessimists.

Hear this prayer and usher in these House Delegates to rise to greater levels of love for our neighbor, our community, and commonwealth.

Today, let them think and communicate a common theme of hope and remedy under the banner of progress for all.

Lead those who will offer advice and make decisions in this chamber to do so for the betterment of all the citizens of this great Commonwealth.

Let their words and deeds exemplify and give hope for the present; a hope rooted in the heritage of human dignity for which we are indebted to live for the future.

If you will grant this, we will witness a dawning of legislation, proposed and passed, that will refuse to reflect a war of separation, but showcase a common welfare of caring. Voice and vote will echo the recognition of one another as neighbor and not villain.

Forbid us to be divided in profitless partisanship, but guided anew by the moral compass of a common wealth and common welfare.

I offer this prayer to You Almighty God. Amen.

Speaker of the House of Delegates

Clerk of the House of Delegates

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2016

The House of Delegates was called to order at 12 m. by William J. Howell, Speaker thereof.

The Mace was placed on the Speaker's table by the Sergeant at Arms.

The Reverend Marni J. Schneider, Vicar of St. Simon's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church, Virginia Beach, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, we may call you by many names, but we know you are One, and the God of all; and we are yours, whether we act like it or not.

There are so many things to be afraid of in this world, but we know from you that perfect love casts out fear. So help us, we beg you, to set aside our fears, our jealousies, our selfishness; help us to see you in each other; help us to see past our differences, that we may work together for the good of all.

This world often seems like it's about to explode, Lord, probably because we, ourselves, are too often on the verge of exploding. Diffuse our anger and impatience, lord, with one another and with ourselves.

Holy One, I ask your blessing on the delegates who gather here, and on their families and staff. Let each of them feel your blessing, know they are beloved, and reflect your loving kindness. AMEN.

Delegate Cox led the House of Delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

God of history; God of agency; God of purpose, grace, and mercy;

Hear the supplications of your people who cry out to you for these delegates, their staff, and for all those who make the General Assembly function:

Show them with wonder that they may be generous.
Cover them with love that they may know courage.
Endow them with wisdom that they may choose love.

In addition, the joint subcommittee may review the plans for the redesign of the Intellectual Disability, Developmental Disability and Day Support Waivers.
